Mr. Thornton extended his thanks to the officers and directors for the past year and stressed the fact that "The Chamber of Commerce is to you, each and every one of you, a very important organization. It is the Chamber of Commerce that is the backbone of the community and the Chamber of Commerce that is the backbone of the community."

Mr. Thornton presented a Chamber of Commerce letter, promoting Eagle Lake as the Chamber of Commerce's capital of the world, to the guest speaker, Mr. Chesser, at the conclusion of his fine address.

The Rev. W. B. Bell of the First Methodist Church gave the opening invocation, and closing benediction.

Mrs. George and her husband, Mr. George, presented a beautiful table with silver centerpieces and candles, and a beautiful arrangement of flowers.

Decorations for the event were unique and stressed the chamber's theme of "Nature's Gift to Agriculture and Industry." Each of the tables held items symbolic of the industry, grain industry, and farming industry. The tables were decorated with ribbons of green entwined with ivy. The speaker's table was decorated with a miniature farm set, complete with miniature animals and farm implements.

Mrs. O. L. Miller, Mrs. R. E. Lange, Mrs. L. W. Stiles, Jr., and Mrs. and Mrs. Albert Pustejovsky were in charge of decorations.

During the serving period, secretary Fred R. Franks conducted drawings for numerous valuable door prizes. The items given were contributed by Winterman & Co., the First National Bank, the Eagle Lake Store, Mrs. Barbara Bryant, manager, Lutz's Hair Fashion, and the Chamber of Commerce.
