A NON-RESIDENT must pay a license of $15 before he can hunt in Texas.

KIND words are like bread cast upon the waters, which will return in after days, buttered on both sides.

THE lawful season for hunting quail opened yesterday. The birds are reported numerous in this section, and the sportsmen will now have an inning.

IT is reported that the Brownsville rice mill will be moved to Houston. Rice culture is to be abandoned on the lower Rio Grande.

RICE FARMERS, it is said, will get higher prices through the use of the elevator system, the grade being improved due to handling it in the elevator.

HUNTERS imagine they can hunt on lands not posted, but the game wardens announce that permission must be secured before hunting on any lands.

STATE PRESS in the Galveston News says: "Never since the scroll of the morning was unrolled has there been anything quite so barbaric, out of taste and altogether dowdy, as the present female hat."

Best known newspaper men in Texas, has gone to Range to take charge of the Karnes County News. S. M. Buck who has been keeping the News up to its usual high standard since Editor Gillett retired, has been given a von as mail clerk.

THAT it is possible to manufacture paper from cotton fibre has been demonstrated. The cover of the last issue of the Cotton Journal, published at Atlanta, Ga., being of such stock. It is estimated that 5,000,000 tons of paper could be manufactured from the cotton stalks now going to waste annually in the fields of the South. With common print paper near 50 cents per pound, there appears to be a fortune, or several of them, for men with enterprise enough to install mills to convert stalks into paper.

Weimar Mercury.

"SOME people," says Success, never seem to be at ease. They are always fussing, fidgeting, worrying, or borrowing trouble. They actually feel uncomfortable if they do not find something to worry about. People of this kind always have small, narrow minds. Worrying is a sure indication of weakness. It is a confession that we are not equal to our daily tasks, and that we have not the ability to cultivate and care for the little plot of ground that has been entrusted to us. We worry because we are self-centered, and because we have not learned to walk with the poise and dignity becoming the children of a great Father. No large, generous soul was ever a worrier. Calmness, serenity, poise and power to move through life rhythmically, without jar or fret, are characteristic of greatness and true nobility."

ROBERT NIXON, county attorney of Gonzales county, has announced his intention of becoming a candidate for the office of district attorney of this, the Twenty-fifth judicial district.

ent district attorney, is also from Gonzales and will be a candidate for reelection, and rumor has it that there will be other candidates for this office ere the primary date rolls around.

MONDAY, November 18th will be Press Day at the San Antonio International Fair. The Herald man hereby serves notice that he will expect to meet Joe Boehmer of Eagle Pass, Blanton of Northcreek, Bruce McCarty of Eagle Lak, Raymond Winfree of the Schulenburg Sticker, Henry Lindenberg of the Yoakum Times, and a few other kindred spirits there on that date. Are you comin', boys?—Ballestville Herald.

Yep! We'll be there.

SPENDING $10,000 for ten seconds of thrilling entertainment is what the Connolly Brothers of Des Moines, Iowa, are doing in again snatching a pair of 80 ton locomotives at the San Antonio International Fair. This sensational form of amusement has attracted record breaking crowds in all parts of the United States from New York to San Francisco. The big collision is scheduled to take place at the Fair on the afternoon of Sunday, September 17. Provisions have been made to seat 80,000 visitors within the race track enclosure within which the collision is to be seen.

ENVY is a most helpful quality for those who are seeking misery of feelings. It is the vice of the weak. Those who have no virtues in themselves are envious of the virtues of others. Envy is born of a fancied inferiority. That is why it produces discontent. It is a once unrepentable and foolish, and leads one to compare one's self with others, and always to his own disparagement. Did you ever see one who sat by a window or rode along the highway and looked at a neighbor's elegant home which he had just built and paid for, and sigh, "Oh, I wish I were rich that I might have such a home?" That party is in a most excellent practice, and if they will, keep it up and add a few kindred ones they will soon be as miserable as the most morbid heart could crave.

If you made mistakes yesterday, forget them. No strength was ever built upon continued regret. Today is the result of yesterday, but it is more important to remember that tomorrow is the result of today. The result of the actions of today we can determine, but no amount of dwelling upon yesterday's regret will reshape today. If we fell yesterday there is nothing to do today but to pick ourselves up, shake off the dust, and start afresh. Rise above yesterday. It is hard work to hold up the head and live down a black yesterday, but the blacker the yesterday the greater need of rising above it, the higher the head must be held. Yesterday has passed, let it rest in peace, don't keep dragging it out, no matter how much energy on what cannot be undone. See yesterday alone.

IF A MAN would, according to law, give to another an orange, instead of saying, "I give you that orange," which one would think would be what is called in legal phraseology, an absolute conveyance of all right and title therein," the phrase would run thus: "I give you all and singular my interest, right, title and claim, of advantage of and in that orange with all rind, skin, juice, pulp and pips and right and advantages therein, with full power to bite, cut, suck, and otherwise eat the same, or give the same away as fully and effectually as I the said A. B. am now or else eat the said orange or give the same away with or without its rind, skin, juice, pulp or pips, anything heretofore or hereinafter, or in any other deed or deeds, instrument or instruments of what nature or kind soever, to the contrary in anywise notwithstanding," with much more to the same effect.—Ex.

COMMON SENSE

Let's most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the number of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrapper and state its correctness under oath, are daily giving in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody. Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned daily upon his formula, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots.

Persons desiring such will please call and see cuts and prices.
