THE LITTLE BROWN CHURCH IN THE VALE

Some forty or fifty years ago a song known as "The Little Brown Church in the Vale" caught the popular fancy and literally went around the world. The president of the National Music Teachers' association belonging to a sturdy Scotch family, used to join heartily with his seven brothers in singing the song with no thought that any particular church was meant. Later he was astonished to learn that the veritable "Little Brown Church" was not far from his Iowa home.

It is a real church, a Congregational church, and is at Bradford in northern Iowa.

Some pioneers in northern Iowa met for worship in a log house for some time and finally organized a church. In 1850 Rev. J. K. Nutting became pastor and it was determined to erect a house of worship. This required much sacrifice, for all were poor and there was, actually, almost no money in circulation.

Those sturdy farmers made the frame from timber growing along the Cedar river. The boards for the siding and what hardware was used had to be hauled over corduroy roads and through swamps from McGregor, sixty miles away. The dedication was a great event. Many people drove forty miles to be present.

The church prospered and soon after Bradford academy was erected, so that the community became an educational and religious center. When the railroad came, it ran on the opposite side of the river. Nashua sprang up and gradually the people moved to the new town and Bradford disappeared from the map.

The academy building is going to decay, but sentiment has prompted the people to preserve "The Little Brown Church," and it is in a good state of repair.

Dr. W. S. Pitts was one of the pioneers that came under the influence of this church in the early days and he did more than any one else to make it known by his famous song.

In many of the conventions of the men and religion forward movement in the middle west this song was sung at nearly every session, and it bids fair to be come as popular as in former years, emphasizing as it does the fact that this new government is not outside the church but within it, and that among the most cherished memories of childhood is the recollection of going to church, often to a humble church in the country.—Congregationalist.

Resolutions of Respect in Death of J. J. Pinchback

Whereas, the Great and Supreme Ruler of the Universe has in His infinite wisdom removed from among us one of our most worthy and esteemed friends and associates, J. J. Pinchback, and whereas, the long and intimate relation held with him in the faithful discharge of his duties as a citizen makes it peculiarly befitting that we record our appreciation of him; therefore

Be it resolved, That the wisdom and ability which he has exercised in his transaction toward mankind, and his kindly and generous counsel will ever be held in grateful remembrance; and

Be it resolved, That the sudden removal of such a life from our midst leaves a vacancy and casts a shadow that will be deeply felt and realized by all who knew him, and will prove a serious loss to the community and the public at large.

Be it resolved, That with deep sympathy with the bereaved relatives of the deceased we express our hope that even so great a loss to us all may be overruled for good by Him who doeth all things well;

Be it resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Garwood State Bank of which deceased was president, and a copy be published in each of the county newspapers, and also a copy be forwarded to the bereaved families.

Respectfully submitted:

A WONDERFUL HEALING INFLUENCE IN KIDNEY TROUBLES.

A year and a half ago I was laid up with a severe attack of kidney trouble that pinned me to such an extent that morphine had to be given me. Was attended by a doctor who pronounced it as Stone in the bladder and prescribed Lithia Water. I took Lithia Water and Tablets for some time. I stopped taking medicine for some time, later having some Swamp-Root in the house I decided to try it and felt much relieved. While taking the second bottle commenced to pass Gravel in urine until I had passed in all at least a half dozen or more and have not suffered the slightest since—and in all have taken one bottle and a half and feel very grateful to Swamp-Root. Yours very truly,

H. W. Spinks,

What Jones Did.

Jones rambled into the village cigar store one evening and in response to a question as to what made him look so wild-eyed, told of an adventure he has just had.

"I was coming through that deep, dark woods down below Taylor's farm," said Jones in a voice that still palpitated, "when I saw the dusky forms of two men stealthily crawling through the woods toward me. One of them had a pistol in his hand and the other had—"

"Gee whiz!" interjected one of the cigar store crowd. "What in the deuce did you do?"

"What did I do?" responded Jones, with some emphasis. "Why I did three miles in just about four minutes!"—Ex.
