THE JOKESMITH

Some few made, mostly stolen, some merely borrowed. If you run across a good one, mail it to us.

"If you get an education, you can become prosperous if you marry a rich woman."

—o—

Artist—Dearest, I would like to do you in oils.

She—Oh, do you take me for a sardine?

"There's not much wasted on bananas, is there?"

"No; even the skins make good slippers!"

—o—

English Teacher—Name a collective noun.

Student—Garbage can.

—o—

"Father, why is Victory always pictured as a woman?"

"Wait, my son, until you get married, then you will find out."

—o—

Lola: "Which do you think a girl should marry for, love or money?"

Lena: "It doesn't matter. She is likely to get fooled either way."

—o—

John: "My brother thinks a football coach has four wheels."

Albert: "Ha! Ha! And how many wheels has the bally thing?"

—o—

Officer: "Sir, you must accompany me."

Drunken Banjoist: "Allri; what are yo going' to shing?"

—o—

First Gossip—"They say every cent her husband makes goes on her back."

Second Gossip—"Well, he must be out of work judging by what she had on at our club party last night."

—o—

Stingo: "I wonder why people call it the Almighty Dollar?"

Goober: "Because it is so almighty hard to get, I suppose."

—o—

Hear: Would you scream if I should kiss you?"

She: "Of course. But I don't suppose it would do any good because there is nobody home."

—o—

Office Manager (to new office boy): "Has the stenographer told you what to do in the afternoon?"

New Boy: "Yes, sir; I was to wake her up when I saw you coming."

—o—

Matthew—Where are you going with that little shovel?

Michael—Going to bury my past.

Matthew—Man, you need a steam shovel.

—o—

Mother—"Frankie, what would you like for your birthday?"

Son—"A telephone—then I can answer teacher's questions without going to school."

—o—

Hungry Customer: "One roast beef sandwich."

Polite Waiter: "Will you eat it here or take it with you?"

Customer: "I hope to do both."

—o—

Doris—When my husband saw me yesterday in this new bathing suit, he went away roaring mad!

Jane—The idea of making a fuss over so little!

—o—

"Doctor, is there anything wrong with me?"

"Yes, but it's trifling."

"Oh, I don't think that's so very wrong, is it?"

—o—

Neighbor—What was all the yelling about over at your house?

Small Boy—Daddy had a cold and mamma was trying to put an old-fashioned mustard plaster on him.

—o—

She: "If you try to kiss me, I shall scream."

He: "Not with all those people about, surely."

She: "Let's find a quieter spot, then."

—o—

Wife (at the trains): "Oh, dear! I knew I would forget something. I forgot my bathing suit."

Hubby: "Don't worry, dear. I'll put it in a letter and mail it to you right away."

—o—

"Are you a clock watcher?" a prospective employer demanded.

"No, sir," the applicant answered. "I like outdoor work; I guess you would call me a whistle listener."

—o—

Young Bride—I want a pound of tea, please.

Grocer—Black or green?

Young Bride—It doesn't matter; my husband is color-blind.

—o—

Physician—Good gracious! I don't see how you managed to travel four miles back to camp with such a badly sprained ankle.

Pawdust—You would if you could see the big bear I saw.

—o—

Wife—The doctor says I need a change of climate.

Husband—The weather man says it will be much warmer tomorrow

—o—

"Did you summer at the seashore?" inquired the man with the tan. "No," replied the red-faced citizen, "I simmered in the city."

—o—

Seeing a foreigner emerge from the bathroom in his barber shop, genius big collie and with his coat on his arm, the proprietor demanded sternly: "Did you take a bath?"

"I no take da bath," said the new arrival meekly. "I leave it in da tub."

—o—

Barry: "Aren't you afraid you'll get seasick on your honeymoon voyage?"

Sevellon: "Oh, no. They say love is a grand preventive of seasickness."

Barry: "Surely; but I am speaking of the return trip."

—o—

Visitor—Do you mean to tell me that you have lived here 10 years and cannot tell me the quickest way to the station?

Native—Well, you see, sir, I've been a taxi driver all those years.

—o—

Elsie—Did Frances ask you not to call again?

Jimmie—No, but it amounted to the same thing.

Elsie—What do you mean?

Jimmie—Well, she said: "I'd like to see you come here again!"

—o—

Sergeant (exasperated)—As far as I'm concerned, rookie, you're good for only one thing in rifle practice.

Recruit (hopefully)—What's that?

