MOTHER DOE FORCES MAN TO PUT IT IN HIGH GEAR
You can't tell Ebb Oakes of Al-tair that a mother does won't put up a fight. Elmo Werla of Altair tells the Headlight that during the early spring, Mr. Oakes, while in the woods near Altair, found two tiny fawns. He was examining them. He wanted to see whether they were boys or girls. One was a doe. He put the little fawn down, and picked up the other—it was a buck.
And just about that time the old mother had discovered the visitor.
She came out of the brush like a mad bull. Every hair was bristled like a porcupine. Mr. Oakes said, as she made for him.
"What did you do?" Mr. Oakes was asked. "Why, I just dropped that little buck and outran the old doe, that's all."
HOSPITALITY RHYME
So many people have asked for copies of the following rather notable expression of the spirit of hospitality, which hangs in a Chicago tea room, that the management has had copies printed for distribution.
"Hail Guest! We ask not what thou art—If friend greet thee hand and heart;
If stranger, such no longer be;
If foe, our love shall conquer thee."
Mr. Herbert Campbell, of Erie, Kansas, is here for a visit to the family of his brother, W. S. Campbell. Having visited the Eagle Lake school on previous occasions, Mr.
Campbell has many friends in this section who are mighty glad to see him again.
