

ROYAL BAKING POWDER ABSOLUTELY PURE

Cooking under modern methods and conveniences is made so attractive the whole family is becoming interested.

"These biscuits are delicious; this cake is excellent," says the father. "I made them," says the daughter, and both father and daughter beam with pleasure.

Royal Baking Powder has made home baking a success, a pleasure and a profit, and the best cooking today the world over is done with its aid.

In order to assist those who are already interested in farming, to practice diversified farming, producing their own meats, butter, cheese, eggs, etc., the Santa Fe will operate a poultry, hog and dairy train during November and December, reaching Eagle Lake on November 16th at 1:55 p. m. The train will have a good experienced and practical man to talk on each of the above subjects and will have three exhibit cars fitted up with best types of dairy cows, poultry and hogs and the practical appliances necessary to carry on these industries. The lecturers will endeavor to show the farmers and also the town man that it is to his interest, financially, to raise more and better poultry, hogs and cows, and then tell them how to do so economically. The railroad wants all the farmers to be present on this occasion and all the ladies and gentlemen of the city and all the school children above the sixth grade.

A gloomy face repels friends. There is nothing in it attractive. It makes people pity you. A bright face attracts people and makes them glad when you enter their circle. Men ought to cultivate a cheerful countenance, for it is better to smile than weep. To publish your unhappiness in your expression is to invite people to pass you by on the other side.

Fount Skeeters, a young man working at the Eagle Lake rice mill, fell while oiling one of the machines last Monday night and broke one of the small bones of his leg.

Capt. Siegfried Book of Mentz, who captured the first prize at the Dallas fair both last year and this year on his excellent wines, was in the city on business Monday.

Mr. A. R. McCreary was a visitor to the Dallas Fair the first of the week.

Dayton Potter, about sixteen years of age, living at Lakeside, accidentally shot himself in the wrist with a shot gun yesterday. The gun, an old fashioned hammer gun, was lying in the boat from which he was bailing water. The load of shot grazed the bone of the wrist, cutting out a large portion of the flesh but not injuring the bone. He was brought to the Fitzgerald sanitarium where the wound was dressed.

Often True.

Signor Marconi in an interview in Washington praised American democracy.

"Over here," he said, "you respect a man for what he is himself, not for what his family is, and thus you remind me of the gardener in Bologna who helped me with my first wireless apparatus."

"As my mother's gardener and I were working on my apparatus together a young count joined us one day, and while he watched us work the count boasted of his lineage."

"The gardener, after listening a long while, smiled and said: 'If you come from an ancient family it's so much the worse for you, sir; for, as we gardeners say, the older the seed the worse the crop.'"—Washington Star.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Egnus of Nottawa were shopping in the city Monday.

Mrs. W. D. Newsom and children left Monday for a visit to her old home in Lockhart.

Mr. M. G. Calvert was circulating a subscription list on the streets yesterday asking for contributions to be used in paying the expenses of the Colorado county exhibit at the Dallas Fair. This is right and proper and no one should refuse to subscribe to this fund, but right here we want to call the attention of the progressive citizens of Eagle Lake to a fact. It is not a pleasant one, and some "overly zealous" person might raise a cry that the Headlight is knocking when such is not the case. But things of this kind must be met squarely in the face, and we are the ones to meet them, if we are to profit by our experience.

There is no need of "whipping around the bush." It is this. Private information received by this paper from visitors to the fair, is that our exhibit is not what it should be and inferior to other exhibits around it. This is not a "knock" but a "fact." Mr. Yates deserves great credit for what he has done, but the people have not helped him. We have slept on our rights and that's all there is to it. We mention this because we want our people to wake up on this subject and work with Mr. Yates in the matter. We can send an exhibit that will make them all sit up and take notice, but we have to begin before the fair opens next year to do it.

Judge For Yourself

Which Is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by an Eagle Lake Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment. Must be proved to be as represented.

The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit.

But the indorsement of friends is.