Sergeant—You tremble so much you'd make a fine moving target for the rest of the squad.

—o—

Mother: "Oh, Doris, I am surprised! Aren't you going to give your little brother half of your apple?"

Doris: "No, mother. Eve did that and they still talk about it."

—o—

Inquisitive Employer—Ella, what's become of old Simon?

Ella (the cook)—He done died wid lead poisonin.'

Employer—Lead — poisoning? I didn't know Simon was a painter.

Ella—Nossuh, he was in de chicken business.

—o—

Prisoner—Judge, must I be tried by that jury with all those women on it?

Magistrate—Certainly; they have all been sworn to duty.

Prisoner—Then, your honor, I plead guilty. It's no use to try to fool a pack of strange women when I can't deceive my own wife.

—o—

Sambo (the porter): "Boss, de ladies has finally given in, ain't dey?"

Boss: "Given in? What do you mean?"

Sambo: "Well, I jus' now seed a sign down de street what says, 'Ladies-Ready-to-Wear Clothes.'"

—o—

Young Mr. Stayer—Er-er—excuse me, Mr. Goofy, I—I've courted your daughter for the past 10 years and —I want to marry her.

Goofy—You surprise me, young man. I thought you were going to ask for a bonus or a pension.

—o—

Housewife—Look here, my man, why do you always come to my house to beg?

Tramp—Doctor's orders, madam.

Housewife—Doctor's orders?

Tramp—He told me that when I found food that agreed with me I should stick to it.

—o—

A distinguished visitor to a lunatic asylum went to the telephone and found difficulty in getting his connection. Exasperated, he shouted to the operator:

"Look here, girl, do you know who I am?"

THE FORD V·8 FOR 1937

The Quality Car in the Low-price Field

Two Engine Sizes - One Wheelbase

AND A NEW LOW PRICE

THE New Ford V-8 for 1937 is the most beautiful Ford car ever offered. It is built in only one size—one standard of roomy comfort and modern appearance. But you may have either the improved 85-horsepower V-8 engine for maximum performance—or the new 60-horsepower V-8 engine for maximum economy. The smaller engine makes possible a lighter car—lower operating costs—and a lower price.

When you drive the 1937 Ford with the 85-horsepower V-8 engine, you are master of a power plant that gives everything you can possibly demand in speed and acceleration. Today, improved carburetion enables it to deliver its thrilling performance with unusually low gasoline consumption.

The new 60-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine delivers V-8 smoothness and quietness—even at speeds up to 70 miles an hour—with gasoline mileage so high that it creates an entirely new standard of economy in modern motor car operation.

We invite you to see this new Ford car, and arrange to drive one equipped with the engine that fits your needs.

BASE PRICES $480 AND UP At Dearborn Plant

Taxes, Delivery and Handling, Bumpers, Spare Tire and Accessories Additional

Body types available with 60 or 85 horsepower engine (without de luxe equipment): Tudor Sedan, Tudor Touring Sedan, Fordor Sedan, Fordor Touring Sedan, Five-window Coupe . . . De Luxe types, with 85-horsepower engine: Tudor Sedan, Tudor Touring Sedan, Fordor Sedan, Fordor Touring Sedan, Five-window Coupe, Roadster, Phaeton, Club Cabriolet, Convertible Cabriolet, Club Coupe, Convertible Sedan.

AUTHORIZED FORD FINANCE PLANS

$25 a month, after usual down-payment, buys any model 1937 Ford V-8 Car. See any Ford dealer anywhere in the United States. Ask your Ford dealer about the easy payment plans of the Universal Credit Company.

FEATURES

APPEARANCE—A newly designed car. Headlamps recessed in fender aprons. Modern lid-type hood hinged at the back. Larger luggage space. Spare tire enclosed within body. Completely new interiors. Slanting V-type windshield opens in all closed cars.

COMFORT AND QUIET—A big, roomy car. Extra space is in the body, not taken up by the engine under the hood. Comfort of the Center-Poise Ride further increased by smoother action of the long-tapering springs, with new pressure lubrication. New methods of mounting body and engine make this a quieter car.

SAFETY

BRAKES—New Easy-Action Safety Brakes, of the cable and conduit control type. "The safety of steel from pedal to wheel." Self-energizing—car momentum is used to help apply the brakes. Tests show that about one-third less pedal pressure is required to stop the car.

BODY—Not an ounce of wood used for structural strength. Frame structure all steel, sheathed with steel panels—top, sides and floor. All are welded into a single steel unit of great strength. Safety Glass all around at no extra charge.

