

About the Masonic Cemetery.

A number of people have shown their interest in the beautifying of the cemetery, by monthly donations, but yet there has not been shown the interest to justify the guarantee of a salary of $50 per month. Mr. McDonald will not work for less, and if we are to have a cemetery, one which all could feel proud of, we must stir ourselves during the next ten days. Mr. McDonald will be glad to plant flowers etc., in the lots on which he is working, but he will not be permitted to skip here and there, so those contemplating the planting of flowers and shrubbery will save time and trouble by conferring with Mr. McDonald, and learning what time he will reach your particular lot.

The HEADLIGHT extends its sympathy to Mr. Henry E. Carey in the death of his father, Mr. H. E. Carey, Sr., which occurred at his home in Weimar Monday night, the funeral taking place in that city Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Carey was a native of Michigan, an ex-Federal soldier, a former mayor of Weimar. He had lived in that city many years and was highly respected by everybody. He leaves two grown sons, George E. Carey of Weimar, and H. E. Carey of this city. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Carey and Mrs. Fred Von Lengerke of Eagle Lake were present at the funeral.

Mr. G. E. Fussell, who has had charge of the Eagle Lake Water & Light Co. for some time past, has tendered his resignation, though he will remain with the company for some days yet.

The HEADLIGHT received a souvenir card, bearing a picture of the Leamington Hotel in Minneapolis, from Mr. E. Middleton who is in that city on a business trip for his firm, the Schuhmacher Company. Mr. Middleton says: "Say, believe me, it's cold."

Miss Nora Walker of Columbus is visiting in the city this week, being a guest at the home of her uncle, Mr. Osborne Walker.

Dr. J. K. Davidson has been confined to his bed several days this week suffering with a poison oak or something of a similar nature in his eyes. The doctor's eyes have been terribly swollen and painful, but we are glad to note that he is considerably improved and able to be at his office again at this time.

The Rose and the Brick Senator Clapp, at a dinner in Washington, chuckled over the appearance before his committee of Colonel Roosevelt.

"The Colonel," he said, "certainly got back at everybody. He reminds me of the Irishman."

"A friend of mine, traveling in Ireland, stopped for a drink of milk at a white cottage with a thatched roof; and as he sipped his refreshments he noted of a center table, under a glass dome, a brick with a faded rose upon the top of it."

"Why do you cherish in this way," my friend said to his host, "that common brick and that dead rose?"

"Share, sir," was the reply, "there's certain memories attached to it. Do you see this big dent in my head? Well, it was made by that brick."

"But the rose?" said my friend.

"The host smiled quietly."

"The rose," he explained, "is off the grave of the man that threw the brick."

Best Known Cough Remedy

For forty-three years Dr. King's New Discovery has been known throughout the world as the most reliable cough remedy. Over three million bottles were used last year. Isn't this proof? It will get rid of your cough, or we will refund your money. J. J. Owens, of Allendale, S. C., writes the way hundreds of others have done: "After twenty years, I find that Dr.

King's New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and colds that I have ever used. For coughs or colds and all throat and lung troubles, it has no equal. 50c and $1.00 at Calvert's drug store. Adv.

An Editor's Trouble

The editor of the Bantertown Bugle has his troubles, that is his latest complaint. "Darned! if they don't expect more of an editor than of any other creature on earth. He must gather the news by wireless intuition—nobody tells him anything; must have his paper chuck full of interesting items whether or not any think happens. He must boost the town, give everybody the dickens about their short comings and short noses, and then expect everybody to love, respect and repay him. If some man's sow would give birth to a fine litter of green or brown pigs and the editor should fall to mention it, the man gets mad, stops his pipe without paying for it and looks rattlesnakes at the editor every time he sees him. It wouldn't be so bad if everybody appreciated and paid willingly the average subscriber appreciates nothing and pays the same amount. It's the most thankless occupation to be selected for."

Right For Once

Emily was a quaint old-fashioned maiden of 4 years. She pronounced all her words very distinctly, but occasionally misused them. Especially did the names of the meals confuse her, and she would speak of lunch in the morning or supper at noon with equal impartiality. One morning little Emily entered the dining room and gleefully announced that she was ready for supper. Her mother impatiently said: "Now Emily, this is ridiculous. You must learn the names of the meals! When you have been asleep all night, get up and dress, and come downstairs, what meal do you have then?" Emily solemnly and promptly replied: "Outrage, mamma."

A young man entered the president's office and stood first on one foot then on the other. He dropped his hat, handkerchief and umbrella. Altogether he was a highly developed case of nervousness.