Now supposing you had a bad back.

A lame, weak or aching one. Would you experiment on it?

You will read of many so-called cures.

Endorsed by strangers from far-away places.

It's different when the indorsement comes from home.

Easy to prove local testimony. Home indorsement is the proof that backs every box of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Read this case:

A. L. Wagner, Stevenson Ave., Eagle Lake, Texas, says: "I hold the same high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills today as I did three years ago when I publicly stated that they cured me of kidney complaint. The cure still remains permanent and I now gladly confirm my former testimonial."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Little Miss Lorease Baker, daughter of Mrs. Blanche Baker, is ill at the home of her uncle, Mr. J. M. Callison, with diphtheria. When it was announced on Sunday that the little girl had developed a case of diphtheria, considerable excitement was caused and much alarm was felt. The school was dismissed the following day and has remained closed all week, as a precaution against the disease becoming an epidemic. The little girl is recovering rapidly and all the excitement of the first of the week has subsided, and there is no longer any uneasiness felt for the spread of the disease.

Mrs. A. Townley entertained at her home on Lake Avenue Monday evening, the occasion being in honor of the birthday of her sister, Miss Edna Heiney. The hostess was assisted in receiving by Mrs. J. E. Roberts and Mrs. G. R. Aoney. A delightful evening was spent in playing "bunco" after which elegant refreshments were served. Those present were, Misses Josephine Thatcher, Gladys Welford, Ruth Cooke, Ruth Westmoreland, Mary Arbuckle, Kit-tie Mae Stamps, Mary Thomas, Myra Walker, Nell Shepard, Edith Hanly, Edith Frick and Edna Heiney; Messrs. Albright, Bortschell, Shepard, Peppier, Fitch, Terrell, Conner, Mitchell, Abney, Perkins, Westmoreland and Scovall.

The people of Eagle Lake and the people of the surrounding country who do their shopping in Eagle Lake, will do well by reading closely the advertisements in this paper every week of special sales, new arrival of goods and such like. By doing this you will not only avail yourself of bargains in all lines of new and crisp merchandise but it will be a saving of many dollars to you. Remember all really big and genuine trade events will be told you through the advertising columns of this paper. This paper has an immense mailing list and goes into almost every home in this community, so therefore firms that have something unusual in trade lines to offer do not seek cheaper and insignificant ways to advertise. A thing that is of enough importance to advertise is always found among the advertisements of this paper. You can always depend upon that.

Worth It

A newly married couple and a friend were traveling by train, when they were suddenly plunged into the darkness of a tunnel. There was no light in the car and when they abruptly returned to daylight the bride and the bridegroom were caught kissing fur-tively.

The friend was embarrassed, and he said the first thing that came into his head: "That—ah—that tunnel cost two million dollars."

The bridegroom nodded his head wisely. "Well," he said, judiciously, "it was worth it."

Honesty.

To an honest man there is nothing more pleasant than the satisfaction of being able to pay his just obligations. Show us a man who is always disputing his account and we will show you a man who will accept every opportunity to skin his fellowman. Mistakes will occur in the best regulated businesses, yet there are many instances where a man is disputing an account for the purpose of making an excuse to get around an obligation or debt. The spirit of the thief does not rest alone with the highway robber. It dwells within the breast of every man who wants to take an unfair advantage of his fellow-man. The law and society may overlook certain practices, yet the principle is there and there is no getting around it. Honesty is a word around which there can be no hedging. There is no compromise for the practice of honesty. It stands out plain and unmistakable and there is none so ignorant but who can discern its true import and meaning.—McGregor Mirror.

Teddy's First Words.
"What will be the first thing Teddy will say when he enters the White House next year?" asked the fair summer girl.
"Bully," guessed a newspaper man.
"Delighted," ventured a school ma'am.
"The women did it," said a gallant store clerk.
"All wrong," said the fair questioner. "He'll say: 'How do you do, President Wilson.'"—Eagle Pass News-Guide.