"No," came back the calm reply, "but I know where you are!"

—o—

While attempting to sew a button on his tunic, a Scotchman swallowed a needle. Twenty-seven years later a doctor removed the needle from his foot.

"Hmmm," remarked our Angus thoughtfully pocketing it, as though it was a treasure—"Now, I can finish sewing on that button."

—o—

To their volume entitled "Knox College Definitions," students at Galesburg, Ill., added these after mid-year exams: "Jackets—a long-eared, horslike animal; kinetic—a state; atoms—second President of the United States; paddle—to sell in the street; miss—daughter of Madame X; senor—noise made while sleeping; epistle—a gangster's weapon."

—o—

Cooking Teacher—Why, Gladys, what happened to these eggs? How long did you boil them?

Gladys—Half an hour.

Cooking Teacher—Half an hour! Didn't I tell you never to boil eggs over three minutes?

Gladys—Sure, teacher, but there were ten of them!

—o—

The storm was increasing in violence, and some of the deck fittings had already been swept overboard, when the captain decided to send up a signal of distress. But hardly had the rocket burst over the ship when a solemn-faced passenger stepped to the bridge.

"Captain," he said, "I'd be the last man on earth to cast a damper on anyone, but it seems to me that this is no time for letting off fireworks."

—o—

In a West of England church the banns between two parishioners had been read for the first time. After the service the vicar was accosted by the prospective bridegroom.

"Mr. Grey, I want you to say something to me about those banns. Can I 'av 'em changed? I've been thinking, and, seems to me I'd rather have her sister."

"You can please yourself," replied the vicar. "But, of course, fresh banns must be published."

"Ah," a pause. "Mr. Goodbody, I paid 'ee half a crown for putting up those banns. Shall I have to pay another half crown?"

"Of course you will."

"Oh!" A long pause. Then, with sudden resolution. "Aw, well, leave 'em be as 'tis."

—o—

A lady swimming champion visiting the Piffle ranch near Cactus Center, discovered a secluded pool one day when tramping solo, and decided to take a dip au naturale.

Hardly had she executed a swan dive and had begun the American crawl, before a young'un appeared on the bank and started the process of tying knots in her outer garments as well as her unmentionables.

Naturally exasperated and unable to stop the wrong-doing from the center of the pool, she mud-crawled to the bank where an old wash tub lay half submerged in the water. Holding the wash tub in front of her, she advanced toward the younger Bates and demanded, "You little devil, do you know what I am thinking?"

"Sure lady, you are thinking that tub has a bottom in it."

Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Ada Finney at Ramsey were W. E. Finney of Los Angeles, California, Mrs. Julia Hildenbrand and granddaughter, Marion, of Houston, Louie Adams of Kingsville, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Kretschmar and daughter, Betty Jean, Eagle Lake; Mrs. A. E. Kretschmar, Reuben Kretschmar and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Schindler.

Fountain service was opened at the new E. L. Beckman Drug Store this week with John Chapman of this city and E. J. Parma of Bay City in charge. Mr. Beckman has added material improvements to the fountain, installed comfortable stools and is making a specialty of fountain service.

Mr. Paul Grey and little son of Columbus were brief visitors here Friday afternoon, en route home from a visit to Houston. Mr. Grey is linotype operator and mainstay on the Colorado Citizen.

TRI-COMMUNITY CLUB WITH MRS. STRICKLAND

The Tri-Community Club will meet with Mrs. O. E. Strickland on Friday, November 27th, at 2 o'clock p. m. Further plans will be discussed on "Native Texas Shrubs," which is the subject chosen for the program of 1937.—Mrs. H. A. Dromgoole, Reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pinchback of Columbus are expecting their son, John Joseph, of Dallas, a former graduate of the Eagle Lake High School, today for a visit. The Pinchback family, no doubt, will be somewhat divided at the Columbus-Eagle Lake football game here tonight, since Mr. and Mrs. Pinchback are now citizens of Columbus, and John Joseph of the alumni of Eagle Lake High.

Mrs. W. E. Davis left yesterday for Houston where she will spend the winter with her daughters, Mrs. P. H. Burger and Mrs. J. W. Shacklett.

Miss Carolyn Smothers, who is attending a business college in Houston spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Smothers.

COTTON GINNINGS

According to report of Harry T. Cherry, special agent, the census report shows that there were 3517 bales of cotton ginned in Colorado county from the crop of 1936 prior to November 1, as compared with 6935 bales ginned to November 1, crop of 1935.

