At a term of the circuit court in Ohio not long ago, says Harper's Weekly, a "horse case" was on trial, and a well known "horseman" was called as a witness.

"Well, sir, you say this horse?" asked the counsel for the defendent.

"Yes, sir, I do."

"What did you do?"

"I just opened his mouth to find out how old he was, an' I says to him, I says, 'Old smart, I guess you are pretty good yet.'"

At this juncture counsel for the opposing side entered a clenchet objection. "Stop!" he cried. "Your honor, I object to any conversation carried on between the witness and the horse when the plaintiff was not present." Houston Post.

It Reached the Spot.

Mr. E. Hinshrieg, who owns a large general store at Omega, O., and president of the Adams County Telephone Co., as well as the Home Telephone Co., of Pike County, O., says of Dr. King's New Discovery: "It saved my life once. At least I think it did. It seemed to reach the spot—the very seat of my cough—when everything else failed." Dr. King's New Discovery not only reaches the cough spot, it heals the sore spots and weak spots in throats, lungs and chest. Sold under guarantee at Calvert's, drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A farmer who is noted for his meanness owns a horse which, to put it mildly, is rather thin. As if to make up for the smallness of its body, however, the animal has a head out of all proportion. Of course, people talk about that horse, and the owner dosen't like it. Recently he went to the expense of a new collar for his steed. Ten minutes after delivery he was back at the saddler's with the collar.

"Look here," he blurted out. "You've made it too small. I can't get it over his head!"

"Over his head?" ejaculated the saddler. "Man, it wasn't made to go over his head. Back him into it."

A CALIFORNIAN'S LUCK.

"The luckiest day of my life was when I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve," writes Charles F. Budahn of Tracy, California. "Two 25c. boxes cured me of an annoying case of itching piles, which had troubled me for years and that yielded to no other treatment." Sold under guarantee at Calvert's drug store.

The deacon, who did not often have a chance to speak, was appointed to open Christmas exercises. He dragged his address in a most tiresome manner, repeating the same thought again and again. Unable to endure it any longer a couple of boys left the church. A coachman, who was waiting for his employer attending the exercises within, asked them if the deacon had finished his speech. "Gee, yes!" replied the boys, "but he won't stop."
