A JACKSON County man killed a prairie chicken and was fined $54.

TO SHOW the standing of Dick Wynne among his home people he carried his county, Tarrant, over Davidson by a majority of two to one. The old warrior should have been elected.—Shiner Gazette.

And Davidson carried his home county four to one.

THE editor of the Dallas Times-Herald tenders its readers the following sensible timely suggestion: "Never quarrel with your neighbor over his religion or his politics. In the first place, it isn't the American way; in the next place it does not pay, and lastly, this should be a free country."

A PRINCETON dispatch says that while nothing in Mr. Cleveland's will which was filed several weeks ago, indicates the amount of his fortune, and although no official announcement has been made as to its extent, it has become known there that his personal and real property amounts to $250,000. And yet snobbery wants to pension this poor widow!

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or foul taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from torpid or sluggish liver with indigestion, which is [illegible] Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz.: Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following [illegible] among a host of others, are the foregoing roots for the [illegible] which enter into the above [illegible] Prof. R. Hartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Philadelphia; Prof. H. O. Wood, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Philadelphia; Prof. H. Hale, M. D., of Eclectic Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Dispensatory; Prof. Joe. M. Scudder, M. D., Author of "Specific Medicine"; Prof. Lawrence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Therapeutics, Bennett Medical College, Chicago. Send name and address on Postal Card to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authors and many others endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which Golden Medical Discovery is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They are tiny and sugar-coated.

The triumphant renomination of Attorney General Davidson over his north Texas opponent for the place of chief law officer of the state shows a number of things. First of all it shows that the people believe that he is the man for the place at this time, as they have overturned a precedent in nominating him for a third term. It also shows that they are decidedly impatient of the character of campaign that was waged against him by three papers, which while professing decency, have sunk far below anything heretofore known in the line of [illegible] slanders, malicious lies, journalistic dish-wives and scolds. They had their coming to them and they have received it in a very choice dish of crow. Further, the result shows that the people of the state believe there are predatory trusts still at work and that they are determined to smoke them out. Every newspaper that has any conception of its duty to the state should do all it can, no never small its part may be, toward putting the citizenship in possession of the facts and keeping its mind alert to conditions, and to the upholding of the hands of a man who has shown himself to be a very remarkable one.—Bellville Times.

Forgetful, Indeed.

A minister's wife, a doctor's wife and a traveling man's wife met one day recently and were talking about the forgetfulness of their husbands. The minister's wife thought her husband was the most forgetful man living, because he would go to church and forget his notes, and no one could make out what he was trying to preach about.

The doctor's wife thought her husband was the most forgetful, for he would often start out to see a patient and forget his medicine case, and therefore travel miles for nothing.

"Well," said the traveling man's wife, "my husband beats that. He came home the other day and patted me on the cheek and said, 'I believe I have seen you before, little girl. What is your name?'"

THE re-election of Attorney General Davidson is a distinctive victory for the people. Few public officials have been maligned and persecuted as he, and his vindication is a rebuke to certain corporate interests in this state that would be pleased to have had him out of office. Some good people believed the scandalous stories told of him, but there were enough with enough discernment to see the purpose of it all and to sustainan able and efficient public official in the discharge of his duty.—Beeville Bee.

COLONEL BRYAN is accredited with the statement that his father had not left him very much in the way of money and he was not sure but it was better for him that this was the case, for he believes that great wealth is often a curse rather than a blessing to the young man who inherits it.—Lockhart Post.

Take a wide-mouthed bottle or good clear glass and fill it with fresh water. Then put into it two teaspoonfuls of finely powdered alum. In fair weather, and when it is likely to continue fair, the liquid will be clear, but at the approach of cloudy or rainy weather the mixture will become feathery looking. This barometer will indicate a change of weather 36 hours in advance.—LaGrange Journal.

The Injunctive Power.

Seeking redress for domestic troubles a negro woman who resembled nothing as much as she did the "before taking" half of an anti-fat remedy, appeared at the office of one of the local judges a few day ago.

