Why Use Profanity?

A profane person may not be the most pleasant study in the world, but at least he is the most interesting. A little observation of profane persons will lead to the conclusion that not one in ten who use profanity means to blaspheme the name of God. It is a habit born of weakness moral and mental. The utterance of a stream of oaths is a revelation of a great many things in a man's character besides irreverence. It shows a lack of depth, it speaks of carelessness, of loose or vulgar associations, of a lack of poise or dignity. Above all, it is a sign of weakness. Men who constantly and continuously use profanity cannot make a simple statement strong. Their own words sound flat to them because they realize there is nothing back of them. Then they have to resort to profanity as if to bolster up with oaths what they lack in native dignity and character.

Like every other such pernicious habit every resort that is had to it only makes more certain resort in the future. It would appear therefore, that profanity should be avoided, not only nor chiefly because it is a public admission of a lack of moral tone and a brand of incapacity.

Seaship Oysters only at Landa's Restaurant, 60c a quart.

The city has just put in two more first class concrete street crossings. One connecting the sidewalk in front of the Heiney Hotel with the walks in front of Mrs. J. W. McCarty's place. The other is on McCarty's avenue at the crossing in front of the Christian church. Both were badly needed.

A marvelous escape. "A little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of cramps. As Jack would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers.—Adv.

TO EMPLOYERS OF LABOR

The Workmen's Compensation Law, effective September 1st, abrogates your present defenses of "Fellow Servant's Negligence," "Assumed Risk" and "Contributory Negligence."

THE ACT IS ELECTIVE!

You can either take your chances with the above common law defenses abrogated and subject yourself to the verdicts of juries with disastrous results as these defenses will no longer be available, or

THOUSANDS WILL VISIT TEXAS ON WAY TO THE GREATEST OF WORLD'S EXPOSITIONS.

Huge Agricultural and Live Stock Displays a Part of Marvelous Universal Exposition in 1915

THE whole world is interested in the United States' great Panama-Pacific International Exposition, to be held in San Francisco in 1915. More than a year and a half before its opening the Exposition is assured as the greatest celebration in the history of the American people.

THE OFFICIAL EMBLEM OF THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION, SAN FRANCISCO, 1915.

Pacific coast will have low round trip rates. Undoubtedly hundreds of thousands of travelers will see Texas for the first time, and great numbers of them will take advantage of stopover privileges to see Texas either on their way to the Exposition or else upon the return trip.

From foreign lands will come multitudes to America for the first time. Twenty-seven of the world's great nations are preparing to make governmental displays, and from each foreign country delegates will attend to see the part their native land is taking at America's Panama exhibition.

The opening of the Panama canal marks a new epoch in the world's trade. The shifting of trade routes that have endured for centuries and the opening of new fields of commercial expansion to the nations of the earth are facts of world-wide importance.

In the world's history the greatest manufactures of the world will bring their wares and display them upon an elaborate scale at San Francisco. The United States is shortening the sea voyage between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts by 8,000 miles. It is providing markets in South America for the products of hundreds of thousands of farms, ranches, factories and great industrial plants in the United States. It is opening up to the profitable commerce of the European nations the Pacific coasts of North and South America and is rendering possible direct commerce between the coast and the Atlantic coasts of North, South and Central America. Every state, territory and colonial possession of the United States will share in our increased national prosperity. Every country in the world will profit. The nations of the world are preparing to participate in the Exposition upon a vast scale.

The Panama-Pacific International Exposition will be unlike any great world's exposition ever held. In the first place, it will not incorporate a past achievement, but one that is making history today and which holds out almost unlimited possibilities for the future. As the Exposition will be educational, all exhibits will be shown in action wherever practicable. It is planned among other exhibits to present the greatest displays ever made of the processes of cotton manufacture. The most modern cotton gins ever shown will be exhibited. The harvest exhibits in the world will be shown directly on the Exposition grounds from the ferry slips and thence be carried by train into the exhibit palaces.

Of particular interest to the citizens of Texas will be the wonderful live stock displays. These will, it is now known, surpass any ever made at the greatest of world's exhibitions. They will be comparable to the tremendous state fair at which are shown the most valuable prize winners from half a hundred states as well as from dozens of great foreign countries. Prize live stock from Holland, Belgium, England, the Argentine, China, France and other lands will be shown side by side with the greatest live stock animals of America. Texas, with its vast herds of range cattle and its thousands of head of high grade dairy stock, is in position to make a showing that will rival that of any part of the world.

To the west of the main exhibit buildings and immediately adjoining them will be the vast space reserved on the picturesque Presidio reservation for the great pavilions to be built by the foreign nations and by the different states. It seems certain that every state will be at the exposition, more than 22,000,000 having already been set aside for state exhibits.

The sum of $175,000 has been appropriated by the exposition management for prizes and premiums in live stock and $225,000 has been set aside for harness racing. An unusual feature of the live stock exhibit is that the cattle will be on exhibition during the entire course of the Exposition from February 20 to Dec. 4, 1915.

The Panama-Pacific International Exposition will represent an expenditure of many millions. According to a recent statement gathered from the comptroller of the Exposition, the total outlay for the big show on the day of its opening will be $88,000,000, and this will not represent the enormous amount represented in the exhibits of the world. Some of the exhibits will represent outlays of $250,000 to $300,000.

Along San Francisco Bay, from the famous Golden Gate, the entrance to the superb harbor of San Francisco, indeed, the buildings may be seen to best advantage by any one entering the Golden Gate. Even now a splendid idea of how the complete Exposition will appear at a distance may be gained from a view of some of the palaces now arising.

The tallest structure at Harbor View, the Exposition site, will be 425 feet. Around this will be grouped huge domes, minarets and towers, which from a distance of four or five miles will seem like the great domes of Constantinople, only upon a far greater and more impressive scale.

The center of the Exposition grounds will be devoted to the huge exhibit palaces in which exhibits from all parts of the world will be displayed. There will be about fourteen exhibit palaces covering a hundred acres. A single building, Machinery hall, will be 967 feet long, 807 feet wide and 135 feet high. This gives an idea of the huge size of the structures.

To the west of the main exhibit buildings and immediately adjoining them will be the vast space reserved on the picturesque Presidio reservation for the great pavilions to be built by the foreign nations and by the different states. It seems certain that every state will be at the exposition, more than 22,000,000 having already been set aside for state exhibits.

Oh, You Calomel, get out of the way and let LIV-ER-LAX do the work, purely vegetable, ask the Eagle Lake Drug Co. Rev. and Mrs. John Nickens left this week for Lockhart where they will make their future home.
