

The Muncie

Crude oil engine makes good in Arkansas rice fields.

The following is copied from the "New Era" of DeWitt, Ark. It sounds like an advertisement, but in reality was inserted by Mr. McKusker, a local farmer, to show that he wants all of his neighbors to know that the Muncie engine.

The above power operator is one of the most successful pumping plants in the county, located on the Walton farm, 2 1/2 miles south of DeWitt. Although only 40 h. p., this machine puts out a full pipe of water 24 hours in the day and every day in the week, caring for 220 acres of rice. The season just closed in a first class manner. It operates on practically half the volume of fuel required by other internal combustion machines and uses a low grade of oil, which costs less than half the price of naphtha. The longest run made during the season just closed was 516 hours without missing an explosion, throwing a continuous stream which varied between 1100 and 1200 gallons per minute, and consuming between 3 1/2 and 4 gallons of low grade oil (32 degrees gravity at 4 cents per gallon) per hour.

The machine is very simple in construction and although it has pumped as much water as 50 and 60 horse power machines of neighboring plants, it has gone through the season without any of its working parts being taken apart or one cent expense for repairs.

The Muncie is the most simple, most reliable and most economical engine built today.

Most Simple

Because it has no electrical equipment, carburetor, inlet of exhaust valves, gears, no cam shafts to get out of order. Absolutely the only mechanically operated parts are the governor and the fuel pump.

Most Reliable

Because 90 per cent of the source of trouble in the ordinary gasoline engine have been eliminated.

Most Economical

Because it runs on crude oil costing less than 4¢ per gallon, instead of solar oil at 10¢ or naphtha at 16 cents.

The saving in fuel will pay for this engine in less than 6 months continuous operation. Give us a chance to prove these statements.

A Washington debutante has sprung the "soul gown" on Washington society. Sometimes, it looks to us as if some of the gowns now in vogue would fall even to cover one's soul.

It was his first morning in London "apartments". His landlady came up with the breakfast and as he began the meal, she opened a slight conversation.

"It looks like rain," she said. "It does," replied the American, "but it smells rather like coffee."

Dressed in the latest and most improved motor cycling costume, with goggles all complete, the motor cyclist gayly toot-tooted his way toward the Zoo. Suddenly he slackened, dismounted and said to a small, grubby urchin:

"I say, my boy, am I right for the Zoo?"

The boy gasped at so strange a sight, and thought it must be some new animal for the garden.

"You may be all right if they have a spare cage," he said, doubtfully, when he could find his tongue, "but you'd stand a better chance if you'd only had a tail!"
