SATURDAY, MARCH 19, 1933

With this issue the HEADLIGHT closes the eighth year of its existence and next week the paper will offer upon its ninth year. In March, 1903, this paper was established by its present owner, and has been published continuously under the same management. It being the custom to omit an issue at Christmas time each year, the closing of the volume falls a few weeks later than it otherwise would. Our journalistic career has not been wholly without its thorns. There have been many ups and downs since we entered the newspaper business in this city eight years ago, and there have been times when the newspaper business seemed anything but promising, as many have been the months that the paper was kept up to its usual standard, but with financial loss to the management. But we have stayed by the old ship through rough waters and smooth sailing, and today we are pleased to state, the paper is enjoying a fairly lucrative business. We expect to improve the plant and the paper as fast as business will permit. One thing that has always been the policy of the management is to pay its employees good salaries, and in this connection we will say we employ none but good printers, thereby insuring our patrons the best in job printing and newspaper service. We could save money for the office by employing cheaper printers but our patrons could not get the up-to-date service that we are giving them now. Our present foreman and job man has been with the HEADLIGHT seven years. Before another year rolls around we expect to install a folding machine and a type setting machine. It is the intention of the HEADLIGHT to keep abreast with the times, and continue to give Eagle Lake an up-to-date local paper. The class of job printing this office is turning out is equal to that of any city office, and cannot be compared with the class of work usually expected by a printing office of this size town.

ONE WAY OF SAVING A BABY—FREE TO TRY

The mother does not live who would not do all in her power to keep her child healthy, but often she does not know how. So when a doctor of standing points the way all can afford to listen.

It is an accepted fact that nine out of ten of the troubles of infants and children is intestinal. You notice it by the fact that the child is constipated, it belches, is peevish and cries. Don't give a remedy that contains an opiate, because the child will get in the habit of needing it, and don't become alarmed and run at once for a doctor.

Try a scientific laxative first. Give a small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the remedy that is intended this size town. We sincerely thank every patron for the business extended us in the past, and hope to be favored with a continuation of this valued patronage. It shall ever be our effort to keep the HEADLIGHT up to a high standard as a local newspaper, for we believe a good, live local newspaper, filled with home advertising and home news, is a fine advertisement for the town in which it is published and a poorly written one and poorly patronized paper is worse than no paper at all.

The editor returns thanks to the LaGrange Flower and Industrial Fair Association for a season ticket to all attractions to the eighth annual fair which will be held May 18, 19 and 20.

The Welder News, by Fisher Townsend, came out last week and the News says: "Perhaps you are wondering why the News is clothed in a somber and mournful dress this week and we can enlighten you in a very few words—the News has died from lack of advertising."

Under the heading of "Other Great Divides" the Corpus Christi Caller has: Reno. The harem skirt. The tariff wall. The fool and his money. Bada-Pest. The pearly gates. Mason and Dixon's line. Jim Crow laws. The Rio Grande. To which the Bellville Times adds: We do not like to "but-in" to this matter and simply rise to ask: What is the matter with "Pro and Anti-Pro," also "Joe and Anti-Joe?"

The Brenham Banner says: The editor of the Wichita Times is authority for the statement that Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey has recommended the legislature of that State, and adds: "It will now be in order for the esteemed Hodston Post and a few other leading papers that have been saying nice things about Wilson to take them back and denounce him as a populist."

