Just a Word for the Bachelors.

A leader in the woman's suffrage movement has seen fit to make speeches in the East in which she vigorously attacks bachelors, claiming that unmarried men are the chief opponents of votes for women.

It may be true. Married men would not be disposed to oppose the woman's movement. Men who have wives have absorbed a brand of wisdom of which bachelors know not. Bachelors may rush in where married men fear to tread.

But the suffragette spellbinding doesn't stop with the principal charge which she makes deeper into the subject and states that most bachelors are cranks.

Possibly she is right in her claim. But since there are more men in the world than there are women, the institution of bachelorhood must exist of necessity until such time as the number of women becomes equal to the men.

The speeches which Mrs. White is making in the large cities are bitter against bachelors; that kind of an attitude doesn't make votes. Ask any candidate for office. He knows full well.

While it is true that every man owes some woman a living, the suffragettes will accomplish more with the bachelors by practicing kindness than in heaping abuse upon the fellow of single blessedness. Most bachelors are timid. That's why they are bachelors. The suffragettes should speedily come to a realization of the actual condition in bachelorhood and advance upon the enemy with smiles. Perhaps then the bachelors could be induced to be more aggressive and could also be induced to let the women vote.

Kindness accomplishes wonders when rightly applied.—Oklahoma.

EAGLE LAKE HEADLIGHT.

"Don't you think," Mrs. Brown remarked one Sunday afternoon, "that we should be considering Mary's future? It is time she was married; she's already 24 years old."

"Oh, I shouldn't worry," replied old Brown, languidly. "Let her wait until the right sort of man comes along."

"Why wait?" returned Mrs. Brown. "I didn't"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Vacuum Cleaner and the Grasshopper.

Out in California they are gathering the grasshopper crop, sacking it up and selling it for chicken feed. Formerly the grasshopper ate up everything green in sight and made himself a general nuisance. The vacuum cleaner has changed him into a profitable crop. It all came about by a young man trying to sell cleaners to the wives of farmers in the vicinity of Newman. They would not buy, and he was on his way to the depot when he passed a farm where the grasshoppers were eating the crop, and an idea popped into his head that made his fortune. He mounted his sample on a sled and pushed it into the field. Now the vacuum is used by the thousands in that section. A two-horse wagon follows the cleaners, and the grasshoppers are sacked and hauled to a drying shed. The farmers look on the cleaner as a heaven-sent blessing, while the grasshoppers are said to regard it much as a contesting Roosevelt delegate looks upon the Republican steam roller. The story comes duly verified, but the heat must be sending the California imagination up the tube or the cleaners want to get into prominence.—Savannah Morning News.

And She Wondered

A little girl sent her plate two or three times for turkey. She had also been bountifully helped to other good things which go to make up a fine dinner. When the plum pudding was placed before her she looked at it longingly and sighed, but did not begin to eat it. Her uncle, noting her expression, said: "What's the matter, Kathleen? You look mournful."
"I am more'n full," replied the little girl. And then she wondered why everybody laughed.

3 COWS and a DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR will make more money for their owner than four cows with "gravity setting."

Thousands upon thousands of cow owners have already proved this statement for themselves; any experienced dairyman will verify it for you.

With such a big saving it is hard to understand why any cow owner should try to get along without a De Laval Cream Separator.

If you are selling cream or making butter, and have no separator, or else an inferior machine, we know if we could put a De Laval on your place we would be doing you a personal favor.

If you haven't a separator don't make the mistake of starting with a cheap or inferior machine. When you do buy a separator, buy one of the best. You will be sure to get the best—the De Laval. Remember that you can't make money by trying to save money in the purchase of a cream separator. A De Laval only costs a little more than the cheapest and will save you twice as much and last five to ten times as long as other separators.

Before you buy a Cream Separator be sure to SEE AND TRY A DE LAVAL
