Wild West Show Coming.

The 191 Ranch Wild West Show will visit Eagle Lake next Friday, Nov. 27th, giving two performances with an elaborate forenoon street parade. Nothing like it in character or magnitude has ever before been seen here. The life of the ranch and range and Indian camp will be reproduced in all its spectacular and vivid picturesqueness by real living figures of the frontier.

The organization comes direct from the Miller Brothers' ranch at Bliss, Okla., the largest and most famous in all the world. Every one of the seven hundred members is a permanent employee of the great enterprise, paroled to give the public its first truthful view of the life that has vitalized western history. At the conclusion of the tour, they will return to their duties on the prairie.

There are three of the Miller Brothers, and they entered the show business last year at the Jamestown Exposition and the show was the sensational triumph of the fair. Enthusiastic crowds flocked to it, and so tremendous was the popularity and patronage that New York City demanded an entertainment like it. The organization which is coming to Eagle Lake is a consolidation of the two which astonished the country last year. Its success has been unprecedented in every day visited this season.

Miller Brothers have aspired to make their preliminary street parade a pageant that will remain a glorious memory to all who view its wonders. More than one hundred Indians are a fantastic feature, and every person and animal with the organization is required to be in line.

The show train of forty-seven cars will arrive in Eagle Lake from Houston over the San Antonio & Aransas Pass railroad.

Flowers-Skelton Wedding.

The wedding of Mr. Oliver J. Flowers and Miss Lona Jean Skelton which occurred at high noon last Wednesday at the Baptist church was one of elegant simplicity.

The steps leading to the pulpit platform were banked with ferns. The pulpit window was curtained with green vines. Vases of pink roses beautified the piano. In the choir chairs, their fresh, young, lovely faces just showing above the green masses of ferns were the bride's fellow members of the S. A. D. Club.

Messrs. Morgan Flowers and Henry Hahn were the handsome ushers. Before the bridal entrance Mrs. Mary Van Houten Reeve sang "All for You" with Miss Ina Westmoreland as pianist. The song was an exquisite gem. The singer's voice showed great natural power and sweetness with thorough culture. It was a rare delight to hear so gifted an artist. Mrs. Whately with the violin and Miss Westmoreland on the piano then began the march of Lohengrin's Bridal chorus.

The ushers marched down the aisle followed by the bride pair. The bride wore a tailored coat suit of the new taupe shade with hat, gloves and shoes in costume. She carried a shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums, tied with long, white satin ribbons, and her pale beauty was as pure and lovely as the white flowers on her arm.

The pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Ferrell, officiated, the ceremony being unusually beautiful. The musicians then rendered Mendelssohn's time honored wedding melody.

A luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents, where the many elegant wedding presents were displayed.

Mr. and Mrs. Flowers took a train for San Antonio for a honeymoon trip of a few days. Their return they will be home at the Hotel Brown.

THAYLOR THE TAILOR.

A good anecdote is told of a lad on one of the Union gunboats during the Civil war. The vessel was just going into action, and our soldier was upon his knees, when an officer snoringly asked if he was afraid.

"No, I was praying," was the answer.

"Well, what were you praying for?"

"Praying," said the soldier, "that the enemy's bullets may be distributed the same way as the prize money is—principally among the officers."

WATCHED FIFTY YEARS.

"For fifteen years I have watched the working of Bucklen's Arnica Salve; and it has never failed to cure any sore, boil, ulcer or burn to which it was applied. It has saved as many a doctor bill," says A. F. Hardy of East Wilton, Maine. 25c. at Calvert's drug store.
