The collections cover all periods of Texas history, from the earliest days of the Spanish missionaries in the province of Texas, through the colonial era to the present. This series of articles presents interesting excerpts from a number of these family collections, some chosen for their intrinsic significance in the development of the empire of Texas, others for their rare human interest in portraying personalities, economic conditions and social intercourse.)

EAGLE LAKE HEADLIGHT, EAGLE LAKE, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 26, 1935

The letters and official documents Barry preserved, which are now deposited in the family archives division of the University of Texas library, touch all phases of his career. Among these papers are many which deal with Indian affairs. Barry was in charge of Company C, at Camp Cooper, and the letters he received from his superiors with regard to treatment of the Indians indicate the necessity for remaining on friendly terms with the red men and at the same time protecting the whites from their depredations.

On June 18, 1861, Barry was instructed in Special Orders No. 43, issued by Col. H. E. McCulloch, to extend to the Plains at the head of the Colorado River.

Company C, commanded by Capt. James B. Barry, will continue at Camp Cooper, Capt. Barry's command that Gulf will further orders.

This company will cover the country from its Post to the Wilcox Springs on the road to the Camp on Red River and will keep a detachment of 20 men under a Lieutenant on a branch at or near the road, 2 or 3 miles beyond the Camp. Barry is to be relieved by similar detachments every two weeks if practicable and will keep up weekly reports in small parties from the Post to that detachment by starting the scouts on each Friday morning, directing them to meet the detachment certainly on the next day. The detachment will send a scout on to the Wilcox Springs Sunday so as to meet, and spend each Sunday night at that place with the scouts from the Red River.

This company will also send out such larger scouts above (from North, West, to North-East) this Post to its commander may think proper in order to keep the Indians out of its country and chastise any that may be found in it. It will also furnish escorts to all wagons or trains passing to and from the station on Red River and Camp Colorado as far as the first Camp of detachment on each side of them, directing the troops stationed at these points to send escorts on to the next Camps so that every wagon or train passing with supplies for the Indians may be properly guarded against Indians. This company will co-operate with the companies at Camp Colorado, Phantom Hill and Red River in pursuing Indians under a call from the commanding officer of any one of these posts, and when thrown with any other troops, the senior officer will command.

In a communication from Colonel McCulloch on September 12, Captain Barry was ordered to keep his men within a restricted territory unless the trail of offending Indians led further. In which case they were to follow unhesitatingly.

You will confine your scouting parties to the Country this side of Red River, unless they follow the trails of Indians who have committed depredations upon our people, then they will never leave the trail. Barry was methodical enough to keep his military papers and his diary post order book; his diary covering several years prior to the Civil War, and his official and personal correspondence. When he died, December, 1866, at his home in Walnut Springs, he left all his papers to his son, Kenneth Barry. This son several years ago presented these papers to the archives of The University of Texas.

In the introduction to Barry's memoirs, entitled "Buck Barry," James K. Greer said of him: "As a Ranger with Hays he met the Mexican, as a sheriff he encountered outlaws, as a frontiersman he fought Indians, as a stock farmer he was the Nemesis of horse thieves, as a ranchman he experienced the annoyance of fence cutting, as a Texas and southern soldier he saw four years of the most grueling of the most unendurable of military service. On the other hand, he served as a faithful, civil officer, legislator, and village postmaster. For did life in the great period of adventure before, during, and after the Civil War prevented his frequent attendance at the services of the circuit rider and the occasional camp meeting in his section of the State. No writer of western stories has created better fiction of adventure than this quiet, unassuming, early settler lived."

"The Commanders of the troops at the different Stations will cause the following Expeditions to be made in accordance with the subjoined instructions:

"An Expedition against the Indians will be made from Fort Belknap, with not less than fifty men, and two Commissioned Officers, to the Plains, at the head of Peaskee, where it will be made from Fort Belknap, on or about the 2nd day of February next.

"An Expedition against the Indians will be made from Camp Cooper commencing on the 15th day of February next to the Plains on the head of Big Wichita River, then by way of the head of Main or North Park of Braas River to Camp Cooper. The Command will consist of 40 men, two Commissioned Officers and two Commissioned Officers.

"A Scout will also be made from Camp Colorado to the Plains, at the head of the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos, commencing on the 15th day of February next, with as great a number as the condition of the Command will allow.

"The Expedition from Fort Chabourne will be of such numbers as the Commanding Officer may find consistent with the condition of the animals at his Post, will leave the Post on the 15th day of February next, to extend to the Plains, at the head of the Colorado River.

Put Gulf "on trial"
Tried Gulf gas lately? If not, Put it "on trial" in your car for the next 3 weeks. Then see if you don't agree with this fair member of the Gulf "jury."

750 "Jurors"
750 car owners recently served as jurors in a "trial" of That Good Gulf Gasoline.

They drove it for 3 weeks—compared it with their regular brands on (1) mileage (2) starting (3) pick-up (4) power (5) all-around performance.

Verdict—Gulf!
At the end of the trial, 7 out of 10 voted for Gulf on one or more of the following points:

Why? Because Gulf is a good gasoline in one. Controlled refining gives it one merely 2 or 3 ideal gas qualities—but all five.

Try Gulf 3 weeks. We'll bet your regular gas from then on! GULF REFINING COMPANY

Bob Keith, J. C. Stewart, night operator for the Sunset, and Mason McCarty, left the first of the week for Del Rio. From that place they went by special conveyance to the Devil River where they are spending a month, camping, fishing and hunting. With the latest vote ever polled in Texas, the anti-slavery vote was the small margin of 6491. The state vote was: For prohibition, 231,661; against prohibition, 227,652. The anti-slavery vote was 1160. The county vote was: For prohibition, 602; against, 1859. Columbus voted 132 for, 210 against; Weimar, 122 for, 241 against; Pinedale, 100 for, 141 against; Bernardo 1 for, 132 against; Eagle Lake, 176 for, 306 against. The following announcements have been received in Eagle Lake: "Mr. Henry Cord, Miss Annie Prazar, married, Sunday, July 16th, 1911. Menz Text at home, 4111 Ave. F. Hyde Park, Austin, Texas." "Mr. J. C. Pinchback and Miss Ada Griffiths, both popular young people of Garwood, drove to this city Sunday and were married at the Catholic church in Nida Tuesday, July 25th. The wedding was very largely attended. Both are universally popular and many friends extend congratulations and good wishes. "Wirt G. BOYS GET POSSESSION OF $20,000 TREASURE FIND
Two poor 16-year-old boys, one of whom now lives with his mother on a $5.00 a week relief check, found a $20,000 treasure in a buried treasure.

For Mrs. Beattie Jones and her son, who found the treasure, the money was divided. Mrs. Jones went to the home of a neighbor to talk it over. "Now we can get out of that house," she said. "I'm scared of that house. There's been a lot of bad things about this money, and a lot of people have been prowling around."

Theodore occurred in the plan to buy a home. He would also like to have a new suit and his bicycle painted. But he wishes people would quit bothering him about the money.

WAR BABIES OF 1935

France contemplates a new crop of cannon fodder and finds it good. "The morose of the army is magnificent." It is the army of the war babies. The 120,000 recruits who recently responded to the call to the colors were born to the sound of the guns roaring along the western front. They were the children of the war to end war. Now there is a fair in France that they, in turn, are to become fodder for cannon.

As human recruits are mustered, are the best guns France has. The new and mighty fortifications facing Germany. The youngsters who are now to do the uniform will be sent to replace the veterans in these works. The war babies of France gather to meet the challenge hurled across the Rhine when Germany discarded the mask and the same shall become due and payable, the entire indebtedness secured by the
