The Woolly Dog.
I had a little woolly dog,
And what do you think? One day
He barked his little head off;
But I liked him anyway.
He ran his little legs off,
Which made him rather lame,
And now he's wagged his tail off;
But I love him just the same.

Why I Attend Church.

It is sweet on a summer's morning, when the air is quivering with the love songs of the birds and fragrant with the odor of roses bloom, to hear the music of the churchgoing bells, an invitation to the world wearied to enter God's temple and find peace, because the instinct of worship is in the heart of man and the church is the temple of the living God.

I go to church because I find peace there, that peace which DeQuincy described as a resting from human labors, a Sabbath of repose, a respite granted from the secret burdens of the heart, as if I stood at a distance and aloof from the uproar of life; as if the tumult and fever and strife were suspended; as if there brooded over me a dovelike and hazy calm.

I go to church because I love the mighty roll of the great organ, mingled with the marvelous symphonies of that divine stringed instrument, the human voice, untwisting all the chains that tie the hidden soul of harmony.

I go to church because I delight to hear the teachings of the preacher, whose soul is dedicated to God, whose field is as wide as God's universe, whose theme is the destiny of man, and whose words are the oracles of Fate. Marvelous is the spell of the preacher to whom God has given genius and consecration and the power of illustration drawn from the old, sacred, immortal Book, and from the miracles of nature, no less revealed in the crimson-tipped flower turned up by the plowshare of Robert Burns upon the soil of Ayr than in the long ripples of the starry sky.

I go to church because "the way is dark and I am far from home," and because the church is the polar star to light my pathway in the rayless night.

I go to church because the church ministers not only to the spiritual but also to the material needs of life, and because it is there that the charities that soothe and heal and bless are scattered at the feet of man like flowers.

I go to church because in that atmosphere vice and crime wither and die.

I go to church because I hear the teachings of the philosophy of Jesus, the incomparable man; and if you say his teaching is philosophy and not religion and that he was a man and not a God, then the philosophy of that man has redeemed the world from savagery and blessed mankind with Christian civilization, and, to my mind, it is a thing worth while to hear.

I go to church because I find there consolation and hope; because I see there dawn and not the sunset; and it is better for man if the hope is baseless and the vision but an elusive phantom, to cherish a dream so glorious and beautiful than to be weighed down and crushed with the quarried mountains of a world without hope and without God.

METHODIST LADIES TO GIVE FANCY WORK SALE

The ladies of the Methodist church will give a fancy work bazaar in the Brosig building on Main Street adjoining the pool hall, on December 11th. The ladies are making great preparations for the event and will offer for Christmas gifts a profusion of dainty, pretty and useful articles in all kinds of fancy work. They ask that you visit their bazaar and make your selection of presents for the Christmas season.

The "I Kiss Not" Society.

There is a young lady living in Cincinnati, says the Chicago News, who wants all American women to join a society and wear a badge inscribed "I kiss not." Her name is Miss E. Jane Vance Ketchum. It is not at all safe to kiss, she says, and in a long interview insists that the practice is not only dangerous to morals, but highly detrimental to the physical health. Miss Ketchum succeeded in getting her picture in the papers. There is where she made a serious mistake, or the paper libels her. If the picture be a correct representation she certainly is safe. The danger against which she enveighs will never chase her around the corner. She is not giving up anything by dodging the kisser and pretending to be good. She does not need the protection of the police force of Cincinnati.

Miss Ketchum is a young woman of high degree of health and it is dollars to bignons, that she has not been kissed in ten years—or even offered one. But the mean part of the proposition of the "kiss not" advocate seems to be that this girl who cannot or will not get kissed wants to cut off the carmel and ice cream supply of all the handsome girls who can get kissed.

Jane will never induce the girls to forgo their pleasures, or scare the boys to carry around a bottle of carbolic acid and a sterilized swab with which to swat the measly microbe every time they snatch a bit of bliss. They prefer their kisses with all the bacilli trimmings. They are not afraid to take a fall out of all the germs that ever roosted upon a pair of rosy lips. What little there may be of the "no kiss" sentiment is not a very serious one.

Benjamin Franklin, the great American artist, used to say: "My Mother's Kiss made a painter of me." Levers will "kiss" till the cows come home"—and then some. Mothers will kiss their babies despite the microbe theory. Wives will kiss their husbands and women will kiss each other. "Come and kiss me, my son" said a 97-year-old mother to her 75-year-old son, and he did. "Grandma," asked one of her grandchildren, "how old does a woman have to be that she does not care to kiss those she loves?" "I do not know, dear," replied the grand old lady, "you will have to ask someone older than I am."

STRENGTH FOR OLD PEOPLE

A Simple Remedy Which Favors Longevity.

You act as though you just wondered how you are going to get through this trying season and do your work.

You may be overworked or have had a bad cold which has left you without strength, ambition or much interest in life; in fact you are all run-down.

Let us tell you that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, is just the remedy you need to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength.

A prominent Boston lawyer says: "My mother, who is 75 years of age, owes her good health to Vinol as since taking it she can walk farther and do more than she has for years. I consider it a wonderful blood making and strength creating tonic."

M. G. Calvert, Druggist, Eagle Lake, Texas.

A TRIED AND PROVED GUARANTEE

Man Bought a Bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, Then Took It Back and Asked for His Money and Got It.

A man recently tried out the guarantee which Calvert's drug store gives with every bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. He bought a bottle and then went back to the drug store and said the medicine hadn't helped him.

This druggist just reached into his cash register and took out a half dollar, the price of a bottle of Liver Tone, and handed it back to the gentleman. But he did not take the money. He owned up that he was just trying the guarantee and, as a matter of fact, he had found Dodson's Liver Tone the best remedy for constipation and biliousness he had ever tried.

"Why," he said, "my wife wouldn't be without a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. It's the best thing in the world for the whole family, and the medicine that I prefer to take or to give my children for a lazy liver." Calvert's drug store sells Dodson's Liver Tone and guarantees it to start the liver without violence. It is taking the place of calomel everywhere. If you buy a bottle and don't find this pleasant-tasting vegetable liquid the best thing to start a lazy liver, he will hand your money back with a smile.—Adv.
