

Who Was There That You Knew?

In the shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or death or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there a father or grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of him in that long ago day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was taken? Perhaps we can show you your own and in any case, we can tell you if you are a stranger than the most distant cousin of 3,650 relatives whose photographs were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs of the Civil War

They were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States at that time—those were bought by the United States Government for $25,000. They were buried in the War Department for 50 years—they are hidden there still. But a duplicate set was kept by the photographer—who did not know where the original set was hidden. From him it was taken for nearly 50 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector. In 1907, Messrs. Morse and Co. secured the collection. The President's official staff, General Rosamond, E. Butler said it was worth $150,000—set with the help of the Review on Reviews, the entire collection has been gathered into 10 great volumes and is placed within a quantity of 3,650 relatives of one of the photographs.
