Girl Scouts Troop 188

At the Girl Scout meeting on Oct. 7, Troop 188 divided up. One patrol went to the public library to find important facts on Juliette Lewis, the founder of Girl Scouts, so the other patrol could put it together, write a play and act it out, while another patrol worked on a skit and made paper turkeys to help popcorn candy for the people at the rest home.

We also had a flag ceremony. For refreshments we had grape Kool-Aid to drink and cookies and crackers to eat.

At the Girl Scout meeting on Oct. 14, Troop 188 had a skit performed by Carol Crab and Janie Clifton and another performed by one of the patrols. The patrol that is going to put on the play on Juliette Lewis wrote the play and gave parts to everyone. We had soft drinks and cookies for refreshments.

National Living Center Is Managing Heritage House

National Living Center Inc., a corporation specializing in health care for the elderly, has announced the signing of a management contract with Ameliorate, Inc., owners of Heritage House, 300 Heritage Lane, Eagle Lake, Texas. The announcement was made by J. Livingston Kosberg, president of NLC, which operates over fifty convalescent centers in Texas, Louisiana, and Indiana.

"We are dedicated to providing quality care and service for nursing home residents," said Kosberg, "and we are most pleased that we have the opportunity to be a part of the Eagle Lake community."

"As a company that specializes in the care of the elderly, we are accustomed to their special medical and social needs. On our staff of professional consultants who can contribute their expertise in the areas of nursing, dietary, maintenance, fire safety, and social services to assist the staff of Heritage House in developing a nursing home which will truly serve the needs of its residents. We feel it is of utmost importance that nursing home residents are given the opportunity to express themselves; to relate to each other; and to make constructive contributions to their lives," Kosberg concluded.

Residents of Eagle Lake and surrounding communities are invited to visit Heritage House and meet Mrs. Lois Mills, administrator, who will be glad to answer any questions regarding the services offered by the facility.
