Prayer And Worry
(By Richard B. Douglass)
"If you pray, don't worry. If you worry, don't pray." D. L. Moody used to advise. He believed that worry indicated a lack of faith. This would make prayer of little value. He also felt that if we really prayed, we had no reason to worry. We may try to do both, but the two make poor companions.

Prayer is a powerful and effective worry remover. People who have learned to pray can take their burdens to God. Their anxieties, burdens, and cares can be presented to a God able to deal with them. In the words of the old hymn, we can "take our burdens to the Lord and leave them there."

Guilt feelings are a real source for worry. Confession of sin is an important part of prayer. A clear conscience is one of the best ways to cure a neuroticism. It helps end our worries about our sins when we have the assurance that God has forgiven them.

Ringling Bros. Circus Coming To Houston

The 103rd consecutive Edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus is coming to the Sam Houston Coliseum on Tuesday, July 9 for performances through Tuesday, July 16. Following extensive talent scouting journeys across the globe, The Greatest Show on Earth will this year feature the most unique array of international talent ever assembled. Among the performers in the all-new circus spectacle: The acclaimed wild-animal trainer, Gunter Gebel-Williams and his tigers, elephants and horses; Europe's Wolf-gang Holmair presenting 17 lions, the largest performing group in the world; Grand Pica-so, Spain's famous and amazing juggler; high-wire star, Pip Nock and Family; The Vicksels, America's stars on the multi-modern, high-chairing chimpanzees trained by Paul Lenz and Jack Rhodin; the Flying Waynes and the Flying Farries; the Blue-Backed Leopards; the Schomberg, America's selected master of the circus; Victoria, America's celebrated mid-air gymnast; and much more! The Greatest Show on Earth features five lavish production spectacles in its all-new edition, touted as the most beautiful ever seen. Highlighting the productions is "Once Upon A Circus," the elaborate, colorful pageant which features the entire company of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey performers and animals, plus lucky children from the audience. Other features include: American Indian-themed aerial ballet, featuring the young ladies of The Greatest Show on Earth performing high in the arena, and spotlighting amazing catches on the swinging trapeze by Elvin Bais. The Philias Twins, away-pole acrobats, make their international debut; Gunter Gebel-Williams presents three rings of performing lionesses and the famous Sofia Troupe, premiering their sensational giant-walking "Tim Holst" is singing Ringmaster for the new production and Keith Greene directs the brass band. Cloowns will be in abundance in this year's show, led by the famous Lou Jacobs and featuring such well-known laughmakers as Danny Chapman, "Frosty" Little, Duane Thorpe and Peggy Williams. The 103rd Edition of The Greatest Show on Earth is produced by Irvin Feld and Kenneth Feld, and staged and directed by Richard Barstow.

James L. Zbraneck who works at Jerry's Arco in Garwood received the special Gates "Mystery Car" Award Wed., June 12th. Gates sponsors the nationwide contest, now in its 42nd year, to reward service station personnel who properly check for worn or defective parts. It gives us an assurance that a prayer-hearing God will take our burdens and provide our needs. We will forgive our sins and cleanse our conscience. Worry will then melt in the face of faith.
