Farmers Are Cutting Cane.

A number of the bottom planters have this week begun cutting cane, and several train loads are expected to reach the Lakeside mill today. Conductor Henrietta, who is in charge of the Santa Fe cane run from the cane fields to the refinery, tells us that the crop this season is as fine as he ever saw. The Lakeside Refinery, so we understand, will start up today, and, unless an early and killing freeze occurs, the mill people will have a long and successful run. This year's cane crop will no doubt be a profitable one to both the planters and the mill people.

Conductor Wilson is at present in charge of the train, but we learn that Mr. J. E. Reed who had charge of this train during last season will return to Eagle Lake shortly and again have this fun.
