1979 Upland Cotton Provisions Are Set

Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland announces a 1979 crop upland cotton National Program acreage (NPA) of 10,634,[illegible] acres and [illegible] reduction of 15 percent from 1978 plantings.

The NPA is an estimate of the number of acres needed to meet domestic needs, export demand and provide a desirable carryover. It may be revised later for purposes of determining the national allocation factor, but it cannot be reduced below the statutory minimum of 10 million acres.

The 1979 allocation factor will be determined later by dividing the final NPA by the estimated national farm acreage of the 1979 crop. This factor cannot exceed 110 percent.

If deficiency payments are made, producers who voluntarily reduce their 1978 upland cotton acreage from their 1978 acres planted, or considered as planted, by at least 15 percent will receive payments on their entire planted acreage. Producers who do not reduce their planting will receive any deficiency payments subject to the allocation factor times the planted acreage of upland cotton.

Deficiency payments will be made if the average price received by farmers during calendar year 1979 is below an established (target) price. Secretary Bergland said that final determinations on the target price, set-aside, or diversion requirements for 1979 will be announced later.

A 1979 seed cotton loan and loan rate of 50.23 cents per pound, for the basis grade of cotton were announced on Oct. 31.

Area Libraries Qualify For State System

Fifty public libraries in the 28-county area served by the Houston Area Library System have qualified for System membership for the year that began on September 1.

The libraries in this area that qualify for membership this year include: Mansfield Memorial Library at Columbus, Eula and David Wintermann Library at Eagle Lake, Austin County Library System at Wallis, Weimar Public Library, and Wharton County Library.

The ten regional public library systems organized under provisions of the Texas Library System Act of 1969 carry out a wide range of cooperative activities. The $850,776 grant to the Houston Area Library System for these activities includes both state funds appropriated under provisions of the Systems Act and Texas allocation of federal Library Services and Construction Act funds. They are administered by the Texas State Library.

Each system member must meet certain criteria concerning per capita local support, number of volumes, and staff. These are determined by the number of persons served by the library.

Dramatic changes have taken place in public libraries in recent years. On the one hand there has been sharp rise in the number of books and magazines published. On the other hand, information is increasingly available in audio-visual media as well as print.

Houston Public Library of which David M. Henington is director serves as the Major Resource Center for the system. Ms. Amy Mollberg is system coordinator.

Elderly Vets Urged To Complete Reports

Ederly pensioners who this year must complete a Veterans Administration annual income report may find they qualify for high pensions, Ted W. Myatt, Director at the VA Regional Office in Houston, said today.

The agency is taking extra steps to provide any assistance these older veterans and surviving spouses may need in completing the questionnaire, Myatt said.

Starting January 1, 1979, the over-72 group — about 813,000 pensioners — must complete the full VA income questionnaire annually.

A new law makes the report necessary, Myatt said. Among other changes effective January 1, it raises the amount a pensioner may receive from other sources and still qualify for a pension.

Those pensioners who choose to continue under the current system will keep the rate of pension established as of December 31, 1978, provided they qualify under the new higher income ceilings - $5,430 for a veteran with dependents and $4,038 for a single veteran. Fluctuations in income below these levels will not affect pensions. They will also be permitted to deduct unusual medical expenses from income, and some income and assets of the veteran's spouse need not be counted.

The new system effective January 1, 1979, considers both husband's and wife's income in determining pension eligibility.

VA Issues Data On Vietnam Vets

A new statistical profile of the 8.7 million men and women in military service during the Vietnam Era is available in a Veterans Administration report, "Data on Vietnam Era Veterans."

The report reveals that VA readjustment programs and other benefits for this youngest group of veterans amounted to $6 billion during the last fiscal year. More than $40 billion has been spent during the 14 years since the beginning of the Vietnam Era.

VA's total budget for all programs for nearly 30 million veterans of all wars was $18.4 billion last fiscal year.

Education assistance payments for Vietnam veterans consumed more than half of the $40 billion total spent since 1965 on Vietnam veterans' programs.

"Because Vietnam Era veterans are the best educated group of veterans in the nation's history," VA chief Max Cleland said, "they have outstripped both World War II and Korean Conflict veterans in their use of the GI Bill education program."

Nearly 65 percent of the Vietnam veterans used their education benefits compared to 50 percent after WWII and 43.4 percent after the Korean Conflict. "More Vietnam veterans have used the GI Bill for college than the total for WWII and Korean Conflict combined," Cleland pointed out.

Compensation and pension payments comprise the second largest VA expenditure to Vietnam Era veterans, a total of almost $8.1 billion through FY 1978.

Medical care expenditures for Vietnam Era veterans have amounted to $3.1 billion through FY 1978.

Msgr. Morkovsky Injured In Accident In Hallettsville

Msgr. A. J. Morkovsky of Hallettsville, suffered injury in a motorcycle hit and run incident in Hallettsville at 6:15 p.m., Friday, Dec. 29. The incident happened on Highway 90-A East, in front of the Circle-K Drive-In Grocery.

According to information received, Msgr. Morkovsky had gone across the highway to Circle-K; his home is on the north side of the highway in that area. He had his dog with him on a leash. The retired clergyman was returning home with some groceries.

The report said the motorcycle apparently ran between the dog and Msgr. Morkovsky, catching the leash, throwing him to the pavement. The dog reportedly then ran home, and the motorcycle kept on going eastward.

At the Lavaca County Medical Hospital Msgr. Morkovsky was thoroughly examined, revealing that he did not have any hone fractures. However, he has severe bruises and some cuts, plus a head injury when he was slammed to the pavement. Tribune-Herald, Hallettsville.

WCEC Issues $43,000 In Refunds

Twenty-seven hundred members of Wharton County Electric Cooperative had an additional Christmas treat as $43,000 in Patronage Refund were mailed to these members of record for the years 1968 through 1974.

This refund represents 25% of the margins for the El Campo based electric cooperative for the years involved in this refund.

Wharton County Electric Cooperative operates in West Wharton County, South Colorado County and North Matagorda County.

Gospel Mission Camp Meeting To Be Held At R.J. This Weekend

The Revs. Emil and Selma Burger, pastors of the Eagle Lake Mission Church, invite one and all to attend any or all of the sessions of the Gospel Mission Camp Meeting which opened in the Rock Island area on Wednesday of this week and will continue through Sunday, Jan. 7th.

The encampment will open with services at 8 p.m. this Wed., Jan. 3rd.

The camp meeting schedule will include: Early morning prayer with a free breakfast; 10 a.m. Bible lesson followed by a free noon meal; 2 p.m. prayer council followed by free snacks and coffee. There will also be a Children's Church and a service for the young people.

Evangelistic services will be held each evening at 8 p.m. with different ministers in charge.

A wild game barbecue will be held at the close of the encampment.
