sound and conservative city government.

Mr. W. A. Dallas, candidate for alderman on the Tax Payers' Ticket, is the popular proprietor of the handsome Hotel Dallas. He is an extensive property holder and tax payer in the city. That he is a progressive man and stands for progressive things, is proved in his private life by the handsome and modern brick hotel he has erected in Eagle Lake. When he makes such extensive improvements for himself, there is not a question but that he will stand for everything that means progress to the city government.

The gentlemen offering their names to the voters of Eagle Lake on the Tax Payers' Ticket, solicit your vote and your influence at the coming city election, promising just what this ticket says—a tax payers' administration, an administration for all things that tend to build up and improve Eagle Lake, yet this administration will be to hold down the rate in every way mark that we are high taxes, they are excellent reason for not to any town.

Pittsburg Gazette says, a man walked into the office of the Denton county editor the other day and paid up $10 worth of back subscription. Then he paid the man the money the editor sent the man home in a carriage. The man was drunk.

The Beeville Picayune pens the following prose poem: A maiden fair, with sun-kissed hair, came tripping down the street; her face serene, her age sixteen, gee whizz, but she was sweet. On the sidewalk sleek, she came down quick, with a jolt that shook her curls, but the words she used, must be excused—for she's one of the nicest girls.

The FACT

That the wealthy owner of property never allows his fire insurance to expire is a strong hint to the owner of a modest home, who could ill afford a loss, to be equally provident.

FIRE COMPANY ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Firemen Have Rousing Meeting Monday Night; Oyster Roast After Adjournment.

The members of the Eagle Lake Fire Department met in the city council rooms on Monday night, with several of the business men present, as their guests. President G. W. Keith called the meeting to order and after reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, the quizzing her social grace and fast was brought up and disclosed her chance of being wedded of getting the business to some good man. The modest, take a more active interest in home loving, girl is the one who welfare and future exist. When a girl runs after a boy she causes interesting talks were made. There is a proverb of Solomon's that applies: "Surely in vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird." To set an ordinary column of type requires 10,000 pieces of type in which there are seven positions each letter may be placed, and there are 70,000 chances to make errors, besides millions of chances for transposition. In the sentence "To be or not to be," by transposition alone it is possible to make 5,759,022 errors. After reading the above statement taken from a printer's magazine, do you wonder why you sometimes see an error in the newspaper?

Geo. Bailey, the gifted paragon on the Houston Post says: "An exchange notes that Col. Cole Younger, ex train robber, is on a lecturing tour of the country. Col. Cole is the only man history has yet recorded who had the nerve to rob his parents at the point of a gun and hear him tell how he put it over them. It gives us a suffocating desire to weep when we think that resourceful talent like his was entombed in the penitentiary for a quarter of a century."

The Headlight has been favored with a copy of "Claudella," a clever novel just off the press. It is written by Father Handly, one of the Paulist Fathers at St. Austin's, and is a novel with a purpose, a story of the University of Texas. Father Handly is working to build and equip a club house for Catholic students, and the story of "Claudella" describes some of the temptations of University life, and portrays with fidelity the importance of sincerity of character. The lessons the story teaches are just as valuable to the Protestant as to the Catholic and to the young people just beginning a college career they are bound to leave a fine impress.

Back somewhere along the line of years the parent lost control, and a boy is doing as he pleases while he is yet in knee pants, and a girl still in short dresses is virtually her own boss. Somewhere back along the years was a time when Popper should have used a razor strap on his young hopeful—and didn't, when Mommer should have laid daughter gently but firmly across a knee and admonished her with the sole of a slipper. But Mommer didn't. Mommer and Popper didn't wish to break the dear young thing's spirit and the youthful progeny learned right then they had Popper and Mommer on their run whenever they stamped their little feet and said "Boo!" Calendars

The Headlight acknowledges with thanks receipt of the following calendars: "Convincing Statement" from Mr. A. Townley. The calendar shows two girls rowing in boat on lake and pointing to a sign board of the Eagle-Lake Machine Shops.

Eagle Lake State Bank—An artistic Osborne Art Calendar in water colors, "Lilies of the Valley."

From Buckner Orphans Home in Dallas, a neat calendar bearing a likeness of Dr. Buckner, it being his "Eighty-first Birthday Greeting." "The days of our years are three score years and ten; and if by reason of strength they be four score years, yet these be but vanity."

First National Bank, a handsome Osborne Art Calendar in water colors, of a beautiful lake with wild ducks alighting just from their long flight. "Their Journey's End, Eagle Lake, Texas," reads the title line.

City Store, a pretty pictorial calendar, "Elizabeth," a beautiful woman, with the following verse:

New customs every season sends. But, though old time is fleeting, Old fashions change, yet old friends So here's the good old greeting.

From Manager F. Emshoff of the G. Hermann Furniture Company. "Now I Lay Me," a neat pictorial calendar, showing a little girl and little boy, in nightgown and pajamas, at the mother's knee in their good night prayer.

M. S. Ulery & Sons, Jewelers, a handsome Osborne Art Calendar in water colors, "Good Night Little Girl," showing a little girl in nightgown, looking her reflection in the mirror; with a "Happy New Year to You with Health and Success and Peace of Mind."

