A blessed thing to have is one human soul whom we can trust utterly, who knows the best and worst in us in spite of our faults; who will speak the honest truth to us while the world flatters us and laughs at us behind our backs; who will give us counsel and reproof in days of prosperity and self-conceit, but who again will comfort and encourage us in the day of difficulty and sorrow, when the world leaves us to fight our own battle as we can. —Vernon call.

A newspaper man is presumed to know everything that happens in his town and community, but this is a mistake, for his duties are varied and many and he often never knows of many of the best and most interesting items that occur in the town and community. If you want an item in the paper tell the editor about it and thereby help yourself and the editor and the community. —Italy News Herald.

For a burn or scald apply Chamberlain's Salve. It will allay the pain almost instantly and quickly heal the injured parts. For sale by all druggists.

ONE peculiar thing about those papers that did not take any "dish" in the late political fight, for business reasons, is they are now telling how country editors are treated, and how much the city dailies are paid, both of which shows that the writer don't know what he is talking about. If the newspapers of the world did not handle but what they were paid to handle then there would be a great deal of stuff not published that is published. —Yokum Herald.

We wouldn't have a free press long or one whose opinions were worthy of any man's respect if the papers never undertook anything, in fact that ideal of a news paper is impossible, and its advancement is utterly absurd. So far as the Bailey question is concerned the Star will have an opinion on that matter as long as Mr. Bailey and this writer live and we shall reserve the right to express it freely whenever we so desire and particularly as long as his organs attempt to badger those who have convictions on such issues as were developed in that campaign. —Cuero Star.

According to report of passengers on Train No. 10 arriving last night on the Sunset route from the West, there is a great army of young locusts west of here, extending from Sabinal to Hondo. Thus far there has been no serious crop damage reported in that section, although farmers are apprehensive lest the insects destroy the growing crops. The plague of locusts has made it appear only in the last few days.

In Karnes County grasshoppers are reported to be eating much of the young cotton, and in several instances it has been found necessary for the farmers to replant their cotton.

An investigation of the paper trust has been ordered by congress. Thank the Lord and congress for that! Let us hope 'twill be a thorough and far-reaching investigation and that justice will be done the newspaper publishers of the country by punishing the men at the head of this mischievous trust. —Weimar Mercury.
