They Say—

It is usually safe to judge a man by his manners. The slanderous tongue is only silenced by silence. Cheap advice is apt to be dear if you act upon it. A kicker seldom makes good in a business of his own. Only the office without a salary has to seek the man. Tokens of the future are always buried in the past. You can buy a Cream Separator or on monthly payments of the Pierce Hardware Co.

Good Business.

A successful business man submits the following as the "Notes" and "Buts" of good business as he sees good business: Not long-faced hard-luck stories but red-blood optimism. Not surrender to conditions, but greater effort to win. Not graft, but service. Not bluff, but truth. Not arrogance, but courtesy. Not cut-prices, but better values. Not war, but co-operation. Not get-rich quick returns, but a fair profit. Not our advantage only, but mutual satisfaction. Not some future time, but right now—Ex.

Seeking Information.

A bucolic individual paused the other day before a newstand and to the proprietor thereof put the following questions: "Bigen in town long?" "Quite a while," said the vendor of news. "Know a man name Collins—Joseph Collins?" "No." "Sure?" "Say," exclaimed the newsman, testily, "there are 3,000,000 people in Chicago. Do you expect me to know every man in the city?" "No," said the rural one, "but I thought you might have sense enough to know one."

How Mother Was Guilty.

Gerald had been spending the Christmas season with his aunt, and when he returned home his mother said: "Gerald, I hope you were a good little boy while you were at Aunt Louise's house, and didn't tell any stories." "I only told her the one you put me up to," said Gerald. "I put you up to? Why what on earth do you mean?" cried the surprised lady. "Why, when she asked me to have more turkey I said, 'No, thank you, I've had enough.'"

To the Housewife.

Madam, if your husband is like most men he expects you to look after the health of yourself and children. Coughs and colds are the most common of the minor ailments and are most likely to lead to serious diseases. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when it has a cold. If you will inquire into the merits of the various remedies that are recommended for coughs and colds, you will find that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy stands in the estimation of people who use it. It is prompt and effectual, pleasant and safe to take, which are qualities especially to be desired when a medicine is intended for children. For sale by all druggists.

You can't tell what a man knows by what he doesn't say.

"I think the baby has your hair, ma'am," said the new nurse girl, looking pleasantly at her mistress. "Gracious!" exclaimed the lady, glancing up from the novel. "Run into the nursery and take it away from her. She will ruin it."

Rheumatism

Just put a few drops of Sloan's on the painful spot and the pain stops. It is really wonderful how quickly Sloan's acts. No need to rub it in—laid on lightly it penetrates to the bone and brings relief at once. Kills rheumatic pain instantly.

Mr. James E. Alexander, of North Platte, Neb., writes: "Many a time in my back and hips brought on rheumatism in the winter. I had it so bad one night when sitting in my chair, that I had to jump on my feet to get relief. I at once applied your Liniment to the affected part and in less than ten minutes it was perfectly cured. I think it is the best of all Liniments I have ever used."

Tattooing.

Did you ever tat? Do you know what tattooing is? Tattooing is the art of tangling up thread in a long, continuous strip and in such a manner that it will not unravel. This is accomplished with some thread, a sort of shuttle-bobbin affair, and a lot of time. A nickel's worth of thread is sufficient to kill several hours time—even days, if you are just learning—and passing time is, of course, the object of tattooing. Embroidering and crocheting are still used as excuses for afternoon teas by old-fashioned ladies, but the younger set this year will demand that tattooing be the diversion at such functions.

Many a family tie has been strained almost to the breaking point because friend husband could not at first see the beauty in a yard of this new art. Of course, it looks different after the Mrs. explains that it has taken two hours of hard work to produce three inches of it, but he secretly feels that he could have wasted just as much thread in much less time. There's consolation in a man having a right to his own opinion in such matters, even though he has to keep them to himself.

As a preventive of housework, tattooing has everything skinned that has been invented to give this protection to our daughters. The piano or a novel isn't in it with tattooing. What has a girl to show after an hour at the piano? What remains after a story is read? With tattooing, she gets tagible and tangled results. And, then, the art is so fascinating! A girl absorbed in her tattooing does not worry and become nervous about her mother, less absorbed and less fascinated in the kitchen. It is said that a good-looking young man is the only thing that can induce a good-looking young girl to forget her tattooing—that is, while the housework is going on. Of course, after the mother has finished this, the daughter's mad desire to complete her piece is considerably abated.

Headlight Bargain Day—April 3rd.

An Honest Man Found at Last.

Our old friend Diogenes spent lots of good time and burned much oil carrying a lantern around looking for an honest man, but Diogenes lived too early in the world's history. He came into the world before the honesty of man was fully developed. The reason for our contention is that a man by the name of Haley has been discovered in Hazlehurst, Miss., who refused to accept damages from a railroad when he was knocked down by a passenger train recently. The claim agent offered to settle with him immediately, but the man, saying the accident was his own fault, spurned the proffered cash. —McKinney Courier-Gazette.
