Sen. Caperton Receives Outstanding Legislative Award

The Texas Recreation and Park Society honored Senator Kent A. Caperton of Bryan/College Station recently as the first recipient of its Legislative Award. This award acknowledges a single legislator who has demonstrated unique and significant support for the park, recreation, and leisure service movement in Texas.

"I am honored by this award," Caperton said. "It signifies my feeling that Texas' parks and recreation areas are among the state's most valuable assets and must be protected."

During the Sixty-seventh Session of the Texas Legislature, legislation was proposed that would have diverted funds from the Urban Park Fund to a single proposed museum.

Weimar Police Chief In Shootout Last Week

Weimar Police Chief Ken Hollan exchanged shots Monday night, Nov. 9th with two men whose pickup truck he found parked behind Loessin Implement Co. in Weimar.

Hollan said one of the men fired at him at least twice and he fired five times as they fled.

Hollan, who fell to the ground as the firing began, said the men were about 25 feet away when the shooting began.

The men got away in their truck and were last seen headed west on Interstate 10.

The chief believes they were preparing to break into the implement company building.

Meanwhile he had already called the sheriffs office advising of the shots and his pursuit of the truck. When he returned to Loessinh, after driving to Nickerson Farms and coming back in on Hwy. 90, Sheriff Jim Broussard, Deputy Buford Ashley, Constable Joe Dusek, and Officers Donald Roberts and James Brooks were there.

The owner, Lawrence Loessin, also came and checked inside, finding no evidence that the men had entered the building.

Investigation of the incident continues by Weimar and sheriffs officers.

Farm-City Week Set Nov. 20-26th

Farm-City Week, Nov. 20-26, focuses on the involvement of farm and city people as partners in growing, processing, marketing and consuming food and fiber.

"In Texas, movement of food and fiber from field to factory to the family table provides jobs and income for about a fourth of the working force," points out Dr. Carl Anderson, marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"One out of every 30 Texans is a farmer or rancher, and 30 percent of the state's retail trade business is directly associated with agricultural production and selling of food and fiber products," says Anderson.

Many businesses, financial institutions and individuals are involved in providing supplies, credit and services to farmers and ranchers and in processing and marketing agricultural commodities.

Costs Increasing
While the overall cost of living has increased about 11 percent from a year ago, food prices in the grocery store have increased 6.4 percent and apparel has risen less than 5 percent, notes the economist. This compares with an increase of nearly 13 percent in housing, 16 percent in fuels, 11.5 percent in medical care and 25 percent in public transportation.

"Americans spend far less of their take-home pay on food than people in other countries of the world," Anderson points out.

"Together, farm and city people make the best food and fiber team in the world," he believes. "This gives a country the capacity to feed its own people and to export for economic gain as well as for humanitarian purposes."

With more than $3 billion in farm exports last year, Texas is one of the leading states in shipment of agricultural products abroad. Texas led the nation in shipments of cotton, cottonseed and animal fats; was second in meats and meat products, hides and skins; and third in rice, peanuts and peanut oil.

On the national scale, farm exports total about $44 billion. Anderson estimates that production from about one out of every three acres of cropland is exported.