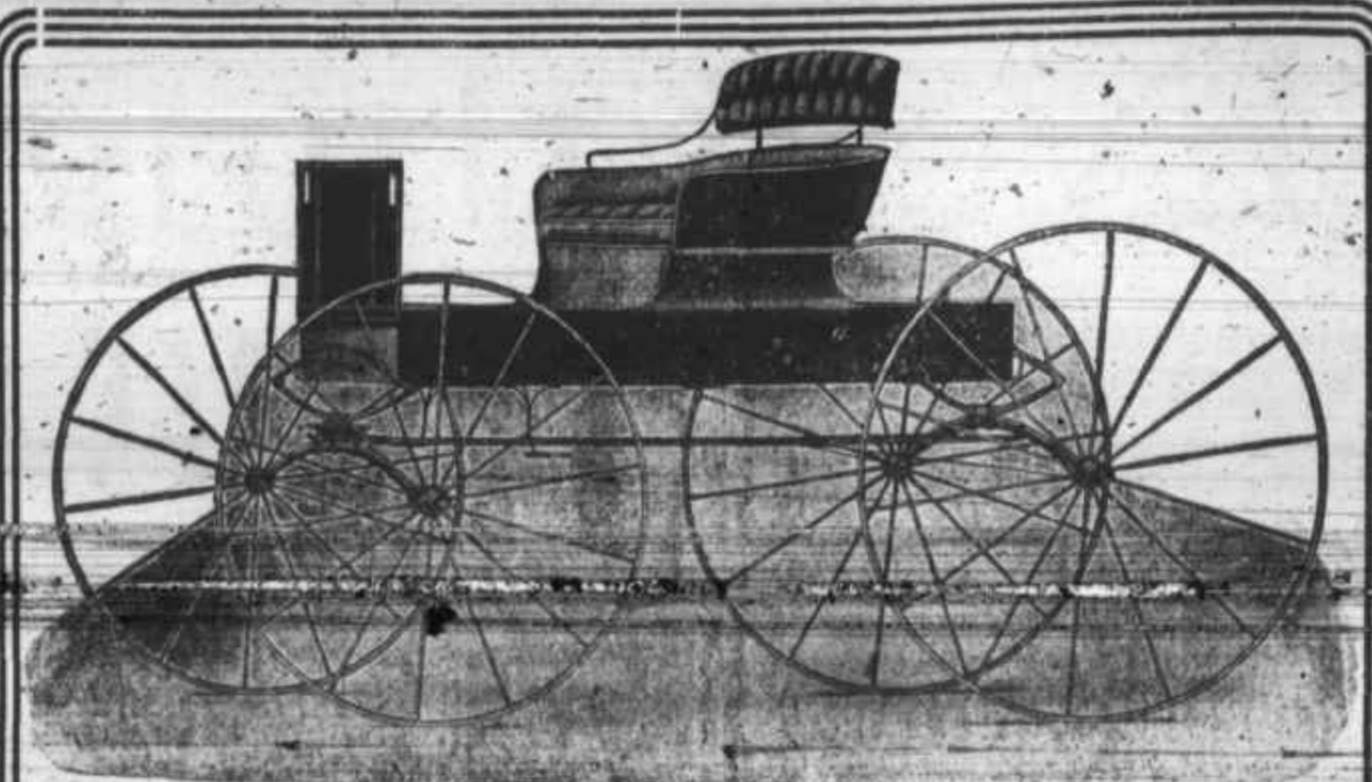

The potato farmers of the Eagle Lake country are now busily harvesting their spring crop of potatoes, which is yielding all the way from one hundred to two hundred and fifty bushels to the acre and selling right in the field for $1.25, and grown on land that cost from $30 to $50 an acre. But this is only half of it—for there are two crops of potatoes grown each year on the same land. This article is respectfully referred to our many readers living in the Northern states.

We do not know of a town in South Texas that would be a better location for a first class creamery than Eagle Lake. Our local market consumes a large portion of the product of creameries of other towns. Why can not this money be kept right here in Eagle Lake? There for the use of children. It is mild, gentle and non-gripping. The remedy is absolutely pure and is guaranteed in every particular. Mrs. Foomery of Emingsville, Pa., and Mrs. Fred Crows of Alanson, Mich., never give their children anything else. These are only a few among thousands of women.

You can buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of any nearby druggist, for they have all sold it for a generation, but if you want to test it on your child first send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will cheerfully send you a free sample bottle.

railroads, giving six outlets for shipping, make market facility unsurpassed in this section. Some one is going to put up a creamery in Eagle Lake some of these days and that same fellow is going to strike a bonanza when he does.

What Eagle Lake needs is a Commercial Club, a real live club, cotton together, said Mr. Long purpose and that is what Eagle Lake. Such a club, organized for this purpose only and to advance no man's private interests, would be a great factor in the future growth of this town. The one great fault with our similar clubs heretofore organized was that we undertook the things that were too large instead of looking after the smaller things that we could have accomplished.—Eagle Lake HEADLIGHT.

The need of his town, as given by editor McCarty, is the need of every town which is not already in possession of a live-wire organization such as indicated. Here, we have a business league, but as such it has not held a meeting for twelve months. During that time however we have bowed along at a good deal more than our average gait and it is likely will continue to do so. The regular meeting of such a body though and the discussion of conditions puts all of the community on the watch-tower for better things and for enterprises and improvements that could be obtained for the asking and that are practically offering to come.—Bellville Times.

A Successful Farmer and A Booster.

Mr. G. E. Thomas, one of this paper's very best friends, certainly struck the key note when talking on the possibilities of this section, when he remarked that this country has never yet been given a chance. Mr. Thomas, who, by the way, is one of the best farmers in South Texas, says that we are not half farming, that our land has never been given a fair chance to see what it will do. Mr. Thomas says farming land should be completely built up by the aid of the right kinds of fertilizers, that if we farm the same land year after year and not build it up, we are

Northern Man is Making Good Trucking on Prairie Land.

Mr. Henry Heine, who is truck farming about a mile and a half from town, has been shipping cucumbers, and all other truck, to market for the past two weeks. His truck is packed neatly in nice crates, and he is making shipments all the way from ten to sixty crates a day, consigning to Houston, Kansas City, Denver, and in fact a little of everywhere. This is Mr. Heine's first year in Texas, but he is a successful truck farmer in his native state, Minnesota. This truck which Mr. Heine is shipping is being grown on prairie land, and he says this land has ever Buying Some Fine Stock.

Mr. A. M. McDow was in Pierce last week where he purchased a carload of cows for his ranch. These are very fine cattle, Mr. A. P. Borden, from whom they were purchased, having gone to India some years ago where he bought and shipped to this country this particular breed of stock. Mr. McDow is a firm believer in grading up in all classes of stock raising, and these cattle will be taken to his Bernard ranch for season pasturing.

In company with Dr. P. T. Gordon, G. W. Keith and Mr. Burnett, the editor made a trip to the potato fields in the doctor's handsome Reo car last Saturday morning. The potato men were all busily engaged in digging, but at that time the potatoes were pretty muddy. The corn in that section of the bottom is looking splendidly and the cotton though grassy in some places, is looking fine.

The protracted meeting at the tent conducted by Rev. W. G. Callihan, came to a close Sunday night, with five professions of religion during the meeting. Rev. Mr. Callihan is a good preacher and no doubt the series of sermons he delivered here will result in much good for this community. Rev. Mr. Callihan moved his tent to Chesterville where he began another revival meeting on Thursday.
