The Telephone Saved a Life

When one of our men was badly injured by the threshing machine we telephoned the doctor, who told us how to patch the man up. The doctor then started for our place in a hurry. When he arrived the man was pretty weak, and without the doctor's advice the results might have proved serious. Thanks to the telephone, the man pulled through.

CUT OUT STREET LIGHTS NEVER, NEVER, NEVER

City Should Economize in Other Ways But Never Discontinue Our Street Lights.

It is being talked on the streets that the question of discontinuing the street lights is being discussed by the city council. Not for a minute does the Headlight want it be said that the paper is attempting to dictate to the city council how to run the city's affairs, but we believe we speak the sentiment of every business man in the city, and the greater number of private citizens, when we say cut out the street lights—never. We concede the fact that the city is cramped for money, and the smallpox situation here is responsible for the city's strained financial condition to a great extent—but cut out the street lights, never. Street lights in a town the size of Eagle Lake are a necessity. Think of the crime and devilment that would go on here but for the street lights. Curtail expenses in any other way, but leave us the street lights, which are a protection to the businesses of the city and to our citizens in general. There are other ways to cut down the city's expenses. As badly as we need street work, it would be far better to discontinue the office of street commissioner and for the present, cut out the street work, in fact just anything, Mr. Aldermen—but leave us the street lights. Eagle Lake has passed that day when people must grope around our streets in the dark. The Headlight, in advocating the continuance of the street lights, is not doing so to harass any of the aldermen or others who might advocate that policy, for curtailing expenses, but this paper has always advocated those things that are best for the town and its people. And to this end, we do not believe the citizens of the town will ever be willing to cut out the street lights.
