Then and Now.

The old-fashioned woman's idea of resting was to change her work. She sat down to darn stockings and rest, or she got her Bible lesson, or nursed her baby, or knit winter socks while she rested. Resting was getting off her feet. Today a woman has to buy herself 20 kimonas and caps and go to an expensive sanitarium and have a trained nurse give her the milk cure, to rest up.—Ex.

WHAT LOVE IS!

"Love," writes the editor of an eastern paper, "is at first an illusion and then a delusion." We can't just remember who this editor is nor in what paper the quotation appeared, but we'll bet our Sunday-go-to-meetin' boiled shirt that he walks backwards and that instead of gold red blood there flows through his veins the sourest of vinegar.

Probably somewhere back in his purple, palpitating past there was a girl who passed him by and married the other fellow and ever since the carking canker of crabbedness has been eating away at that which once beat as his heart.

Love is a delusion. By all the golden, sunny ringlets on the brow of Cupid; by all the sweet lips that ever puckered into a rosebud to receive the kiss of a lover, we swear that love is no delusion.

Does a delusion make the world go 'round? Is the blue sky an illusion?

Is it an illusion when our cardiac pumping station goes all a flutter at the soft-whispered words of the sweetest girl God ever made?

Is it all an illusion when we thrill in every nerve if a tiny, soft, velvety hand chances to linger, just for an instant, in ours, as we look into a pair of eyes whose limpid depths make the profundity of the ocean seem shallow as a mud-puddle?

Is it an illusion when the very marrow in our spinal column freezes if we hear that THE girl has a date with another fellow.

Is it an illusion when she buries her face behind the lapel of our coat, shyly nods her little head and answers "yes" when we ask her the greatest question in the world? Is it? IS it? We should say NOT! Love is the concentrated essence of goodness, sprinkled up on the tender petals of a crystallized violet. It comes skyhooking down from the high heavens on a mellow moonbeam, entwines its silken tendrils about your fluttering heart until your breath comes in short, quick, ecstatic gasps and your soul just seems to float away on a billow of seafoam to the Island of Rosebuds and Orange Blossoms.

"Love is an illusion?" It is NOT. And believe us, we know.

We've tried it often enough.

Going to Church.

We forget that in the click of our boot heels as we go to church Sunday after Sunday and to prayer meeting after prayer meeting there is a praise that the world does not miss altogether. When a second piccolo away back in the rear seat of the orchestra stopped playing, the leader looked up surprised, beat the music rack with his baton, and demanded: "Second piccolo, what's the matter with you?" The player had simply grown tired and thought that his stopping would not be noticed. It is when a steady churchgoer stops going—thinks he is "entitled to a rest"—that everybody notices it. His absence is conspicuous.—Ex.

How it Read.

At a recent wedding the bride was Miss Jane Helper and the bridegroom was Mr. Newton Lord. The bridegroom, however, was very angry when he saw in the newspaper an account of their wedding, headed in the usual way: "Lord-Helper."

In a Different Light.

A Kentucky blacksmith was elected justice of the peace. The first case he tried was litigation involving the ownership of a cow. The lawyers on both sides were young, ambitious and eloquent.

The lawyer for the plaintiff spoke for half an hour in his best vein. When he sat down the new justice said:

"I've heard enough—plaintiff wins."

The lawyer for the other side protested that he had something to say, too, and that it was unfair to render a judgment until both parties to the action had been heard.

"Go ahead and talk if you want to," said his honor, "but my mind's fully made up."

The young lawyer went ahead for an hour. He was a better orator even than his smiling and triumphant adversary. In his remarks on the cow he introduced, among other topics, the bonny blue flag and the old Kentucky home. When he sat down the new justice said:

"Well, now, don't that beat all? Defense wins."—Chicago Ledger.

Worth The Money.

"Ma, what are the folks in our church gettin' up a subscription for?"

"To send our minister on a vacation to Europe."

"Won't there be no church services while he's gone?"

"No, dear."

"Ma, I got one dollar and twenty-three cents in my bank. Can I give that?"—Holland's Magazine.

The Donkey Club.

A minister in a nearby town a few Sundays ago surprised his audience by reading the following announcement: "The regular session of the Donkey club will be held as usual at the close of the service. Members will line up just outside the church door, and make remarks and stare at the ladies as they pass, as is the custom. Any member known to escort a lady to church and sit with her like a gentleman will be expelled from the Donkey club." The application was to the point and the effect was marvelous.—Ex.

Good and Bad.

It is not necessary to abide all the landlords in order to help the tenants. There are good landlords and bad landlords, good tenants and bad tenants. They depend largely upon each other for their prosperity. The person who seeks to embitter and array them against each other cannot be a very good friend of either, and is quite sure to do both more harm than good.—Dallas News.

SIE GRISMON CLEARED BY JURY IN COURT AT SINTON

City Marshal H. S. Vineyard returned Wednesday afternoon from Sinton where he had been to attend the trial of Sie Grissom, the negro who arrested and held Albert Varner, negro, wanted for assault upon a white woman, and turned him over to the officers of this county several years ago. Grissom, who is a Wharton county negro, went to Sinton last fall to pick cotton, where he got into trouble with another negro name Diamond, a relative of the Varner negro, who was legally hanged at Seguin. Grissom killed the negro and was tried at Sinton this week for the offense, being cleared by the jury.

