Meditations Upon Defeat

The editor of the Plaindealer, published at Joquin, Shelby county, John McLendon, was a candidate for Representative in the recent primary. He was the third man in the race, the winner being a man named George Oliver. Here's the way he expressed himself after the primary:

"Beaten again! But I'm cheerful for I knew that Shelby county has lost a great deal more than I have.

I promised Andy Fultz that I would vote for him, and Andy promised that he would vote for me, but inasmuch as the returns show that no vote was cast at this box for Mr. Fultz, I am bound to admit that in the excitement I forgot to cast a vote for him, and as I have not heard of any great landslide in my favor over about Aiken it is just possible, and I sincerely hope that Andy can claim the proud distinction of being as big a liar as I am.

The defeated candidate has a hard road to travel. His friends all get sore at him and his enemies hurray him and glory in his misery. He dreads to go home and face his wife—for, verily, defeat and failure are not the things that women loves, and it is second nature to say, "I told you so." One consoling thought occurs, however, and that is in connection with the cotton patch —a defeated candidate can nearly always escape humiliation by retiring to a cotton patch where the picking is good.

I am going to run George Oliver for Congress against Martin Dies in the next campaign. He is the only man I know who can beat Martin—and, besides, Mr.
Oliver has been an office-holder in the county for the last twelve or fifteen years and the only shot we have to get rid of him is to send him to Congress; or possibly we may induce President Wilson to appoint him an extraordinary plenipotentiary minister to the Fiji islands, which would be much more gratifying —because the natives would more than likely hold an election and declare him king of the cannibals. The honor would fit him, too, because of his penchant for "eatin' 'em up alive." However, for the present I am running him for Congress. He's a running piece of furniture and can't be beat. He will be holding some office when he dies, and if they hold elections over there beyond the dark river, George will start out his election judges the minute the breath leaves him. And when he dies I hope to have the sweet privilege of chiseling this little verse upon his tombstone:

"Tread lightly 'round this mouldering heap;
It marks ambition's restless sleep.
His greed for place ne'er did forsake him;
Don't mention office—else you'll wake
him."

And when I shuffle off this mortal coil, Mr. Oliver or any other nice man measuring up to his brand of physical and mental beauty will be at perfect liberty to inscribe upon my humble tombstone, "He also ran."

What Will the Future Bring.

We never look into the face of a beautiful child without wondering what its future will be. Will the swift flying years be good to it, or will the brush with time-ness, or will the purity of its dimpled face be marred by the marks of shame. The guardianship of a little spotless soul, as white as the lips of a lily, is a serious thing, and he who has such a gift sent to him should feel honored by the token of God's approval. Time is a mysterious thing however, and the stainless heart may be all red with passion and the sinless soul blackened with crime, because the right influences were not thrown around the priceless treasure that was loaned just for a little while. An infant life is a marvelous thing, wondrous in its unfolding, great in its possibilities for good or evil. And so much depends upon the part we play in the development of the thoughts that surge through the growing brain, and the emotions that pass through the beating heart. The innocence of heaven, and the divine light of God shines in the trusting eyes become bleared with the mudge of tarnished associations and the little trawling tongues that made such merry music in the house may unlose in haunts of shame vile oaths and obscene conversation. Let's every hour do our part to guard the innocents from the waiting vices that lurk in many places, and throw around them the sweet and tender influences of good and true people whose hearts are busy with things that help others to be strong and pure. Isn't it a terrible thing to contemplate the wreck of a human life, for when it is sent out to us pure and fresh from its home beyond the stars there is not a single flaw in its make-up of its dawning consciousness, and the things that make or mar its usefulness must creep in some time, some how, from the people with whom it comes in contact. We cannot shirk the responsibility, no matter how hard we try, and the precious package, all pure and pink and as white as driven snow, so potent with responsibilities of unlived years must be accounted for unto the sender, and if we hope to escape the censure of all the heavenly hosts, we must guard it as we would guard our own immortal soul.—Cleburne Enterprise.

Jelly Roll Recipe

Only Two Eggs Required

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

This Jelly Roll is fast becoming very popular on account of the way it keeps fresh. With proper handling it should keep fresh a whole week, providing it isn't eaten up in the meantime, for it is every bit as good as it looks.

K C Jelly Roll
One cup sifted flour; scant half teaspoonful salt; 1 level teaspoonful K C Baking Powder; sifted fruit of 1 lemon; 2 eggs beaten light; 1 cup sugar; 1/2 cup hot milk; glass of jelly; powdered sugar.

Beat the sugar into the eggs; add the flour and salt; then the baking powder, and, lastly, the milk. Bake in a buttered dripping pan; turn out on a damp cloth, trim off the rising edges; spread with jelly and turn over and over into a roll while still warm. Dredge the top with powdered sugar.

Hot milk used in the jelly roll enables it to be rolled without danger of cracking. Have the milk scalding hot; also be careful to have the eggs and sugar beaten together until very light and creamy. Bake in a moderate oven.

K C Jelly Roll is illustrated on page thirty-two of the new and handsomely illustrated K C Cook's Book, which may be secured free by sending the certificate tucked in every 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the Jaguar Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

To the Public:

All His

Senator Vardaman, so the story goes, once rented a plot of several acres to one of his negro neighbors. The land was to be planted in corn, and the Senator, then ex-Governor, was to receive one-fourth. Meeting the negro one day he said:
"Look here, Sam; have you harvested your corn?"
"Yes, sah, boss, long ago."
"Well, wasn't it to get a fourth?"
"Yes, sah, boss; dat's de truf, but dar warn't no fo' th. Dey was jes' three loads and dey was mine."

"I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to be a good remedy and to those who suffer from attacks of backache and a tired worn out feeling, I strongly endorse them.
On more than one occasion when suffering from pains and aches, due to the disordered kidneys, I have resorted to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Cal-

SAFER THAN CALOMEL

Dodson's Liver Tone at Night Will Straighten You Out by Morning. Calomel May Knock You Out of a Day's Work.

If you are a calomel user, next time you are tempted to buy it ask your druggist if he can absolutely guarantee the drug not to harm you. He won't do it because he CAN'T do it.

But there is a perfect substitute for calomel which the druggist does guarantee—the famous Dodson's Liver Tone. Calvert's drug store will refund your money without question if you are not thoroughly satisfied.

Go to Calvert's drug store—whom you are acquainted with—and find out about the great number of people who are taking this remarkable remedy and feeling better, keener, healthier, and better able to enjoy life than they ever were when taking calomel.

Why? Because calomel is a poison—one that may stay in the system, and while seeming to benefit you temporarily, may do harm in the end. If you haven't felt these ill-effects so far, it is because you are fortunate enough to have a strong constitution.

Don't take the risk any longer.
Get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone (50c) and note how easily and naturally it corrects all bilious conditions, how it clears away that sick headache and coated tongue, how it sets you right without ache or gripe. The most wonderful thing in the world for constipation.

All this without the slightest interference with your regular habits.

Many Driven From Home Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles and quick relief and health returns.
Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping-cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00.
