

Inauguration of SPRING STYLES

FORMALITY is a good thing at times—it is impressive—helps people appreciate a situation—it's the touchstone that sinks below the surface—reaches the heart of things.

We will have a formal inauguration of Spring styles next week, beginning early Monday morning. It's your opportunity to see the new season's styles—"take the oath of office." They are shown here in our establishment ready to serve every good dresser in town. Their administration will be satisfactory to the most exacting critic. Never has a new season ushered in more artistic combinations in cut and design. Well-shaped shoulders; nifty lapels; new ideas in arrangement of pockets and fancy cuffs, the breezy, easy, high-grade custom tailoring effect in every garment.

And you should see the line of beautiful all-wool goods from which to make your selection. All the soft, pretty shades of olive, brown, green, blue, fawn, mouse and many more. The patterns show hosts of new and original combinations—a collection "De Luxe"—nothing like them elsewhere.

Don't worry about whether or not you are ready to place your order—see our display first the question of ordering will take care of itself—the "inauguration" is just an occasion for getting acquainted. Don't forget—next week—your chance to learn about good tailoring.

We return thanks to Mr. Ed. R. Frink of Garwood for favors shown us this week. Since this paper was established six years ago, Mr. Frink has been one of its most liberal supporters. Not only has he given the HEADLIGHT all of his job printing orders, but he has influenced considerable other business to come our way. May his shadow never grow less!

Many improvements are in progress among the homes of Eagle Lake. A handsome wire fence has been stretched around the Strickland place. The Christian church has been enclosed in a neat iron and wire fence. Two cottages, and on Railroad Street the property of Mrs. Annie Phillips, and one on Walnut Avenue the property of Miss Mattie Mersfelder, are being remodeled and renovated. Both cottages have already secured tenants. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Flowers having contracted for the Mersfelder house, and Mr. and Mrs. Wahrmond will occupy Mrs. Phillips' house. Mr. Wahrmond is bookkeeper for the Eagle Lake Manufacturing Company.

When we welcome you to call at our office we assure you that the usual Southern hospitality will be accorded you. We are willing to work longer and harder that you may have attention while in our offices. No introduction is necessary to get a conversation with any officer. If he is busy it will only be a short while, for business is well understood and every department is carried on with uniform promptness and courtesy.

NOTTAWA - TEXAS

Mr. Fred Harding, who recently bought land here and moved to this place from the north, is said to be a fine baseball player, having at one time played professional ball. And Mr. Ed. McCullough, who has bought land near town and who will move here from Iowa in the spring, is also said to be a very fine ball player. Should Eagle Lake get the baseball fever this season, these gentlemen will no doubt prove valuable additions to our team.

Mr. T. L. Smith and family are keeping house in their own home. Bro. Oscar Ferrell and family who have been occupying Mr. Smith's house have moved into the cottage next door to the Methodist church building, recently made vacant by the removal of Mr. Homer Douglass' family.

We are glad indeed to learn that Mr. C. H. McCormick was able to be in town Wednesday. He has had a severe spell of sickness, having been ill since last October. This is the first time that Mr. McCormick has been well enough to come to town in five months. We sincerely hope that he will continue to improve and that he will soon be entirely well again.

Mr. Bryant Lee fell about ten feet from a scaffold out on the Robert Walker place where he is erecting a two story house for Mr. George Abbe last Friday, striking on his shoulder. He was considerably bruised by the fall but is now able to be about again. This is the second tumble Mr. Lee has taken in the last three months, having fallen from a scaffold while working on the new courthouse at Richmond landing on his head on the concrete floor. Mr. Lee says it didn't hurt the floor one bit.

Civil Engineer T. L. Smith of this city closed a contract this week for a big job of work, same being the surveying and plotting of the city of Wharton and of the independent school district of that place. About two months' time will be required to complete the job, and the work will be begun next week. Mr. Smith is one of the best civil engineers in Texas and it goes without saying that the work will be well done.

Mr. John E. Brigham, the efficient superintendent of the county farm, was a pleasant caller at the HEADLIGHT office Tuesday morning and advanced his figures on the paper's books a year ahead. Mr. Brigham was en route home from Wharton where he had been to attend the funeral of his uncle, Mr. Wayne Anderson, which occurred at that place the day previous.

