In the consummation of the elaborate card party with which Mrs. J. T. McCarty and her daughter, Miss Helen, entertained Saturday afternoon, all the bright anticipations of the guests were happily realized. The McCarty home is an ideal place for large gatherings. Six tables were arranged in the drawing room and reception hall for the interesting game of five hundred. The lady cards were dainty designs of Fischer girls' heads. Little Ruth and her Dorothy, dressed in white, with blue and pink ribbons, respectively, kept score during the progress of the game. The ladies making the highest score were Misses Annie Henckel, Miss Mae Gernand and Mrs. August Tacquard. In the out for the prize Miss Gernand won, and became the proud possessor of a beautiful china.

Mrs. George Schneider fell heir to the booby prize, a miniature Dolly Varden picture in a gilt frame. A dainty two-course luncheon was served at the close of the game. The first course consisted of Waldorf salad in scalloped apple cups, chicken croquettes, cheese straws, olives and bread and butter sandwiches, followed by the hostess' famous angel food, served with hot chocolate and whipped cream. The bonbons served at this repast are worthy of mention, as Miss McCarty is quite an adept in the making of them.—Hitchcock Cor. in Galveston News.