The Headlight will contain no more "Twenty-Four Hour Ago" items until the first issue in December. The remaining issues of the November, 1912, file are missing.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Cooper returned home yesterday from a few days visit to relatives at Port Arthur. Charlie Morgan was in charge of Mr. Cooper's business during his absence.

Marshall Ney, with the State Border Patrol and stationed at Corpus Christi, came in last week-end for a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Ney. He is spending the week with a deer hunting camping party near Rock Island.

Assembly

Each individual is born with the natural instinct to be rather timid. School is one of the great factors in our lives. It is there that we get the foundation of our future. School association alone is not sufficient to overcome the natural instinct of timidity and holding back in society. This is where assembly aids each student. School assembly fosters the more intimate relations of students, their classmates and teachers. School problems and plans for improvement are freely discussed. Each student has the privilege of free speech. Then a short program usually concludes the assembly. Different students are selected to give recitations, sing or play musical instruments.

By facing a group the student overcomes his timidity. Assembly also brings a more intimate feeling between the student and teacher. The students learn to look upon their teachers as friends and companions. In conclusion may I say that in my opinion assembly is one of the greatest and most important factors of each student's school life. It is both educational and entertaining.—Charlyne Frnka.

Agriculture Boys Studying Feeding

The agriculture boys are now studying feeding. We have been figuring out rations for dairy cattle for a day and month and for a year. In figuring out the rations we are using the feeds that can be grown around Garwood to feed the type of cattle found here.—Harry Lotspries.

Basketball

Last Wednesday the Gars played Louise at Garwood. The second teams played the first game and Louise won with the final score of 15 to 7. The Gars expect to redeem themselves Wednesday night at Louise.

Garwood participated in a tournament held at Markham Saturday. It was a lively tournament and was run very efficiently. We want to congratulate Markham on their fine, clean sportsmanship. The referee was also very efficient.

The Gars have a full week ahead of them. They are playing at Ellinger Monday night, Louise Wednesday night and at Garwood Friday night with Crescent.—G. P. Harry.

Grade Report

In geography the first grade is going to have the class divided into five parts. Each division is going to have a project to do.—Clara Malek and Madeline Staff.

The seventh grade pupils are all trying to get their lessons up so they will not have to go into the "intention hall" at noon. In English they are studying verb phrases, pronouns, nouns and verbs. In reading we are reading the story of Treasure Island. The boys and girls are trying to be ball players.

Chatter

Wonder what caused a certain party to get home so late Saturday night? Could it have been a flat, or something else?—Cleo, do be careful where you step. What if there had been a fish in that can? Poor fish!—Most anything can happen in G. H. S. Two rivals of the past were seen riding around Sunday.—Teddy's car is a very good basketball advertiser.—The crowd coming home from El Campo on the bus Saturday was rather lively. Wonder what was the reason? —Did anyone get left Saturday morning? If they did it was not for the first time.—Fritz, you'd better not make a habit of letting other people use your car. You may have to wait for it until the next morning or walk home.—That sweater that Evelyn is wearing looks familiar. What have you to say for yourself?—We must admit that the candy that the H. E. girls made was really good. Boys be on the lookout in the future.—My. My, those four seniors had a nice club meeting Friday. We found out that they have attended quite a few interesting shows lately.—Some people are very curious about something that does not even concern them. Isn't that so, Emma?

We hope that two certain sophomore girls will not get into a fight. And how about that seventh grade girl?—Victor must have a certain place in the study hall that is interesting to him during the seventh period.—Veda, was your friend over to see you during the week-end?—Sisters don't tell on each other much; do they, Pauline?—Some people can't go any place without everyone's knowing it.—Vivian is very peculiar. You can never tell whom she likes.—Evelyn got up rather early Sunday morning, didn't you?—One of the senior girls' rings must be wandering around because it is missing from her finger.—However a party goes someplace it is never forgotten.—Friday night was a changeable night for J Ola.—Bernice also prefers tall, dark, and handsome people, or does she?—It's getting to be a habit for two sophomores to walk up and down the hall together.—My! My! Aren't telephones useful? —Oh! If some people from Markham really knew certain people from Garwood.

