

Mr. Charlie Westmoreland and Miss Cleo Baughman "stole a march" on their friends last Sunday and were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Baughman, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Rev. J. E. Lovett, the Methodist pastor officiating. They left immediately after the ceremony in an automobile for Chesterville, where they took the afternoon Aransas Pass train for a short honeymoon visit to Houston. The bride is one of Eagle Lake's sweet and pretty young ladies, while the groom is a popular young business man of this city, being connected with the Eagle Lake Insurance Agency, and the eldest son of Mr. W. Y. Westmoreland. The HEADLIGHT joins the large circle of friends of this popular young couple in extending congratulations and very best wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Westmoreland are for the present at home in Mrs. Adams' cottage on Lake Avenue.

Miss Louise Talk, a pretty and charming young lady of Runge, who has been the guest of her cousin, Miss Eva Yates, leaves for her home tomorrow. Miss Talk has made many friends during her stay in Eagle Lake who will regret to see her leave.

J. E. Taussig, superintendent, and Agent of Right of Way Adkinson of the Southern Pacific were here Tuesday to confer with the city council with reference to the moving of the water tank and stock pens, formal request for such having been made on the railroad by the city council. The officials agreed to move the stock pens at once, but not the tank. They stated that it would "probably" be moved later, "likely" within six months' time. If the people of Eagle Lake want that old unsightly tank moved they had better not let this little visit pacify them, but keep everlastingly at it, until the railroad moves the old tank without any "probabilities or likelihoods" about it.

Prospects for an excellent cotton crop have not been as good since 1896. The cotton is making rapidly and heavily fruited. Boll weevil are doing little or no damage to the crop, and a bumper yield is expected. The summer has been an extremely dry one, and the planters tell us that a splendid cotton yield is always the result after a good stand is gotten and the summer remains dry. Rice is looking splendidly. The pumps are all running full time, and affording all the water needed. With a big cotton and a big rice crop this fall, and it looks now that nothing will prevent it except a storm or a several weeks' rainy spell, old Eagle Lake, the best little town in South Texas, will surely come into its own. Building has been lively for the past year, and more improvements have been made in this city during the past year than in any one year within its history, but with good crops this fall, Eagle Lake will build and grow rapidly. There are many building improvements now under contemplation, awaiting the outcome of the now growing crops, which at this time are promising most flattering yields.

Never in the history of the world have people been so wide awake on the question of a purer water supply.

A number of subscribers have sent in renewal subscriptions lately, enclosing only one dollar. This price of this paper is $1.50 and when only one dollar is sent in you are given credit on our subscription books but for only six months. Probably some are of the opinion that the rate is one dollar but that rate which we have advertised for some time past was good during only the one month advertised. The subscription price is $1.50 and if you are behind with your subscription account, we'd like to have you "straighten up." Some people who are reading the paper every week seem to think they are on the "free list."