For the Stomach and Liver. I. N. Stuart, West Webster, N. Y., writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Tablets for disorders of the stomach and liver off and on for the past five years, and it affords me pleasure to state that I have found them to be just as represented. They are mild in their action and the results have been satisfactory. I value them highly." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

BULL DOGS FIGHT TO DEATH ON STREETS OF WEIMAR

A fight to the death between two bull dogs owned by H. J. Insall and J. O. Boettcher took place a few days ago in this city. The animals met by accident, and the fight, they had was a vicious one, lasting until the Boettcher dog was killed. The Insall dog was very severely injured.—Weimar Mercury.

EXPERT DANCERS COMING HERE FOR EASTER BALL

Among the out-of-town guests that will be at the Easter picnic dance will be Mr. and Mrs. Samuels of Louisville, Kentucky, who are now demonstrating all the latest dances at the Galvez Hotel and Elks' Hall in Galveston. No doubt many will attend the dance here merely to see these people who have a wide reputation as demonstrators of classical and modern dances. We understand that an effort will be made to have Mr. and Mrs. Samuels open a dancing school in Eagle Lake later in the season.

Diamond Jim's Success Rules.

Keep away from bad company and never use the word "if." These are the two principal rules for success in life according to "Diamond Jim" Brady, known as the world's greatest salesman. Asked for his rules in New York the other day, Brady gave them as follows:

Keep good company and never use the word "if."

Let your thoughts, even for your enemies, be good.

Always give the other fellow credit for knowing, not only as much, but more than you.

Clothes are the greatest bluff. A good coat hung on a weak backbone means nothing.

Save a certain amount each year, no matter how small.

April 3rd will be Bargain Day at the Headlight Office. On this day you can get the Headlight one year $1.00 or six years for $5.00. If you are already paid up it will be to your advantage to pay up for a few years in advance.

POTATO PRICE PROSPECT NOT VERY ENCOURAGING

Trace growers and farmers generally were given warning this week by the federal department of agriculture at Washington against planting a large acreage of early potatoes. Attention was directed to the report that a larger supply of northern grown potatoes was in the hands of growers and dealers on January first, this year, than the year previous, and that the price now is about thirty-three percent lower than at the same time a year ago.

As It Appeared in the Paper.

Printers play thunder with the peace of communities occasionally and make an editor wish he was doing service in the European war trenches instead of in his dingy editorial den. An exchange now on our desk gives a fair sample of the horrors. Making notice of the meeting of a ladies aid society, the editor wrote: "The hostess, in her usual charming manner, served refreshments consisting of sandwiches and hot tea," but the printer made it read like this: "The hostess, in her usual charming manner, served refreshments consisting of sand, witches and hot tea."

Man Takes His Own Medicine Is An Optimist.

He has absolute faith in his medicine—he knows when he takes it for a certain ailment he gets relief. People who take Dr. King's New Discovery for an irritating cold are optimists—they know this quick remedy will penetrate the linings of the throat, kill the germs, and open the way for Nature to act. You can't destroy a cold by superficial treatment. You must go to the cause of the trouble. Be an optimist. Get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery today.

MESSRS. STEPHENS' BROTHER DIED AT GREENVILLE, TENN.

Our sympathy goes out to Messrs. Frank and Fox Stephens in the death of their brother, Mr. Sam Stephens, who died at his home in Greenville, Tennessee, Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. A message was received here Friday announcing Mr. Stephens' sudden illness. Mr. and Mrs. Fox Stephens left Saturday morning for Tennessee, arriving there just a few hours after their relative's death.

WHERE HONEST BILL IS SHOWING THESE DAYS

A letter received from Mr. W. M. Newton, manager of Honest Bill's show, written from Leander on the 15th, gives the following route for the show. At Llano on March 20th, Castell, on the 22nd, Picheville on the 23rd, Mason on the 24th, Katerney on the 25th, Camp San Saba on the 27th, Brady on the 29th, Rochelle on the 30th, Mercury on the 31st, Brooksmith on April 1st, Bangs on the 2nd and Santa Anna on the 3rd.

Neutrality law is certainly a queer proposition. It prohibits an officer of one of the belligerents from leaving this country to join his regiment, but does not prohibit the shipment of trainloads of shrapnel to enable one of the belligerents to murder the soldiers of another belligerent. Yes, it is a queer proposition.—Yokum Times.

Mr. F. C. Schaffner, a prominent real estate dealer of Sealy, was here a few hours on business Monday.

Judge W. S. Strickland was a business visitor to Wharton Tuesday.

Nervous?

Mrs. Walter Vincent, of Pleasant Hill, N. C., writes: "For three summers I suffered from nervousness, dreadful pains in my back and sides, and weak sinking spells. Three bottles of Cardui, the woman's tonic, relieved me entirely. I feel like another person, now."