Evelyn, what is this that is so very, very peculiar?—J Ola really should be a sailor, shouldn't she? —Sylvia can get in a hurry, believe it or not.—Jim Ella, Evelyn and Vivian like banana splits and ice cream.—Freddie should take precautions—not to slam doors so hard.—G. P. is very changeable.—Clayburn and Samuel shouldn't believe every thing that they are told. —It really wouldn't be advisable for some people to make another trip to Markham.—Cleo and Ned had better get together. J Ola and Vivian take orders very well.—Clarence doesn't put up a very good fight.—Catching rides seemed to be very fashionable Saturday.—Evelyn we all like the black and white dress you made in H. E. It looks very bright, some day you will be a good seamstress.—Earlyn do you realize that you have quite a few rivals? For instance Saturday night. —Sylvia, did, you enjoy your ride Saturday? Bet you did.

ENCOURAGING LETTERS FROM HEADLIGHT READERS

The Headlight deeply appreciates the many kindly expressions that have come to it from subscribers sending in renewal subscriptions during the bargain rate offer. They are very encouraging and make a fellow feel that life is worth while after all. Some of these kindly letters are given below:

Hempstead—Here's our check. We couldn't afford to miss the Headlight; in fact, we almost tear down the post office if the paper doesn't show up.—Roy Wright.

San Antonio—Your paper to us is just like getting a letter from home each week.—M. Steinweis.

Eagle Lake—Renewing her own subscription for two years and sending in four new ones (each for two years) Mrs. Frank Stephens writes on the face of her check: "Just could not do without it."

Waco—Keep the good old Headlight coming to the same address. —F. F. Reagan.

Tyler—Wherever I am I want the Headlight to follow me, so enclosed find my check.—A. M. Snodgrass.

Mowequa, Illinois—Check enclosed for two years. I have never lived in Eagle Lake but have come to know quite a few of the good people who do live there. You splendid paper tells about them as well as other local happenings.—Ralph Ayars.

Eagle Lake—"None Better." Just two words from Hayes Stephens, but what a wonderful compliment! With his subscription renewal he adds another name to our foreign list, that of Rev. T. C. Johnston, at Dunmurry, Ireland, who was Presbyterian pastor here more than twenty years ago. A copy of the Headlight each week goes to Mexico, Canada, two to Honduras, Central America, and now to Ireland.

Sheridan—Enclosed $2.00 for my renewal subscription. That was the rate when my subscription was due —and it is worth it.—Chas. H. Andreason.

Clifton Springs, N. Y.—Best regards to you and your good family. —Dr. W. S. Thomas.

Clover, South Carolina—Eagle Lake will always be dear to me and the Headlight is like an interesting letter from everybody there.—Mrs. H. Fitzgerald.

Lubbock, Texas—I look forward to each issue of the "liveliest weekly" in Texas, the Headlight, from the good old town of Eagle Lake.—F. G. Orsak.

Eagle Lake—To live in Eagle Lake without the Headlight is like living in exclusion.—A. M. Aguirre.

"LADIES IN LOVE" AT THE AVALON SUNDAY-MONDAY

An exciting screen event is in store for patrons of the Avalon Theatre, for "Ladies in Love," the brilliant new Twentieth Century-Fox picture featuring the greatest cast of feminine personalities ever assembled in one film, showing Sunday and Monday, Nov. 22-23rd.

Janet Gaynor, Loretta Young and Constance Bennett are starred and Simone Simon featured in this fascinating story of four lonesome young ladies, looking for a love that will last forever.

So romantic about love, so practical about lovers, the picture is a bitter-sweet romance of the adventures and heart-aches of the four in search of the men they love.

Don Ameche, Paul Lukas, Tyrone Power Jr. and Alan Mowbray are also featured in the supporting cast in "Ladies in Love."

Visit Luna's Fountain for excellent service and quality products.—Luna's Drug Store.

REMEDY GIVEN FOR DOGS THAT HAVE BEEN POISONED

Dr. Harry E. Craig, of Villa Jaurez, Coah., Mexico, mailing in renewal subscription, and having read of the wholesale dog poisoning here, sends the following remedy to be used on dogs that have been poisoned, as strichnine is usually the deadly drug given the animals:

For large dogs: Two tablespoons turpentine and 6 table spoons sweet cream or milk. Mix well and give all at one time.

For small dogs, pups and cats: One tablespoon turpentine and 3 tablespoons of sweet cream or milk. Mix well and give all at one time.

It might be well for Eagle Lake people, who own pets at their home, to cut this out and preserve it.

I can save you money on your Magazine Subscriptions—any magazine.—Mrs. T. P. Poole. 20-nov-tf