At What would the world be to us If children were no more? We should dread the desert behind us Worse than the dark before.

To the Eagle Lake Insurance Agency for a neat calendar with out picture, but with fine, large figures that can be read across the room.

To Manager C. K. Fuqua of the McMurry Lumber Company for a large 15x24 Osborne Art Calendar, "The Love Song," in water colors, one of the most handsome calendars of the season. It is a reproduction from the original painting by Nicholas P. Zarokilli. In "The Love Song" are seen two beautiful women of the type this artist loves to paint in the way he loves to paint them. The young women are true to life, not a suggestion of pose about them, both listening to the same air, but perhaps not thinking the same thoughts.

To Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Roberts we are indebted for decided, by the most handsome calendar we have seen for many seasons, entitled "Good Night, Sweetheart." 'Tis an Osborne Art Calendar 17x25, in beautiful water colors, showing a little girl most piteous things of modern civilization is the embarrassing struggle children have to maintain to govern their elders. Ever and anon some otherwise well subjected parent will become fractious and kick off the traces, even in this day of scientific management. It is a wise parent who knows the power of his own child; it is such who realize the futility of opposition, the inevitableness of defeat. Galveston News.

Best Cough Medicine for Children.

"I am very glad to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. Lida Dewey, Milwaukee, Wis. "I have used it for years both for my children and myself and it never fails to relieve and cure a cough or cold. No family with children should be without it as it gives almost immediate relief in case of croup." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a pleasant and safe to take, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

VINEYARD ANNOUNCES FOR CITY MARSHAL

H. S. Vineyard Opens Campaign And Announces Candidacy For City Marshal's Office.

In the Headlight's announcement column today will be found the name of Mr. H. S. Vineyard who announces as a candidate for the office of city marshal of the city of Eagle Lake, at the coming April city election. Mr. Vineyard's candidacy is, of course, subject to the action of the white man's primary, if there is a city primary held. Mr. Vineyard has had much experience as a peace officer, having for many years been deputy sheriff here, and city marshal for a number of years, resigning the marshal's office to become a candidate for sheriff at the county election two years ago. While in the capacity of both city marshal and deputy sheriff, Mr. Vineyard made a splendid officer, having made the arrests wherein three negroes were hung, on these cases displaying a keen detective ability. Mr. Vineyard states that now since the assessor and marshal's offices have been separated, he will be in a better position than ever to devote his full time to the marshal's office should he be elected. He asks your support and solicits your vote at the polls, promising, if elected, to fill the office to the very best of his ability.

LOCAL PASTOR MARRIED IN VIRGINIA SATURDAY

Pastor of the Eagle Lake Christian Church Married in Norfolk, Virginia, Last Saturday.

Rev. R. H. Jones, the popular pastor of the Christian Church, was married in Norfolk, Virginia, on last Saturday afternoon to Mrs. Ellen M. McGinniss of that city. Mr. Jones came to Eagle Lake six months ago from Norfolk since which time he has been pastor for the Christian church here. He is very popular with all the members of his congregation, as well as all the people of Eagle Lake. He is a fine preacher and a splendid Christian gentleman. The bride is a prominent worker in church affairs and an excellent musician, and will be a great help to him in his ministerial work. Mr. and Mrs. Jones are expected to arrive in Eagle Lake tomorrow. He has rented the former Mrs. T. J. Roberts home on Lake Avenue and State Street where they will be at home. Our heartfelt congratulations and very best wishes are extended.

WANTED—Feeder Hogs, 75 lbs up. G. E. BOOTHE.

A CARD.

Will you please insert in the next issue of your paper that the item appearing in the last issue of the Eagle Lake Headlight as to my prospective candidacy for the office of County School Superintendent is erroneous? I shall not be a candidate for this office unless Mr. Quinn declines to make the race. A correction will appear in the next issue of the Headlight, but I should like for you to make the correction, also. Yours truly, A. P. BOLTON.

The above from a recent issue of the Colorado Citizen would naturally lead one to believe that the Headlight manufactured the item referred to and was endeavoring to bring some one out against Mr. Quinn. In justice to itself, the Headlight will state that when Mr. Bolton informed its editor that he expected to become a candidate for County School Superintendent no word was said about Mr. Quinn's candidacy. He did, however, a week after the item had been printed, make the matter clear to us, and we made the proper correction in the last issue of this paper. As to the Headlight's attitude towards Mr. Quinn, we will make ourself clear on that subject. There is none but the friendliest of feeling existing between that gentleman and the Headlight. We printed the item of Mr. Bolton's candidacy merely as a news item, just as he told it to us, and furthermore, personally, the editor of this paper will favor Mr. Quinn if he offers for re-election; regardless of who may run against him.

Mr. Henry J. Lass, Colorado county's popular tax assessor, was here from Columbus on business Monday.

His Stomach Troubles Over. Mr. Dyspeptic, would you not like to feel that your stomach troubles were over, that you could eat any kind of food you desired without injury? That may seem so unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of trouble but permit us to assure you that it is not altogether impossible. If others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you?
