Purchase a Life Membership; support tomorrow's fair

A special membership classification established by the Colorado County Fair Association provides county residents with a special opportunity to assist future county fairs.

The non-profit Colorado County Fair Association is looking to the future and the continuance of the association through volunteers and financial aid.

Called Life Memberships, it is hoped the membership classification will help build volunteer strength in the county-wide association. As the membership application states: "Your membership card is evidence that you are interested in contributing to the improvement of agriculture and the exhibition of creative works in the field of home economics, art, etc., thus providing a wonderful opportunity for Colorado County citizens."

At the same time, the association is exploring ways to establish a permanent fairgrounds in the future — a costly, and time-consuming project. The dream of some members of the fair association board is to have a permanent, centrally located fairgrounds on which to hold future county fairs.

Therefore the money from life membership sales is placed into certificates of deposits, and dedicated by vote of the board for use only on capital improvements. The Life Membership contribution isn't used for annual operating expenses, thus each year's fair must pay its own way.

Life memberships currently are $150, but increase $25 a year. The life member receives a specially designed lapel pin that provides admission to all future fairs at no additional cost.

Life memberships may be purchased anytime during the year from Fair Association board members, and during fair weekend they are available at the fair's main office in the front of the Veterans Community Center building.

In Memorium

Although the county fair is an enjoyable, fun affair, there is sadness in the background. Two long-time volunteers passed away last year, and in their honor, the board of directors have voted in their memory to dedicate this year's fair in their honor:

Robbie Lynn Lewis, chairman of the children's pet show, and six relatives died tragically in August, 1984, in a car crash. Virginia Hendry Hawthorne, chairman of the Western Art contest, died last April after a long illness.

The time they spent with the fair enriched it so others could enjoy the many talents displayed by hundreds of Colorado County residents. We know Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Hawthorne are sadly missed, but in our memory, we hope they will be with all future Colodrao County Fairs.

We are proud of Everyone who contributed to the Colorado County Fair!!