We learn that the final papers are now being closed in a big deal wherein the Eagle Lake Rice Irrigation Company is selling its two pumping plants, canals, laterals, etc. to northern capitalists and Mr. John J. Rader of this city. Nothing definite concerning the deal has yet been given out, but the HEADLIGHT will publish the details of the transaction as soon as they are made known.

Mr. Paul Hagemann of Minnesota, spent a day with friends in the city this week. Mr. Hagemann is a former citizen of Colorado county, having been raised near Frelsburg, but for the past ten years has made his home in Eden Valley, Minnesota, where he is assistant superintendent of the Carver County Sugar Co.

The Facts About Pe-ru-na.

Is Peruna an alcoholic beverage in disguise? Is it possible to use Peruna as a substitute for whiskey? Do people buy Peruna and use it as a toddy, or a bitters, or a brace?

It would be the easiest thing in the world for any one to demonstrate the falsity of such statements. Let any one go to the drug store and purchase a bottle of Peruna. Let him undertake to use it as a beverage, or take this remedy in doses considerably larger than those prescribed on the bottle. Would the result be alcoholic intoxication? Nothing of the sort. Let any one try it and see.

Peruna is a medicinal compound quite heavily loaded with medicinal ingredients. If taken in doses larger than prescribed it would produce a positive drug effect. No one could take it as a beverage. If any one doubts these statements, try it and see. We know that Peruna cannot be used as a beverage; that it will not intoxicate; that it cannot be used as a substitute for liquor. We guarantee that PERUNA CONTAINS NO CHEAP WHISKEY—OR ANY OTHER WHISKEY, for that matter.

It contains a small per cent. of cologne spirits, absolutely essential to dissolve and hold in solution medicinal ingredients, but the drugs contained in Peruna prohibit its use as a beverage. It would be the easiest thing in the world for any one to demonstrate this if they chose to do so.

Peruna is sold everywhere. THE INGREDIENTS ARE PLAINLY PRINTED ON EACH BOTTLE. It has been said over and over again that chemists have analyzed Peruna and found it to contain only cubeb and whiskey. Now we challenge any chemist to demonstrate any such statement. Let any one who has even a smattering knowledge of chemistry purchase a bottle of Peruna and see whether or not it contains whiskey, find out for himself whether or not it is composed of cheap whiskey and cubeb. Of course, cubeb is one of the ingredients of Peruna, but there are many other ingredients. It contains hydnastis canadensis, corydalis formosa, collinsonia, and at least four other medicinal ingredients. To be sure, no chemist could so analyze Peruna as to be able to identify the various medicinal ingredients. This is beyond the ability of such chemist. But any ordinary chemist would be able to say that Peruna is heavily loaded with medicinal ingredients of some kind in addition to cubeb.

Now why are these statements repeated when their falsity could be so easily demonstrated? Simply because there is continued hostility toward Peruna on the part of the medical profession. Very likely the magazines which took up the crusade against Peruna and denounced it as a cheap beverage were misled by statements of the medical profession. Probably they were sincere in their attitude towards it. But now, after all these things have been said and refuted, it would seem to be in order for such people to use a little fairness and common sense in the matter.

Every time any one says that Peruna is nothing but cheap whiskey and cubeb he is telling a lie, an absolute falsehood. Most people intend to speak the truth. But the prevalent habit of repeating other people's statements, without investigation as to their truth, has led many well-meaning people to say these false things about Peruna.

Read according to the directions on the bottle. PERUNA IS A SAFE AND RELIABLE CATHARTIC REMEDY, but, like any other good medicine, if taken in excess of those doses, it will produce drug effects very unpleasant to the person who takes it.

It is therefore up to every honest person to quit making such statements concerning Peruna, or acknowledge that he is repeating slanders about which he knows nothing. One might just as well say that Castor Oil is an intoxicant; that if taken in large enough doses it will operate as a "boon." If people never tried to see, but simply repeated such statements about Castor Oil, the majority of people would come to believe them. It is no easier to demonstrate such a statement about Castor Oil than it would be about Peruna.

Any one who takes Peruna knows that such statements are false. To say that Peruna is cheap whiskey and cubeb may constitute good material for jokes on the vaudeville stage, but there is no excuse for any one who pretends to be truthful saying over again this self-repeated falsehood.
