HILLJE DEFEATS NADA IN COTTON BELT LEAGUE

The Nada Sluggers were defeated Sunday in their first game of the season by the strong Hillje club, both teams playing in the recently formed Wharton County Cotton Belt League.

But few of the boys have played since last season, though Lou Labay and Bennie Krenek both chalked up home runs for the Nada club. Costly errors in the early innings of the game gave Hillje an 8-0 lead which Nada was unable to overcome in a later rally.

Next Sunday Danevang comes to Nada for a game. Danevang is bringing a strong club, and since the Nada boys have been putting in hard practice this week a fine exhibition of ball playing is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Smith of Austin spent Sunday here visiting their daughter, Mrs. Buster Brisbois.

area, and no doubt his untiring efforts are deeply appreciated by the people of that section. He has built up a school system in Garwood that is the envy of towns many times its size. Nothing so builds and improves a community as an adequate system of schools. Mr. Marshall, several years ago, looking into the future—saw the urgent need of more adequate school facilities for the town. Backed by a school board that puts education at the top in the success of a community, he dreamed of a modern school building for the little town in which he has cast his lot, and where he has accomplished so much for school interests. And today full crews of bricklayers and workmen are rushing work on this dream building of Supt. Marshall, and they feel that with favorable summer weather this handsome building will be completed and ready for the opening of Garwood's fall term of school.

Mr. Marshall deserves a great deal of credit for his work at Garwood. He has worked hard and faithfully for his accomplishment, and the Headlight feels sure that the people of that section deeply appreciate his efforts and rejoice with him in his successful efforts—soon the realization of a modern school building—a building that will be a credit not only to Garwood but to all of Colorado county; a building that will prove one of that town's chiefest assets toward a bigger and better Garwood.

CLERGYMAN AND TWO BOYS HOME FROM CAMP

The Headlight office yesterday received a visit from the Rev. Gresham Marmion, pastor of the local Episcopal Church, who has just returned from Camp Allen, the summer camp of the Episcopal Church of this Diocese. Franklin Reese and James Ray Thomas returned to the city last Monday.

Mr. Marmion reports that this year's camp was one of the best with which he has been connected. There was a fine group of boys who entered into the spirit of the camp in a splendid way. The ideals of fair play and cooperation and sportsmanship are given a major place in the philosophy of activities of Camp Allen.

The success of the Camp was due in a large measure to the fine staff which assisted Mr. Marmion in the work of running the camp. Indian bead-work and leathercraft added much to the camp. Both of these hobbies were well received by the boys and practically every boy in camp participated in one or both.

Among the highlights of the two weeks the boys spent at camp, was the trip to the San Jacinto battle grounds to hear President Roosevelt. The boys rode part of the way to the battle grounds and hiked the rest.

Mr. Marmion says that he is looking for a prescription for getting boys to go to sleep after a hard day of activities. He thinks the staff will be able to do better work if they can get some rest.

MR. CARTER SAYS SAN DIEGO EXPOSITION GREAY

"En route to Honolulu we are enjoying a stop-over in San Diego and are taking in the exposition, which is in its second successful season," writes Mr. J. W. Carter of Bonus.

"I just want to pass the word to home friends," he says, "that it would be a great mistake to pass this up if they are coming west. In fact I think it is worth a trip to the coast. The setting makes the exposition worth seeing, no matter how many one may have seen before."

"Tropical trees, masses and miles of flowers, fountains, lily lagoons, plazas, reflecting pools, lawns, these furnish the background for the Spanish colonial exhibit palaces. The place is drenched in sunlight, but cooled by sea breezes. At night myriads of revolving concealed lights paint the scene in sunset hues—the effect is like a fairyland come true—one never knows when to go home!"

"The spaciousness and beauty here makes one relax and enjoy what there is to see—and there is plenty to see, for music, exhibits and entertainment measure up. So see this if you can," Mr. Carter concludes.

CANDIDATE FOR STATE TREASURER VISITOR HERE

Garland Adair, veteran Texas newspaper man and originator of the Texas Centennial coin, was a visitor here Friday in the interest of his campaign for state treasurer. A member of the Texas Press, a former University of Texas student and a Legionnaire, he is not altogether a stranger in this section.

Mr. Adair while here exhibited the pens used by President Roosevelt, vice president John Garner and Governor Alfred in signing the Texas Centennial Bill. The pens were given him, since he is known as the founder of the Texas Memorial Museum. He has served four years as chairman of the American Legion Texas Centennial committee.

Accompanying him here were Arthur Hartman of Brenham and Garland Adair Jr.

In commenting on his race, Mr. Adair said: "I am making the campaign in my own merits and not on the demerits of anyone who opposes me."

GARWOOD SUPERINTENDENT DRAFTED AS FARM SPEAKER

A signal came to Supt. E. G. Marshall of Garwood this week when he was made a speaker for the Democratic Agricultural Committee.

Mr. Marshall has been asked to assist the committee in discussing the agricultural problems of farmers. Where and when he will be called on to make these addresses in behalf of improved farm conditions through the Democratic party, Mr. Marshall does not know.
