

CPL Joins In Geothermal Energy Study

Central Power and Light Company and Texas Utilities Services Inc. announce support for a major three-year research project to study the feasibility of geothermal energy for Texas.

The research will be conducted by the Center for Energy Studies at the University of Texas, CPL President Barney M. Davis said.

"Geothermal energy is a here-and-now energy source that can be utilized with a minimum amount of lead time for research and development," said Davis.

Beneath the Texas coast, extending into the Gulf of Mexico is a unique form of geothermal energy in the form of geopressured sands. Vast pools of extremely hot water have been trapped in sands deposited by a complex process of sedimentation and subsequently trapped by faulting or slippage of the surrounding rock formations.

Geopressured sands are found only along the Gulf Coast in the United States, but their presence is known along the continental margins of ocean basins around the world.

The CFS intends to conduct a major interdisciplinary study of the possibility of using this form of geothermal

$20.25 Bbl. Top Rice Bid Here Wed.

Forty-three lots of second crop rice totaling $1,944,000, went up for bids at the Eagle Lake office of the American Rice Growers Cooperative Association last Wednesday.

Top bid of the day was $20.25 per hundredweight or $20.25 per barrel offered by F&S Mill for Labele rice grown by Powers Bros.

About two-thirds of the second crop rice has been sold on the basis of bids and about the same percentage has been sold on the basis of offers by the mill.

Last Wednesday's bids ranged down to a low of $2.16 per Cwt. Only six of the 43 lots brought bids over the $12 per Cwt. mark.

On Nov. 7, 1973 rice bids reached a record high of $21.76 per Cwt. or $25.25 per barrel in a sale at the Garwood Rice Sales Company.

The car in which the 3 were riding was clocked at 95 miles per hour 4 miles west of Columbus and was stopped at that location. A subsequent search of the vehicle uncovered the marijuana.

Schellman said. The marijuana totaled less than 2 ounces.

Douglas was also charged with speeding, loud mufflers and violation of the restrictions on his driver's license.