"I'se a wronged woman," she hissed in a give-me-back-those-payers Jack-Dalton voice. "Ah wants redress."

"What's the trouble?" inquired the sympathetic judge.

"It's 'bout mah ole man. He's done been carryin' on high wif a lot uv deese young niggah gals, an 'tis got so bad I don' see him more'n once a week. Somepin's got t' be done."

The judge's eye held a crafty gleam. "You are seeking a divorce—a legal separation?" he questioned.

"Go 'long, man! Divo'ce nothin'. Thinks I'm gwine t' gin 'im what he wants and law dat man who, despite all his cussedness, is de handsomest niggah in Willow Tree valley t' go sky-hootin' roun' 'mong dem gals? No, sah! I doan want no divo'ce ner dat legal septitution yer's talkin' 'bout. What I wants is an injunction!"

Backing Up Grandpa.

Johnnie was in disgrace. Against express orders he had ruined a fine lump of nasturtiums by practicing cricket on them in his grandmother's garden. This was particularly vexing because nasturtiums were the only flower, fruit or vegetables that would condescend to grow in grandma's extra special, spring mud-beds, says the Philadelphia record.

A court martial was held, with grandma as president.

"Johnnie," she said, "who destroyed those flowers?"

Johnnie thought a moment. Then:

"Sister Kathleen," he said.

"Now, then," reproved grandpa, "be a man! Tell the truth! Say, 'I did it.'"

A beaming smile of relief illumined Johnnie's countenance.

"Oh, yes," he cried, "that's right. Grandpa did it!"

Ominous.

In some parts of the West, Indies, the negroes speak with a brogue. They are descended from the slaves of the Irish adventurers who accompanied the Spanish settlers. An Irishman arriving at a West Indian port was accosted by a negro fruit vendor with "The top of the morning to ye, an' would ye be after wantin' to buy a bit of fruit, sor?"

The Irishman looked at him a moment. "An' how long have ye been here?" he asked.

"Goin' on three months, yer honor," said the vendor, thinking of the time since he had left the inland home.

"Three months, is it? Only three months an' as black as thot? Faith, I'll not land!"

Only Until Then.

A German school teacher was instructing his pupils how to act when the Grand Duke should pass through on the railroad, an event which was to occur the next day.

"Remember, children," said the pedagogue, "that as soon as the train arrives you are to shout as loud as you can, 'Long live the Grand Duke' until he leaves."

The next day, when the Grand Duke arrived at the station, and bowed graciously from the platform of the special carriage, the school children made the welkin ring with "Long live the Grand Duke until he leaves."

A False Report.

A tramp called at the house of a gentleman and said:

"I've walked many miles to see you, sir, because people told me that you was a kind to poor chaps like me."

"Oh, they said so, did they?"

"Yes, sir; that's why I came."

"And are you going back the same way?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then, in that case, will you be good enough to contradict this rumor?"

YOUR ORDERS FOR

JOB PRINTING

When The Headlight is prepared to and can print them right here at home for you at the same price and in many instances even for less money.

ALL THINGS BEING EQUAL, DON'T YOU THINK YOUR HOME PAPER SHOULD GET A PREFERENCE?

In point of equipment the Headlight's job printing department is second to none in this section, and we can print any kind of a job that you may want printed, and we will guarantee every job that leaves this office.

SURELY THIS IS FAIR ENOUGH!

And, Mr. Business Man, stop and reflect just one moment! Do you realize that the printing orders sent out of Eagle Lake every year are sufficient to pay the running expenses of a good local newspaper for a year? Think of it! Scarcely a week passes but there is a representative of some of the city printing houses in Eagle Lake soliciting printing orders; and they usually get the orders, too. If they didn't they would not continue to pay traveling expenses and hotel bills in order to make this place. If you've been in the habit of sending off your printing orders, let The Headlight figure with you on your next order.
