The RAIDERS REVIEW is published by the Journalism classes of Rice High School. The opinions reflected are of the students and not the administration, unless stated.

AN EDITORIAL: RICE HIGH SCHOOL'S FUTURE APPEARS SECURE

(By Larry Bowen)
As I watched the basketball game between the Carwood-Sheridan Raiders and the Eagle Lake Raiders eighth grade teams, I realized the greatest winner of this game was not even on the court. The Carwood-Sheridan Raiders, who eventually won the spectacular game in overtime, will soon be uniting forces with the Eagle Lake Raiders and that makes Rice High School the greatest victor.

OEA Competes For District Sat., Feb. 22

(By Laurel Anderson)
On Saturday, February 22, 1975, Rice High School's Office Education Association will compete in the district contest at Dallas High School in Stafford, Texas.
There is a total of twenty schools competing against Rice, and three-fourths of the schools are four "A" high schools.
Mrs. Marjorie Crab, OEA instructor, added that this was the first year to have six districts instead of all the titles at the same time. Mrs. Crab also said that she had at least one student to enter in each category for the district meet.

Students participating are: Della Castillo in Job Interview which is to be the contestant's proficiency in job interview situations; Sheila Grigar in Typing and Related I which emphasizes typing in an office-type situation; Mary Lehrer in Competing in Information Communication I which requires a student to prepare a cartoon copy and envelopes; Betty Marshall in Taking part in filing; Cindy Pavlu in General Clerical I which is the emphasis on production, typing and office machines; Jackie Polach in Duplication, which requires emphasis on preparation of stenographic and bachelors were entitled to draw one to determine their "blind date" for the coming year. In later years, the French and English had similar ceremonies. In France, these were given to the students.

Written valentines appeared about 1400. At first they were anonymous and were hidden in yellow paper to hide disapproving fathers who had come to regard the missives as proposals of marriage. The hearts-and-flowers notes graduated to intricate messages with ornamental effects surrounded by layers of filmy lace.

The U.S. is not the only country who celebrates Valentine's Day, but many countries all over the world celebrate it too.
HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY

named Miss and Mr. of the District III FFA group. As a result, Miss Koop and Erben advanced to state level competition February 23 in Fort Worth. They will each receive $1,000 scholarships upon graduation from the district association of the Texas State Teachers Association. Winners on the state level will receive $1,000 scholarships. On the business agenda, district members voted to hold future meetings on school.

"Grandmother Baird always wanted her customers to have fresh bread. It was one of her rules, and it's one of ours. We still try to make sure our bread is fresh when you buy it, because we know the fresher the bread, the better you like it."

Powerful Rice Cagers Clinch Zone

(By Larry Bowen)
The Rice Raiders, who are now undefeated in district play, have clinched first place in the west zone of our district. The Raiders have not lost a game during district play while every other team has lost at least once.
They will soon be moving on in the direction of the state tournament with a long road ahead.

Valentine's Day Is For Both Young & Old

(By Laurel Anderson)
Valentine's Day is celebrated on February 14 as a festival of romance and affection.
In this day and time, some people show their love to others by giving valentine cards, gifts, candy and flowers. Of course, the receiver is real flattered and thankful to the one who gave such a special gift.

It all began with the Roman Festival of Lupercalia which was dedicated to the pastoral god, Lupercus, and the goddess of love, Juno.
As part of the merrymaking, Roman maidens placed their names in an urn in the public square and bachelors were entitled to draw one to determine their "blind date" for the coming year. In later years, the French and English had similar ceremonies. In France, these were given to the students.

Homemaking III students are busy at work this semester learning to sew using more advanced techniques. Students began sewing baby garments with French seams, grippers, etc. included. The next item which the students will sew is a blouse, dress, or a top which will have a collar, get-in-sleeves, buttons, or a zipper closing. It will be interfaced and lined.
These sewing techniques they are learning now will be very valuable to the students in the future.

Student Shows Pride In Action

(By Joe Garcia)
What would you do if you saw litter displayed out next to a trash can in the student parking lot? Would you pick up the trash or just walk by it like other students trying to ignore it?
A sophomore decided to pick this litter up, not knowing who the litter bug was, because it gave a bad image to the school. This is not the first time this student has put forth effort to pick up after others' lack of respect.

This student stated, "Whoever threw the trash on the yard had no pride or respect for his school. He doesn't realize how privileged we are to attend such a beautiful school that is tangible proof of the cooperation and unity of our communities."

The person who hates the "litter bug" is Brenda Kalina.

Golf Season To Start Soon

(By Larry Bowen)
Rice's golf team is anxiously awaiting the last week in February, for it brings the opening tournament of the season.
The team, which consists of many young golfers, is scheduled to participate in the Sealy tournament during the last week in February. This young group has had this experience and will have to depend on gaining it as they go along, learning all the way.

Attending the spring convention were Della Castillo, Carol Beards, Janet Kerth, and sponsor Lillian Gohlke.

FTA Holds Third Meet

(By Trace Hartfield)
On Tuesday, February 4, the Future Teachers of America held their meeting during first period.

Della Castillo, Yolanda Gohlke, Mary Frybert and Jane Dostal were named as chapter representatives to the state convention on February 28, and Della will be a state delegate at the Fort Worth convention. Plans for a banquet, for the election of officers, and an amendment to the constitution were made. There were also plans for a $100 scholarship to a senior member who is planning to major in the teaching field.

Teacher's Clock Disappeared For No Reason At All

(By Mike Armstrong)
Last week during my English class, we were going to take an exercise, and the teacher said we had 20 minutes to take the exercise, only to notice that her clock had disappeared.

She asked the class to return the clock, thinking it could have been a practical joke or someone could have hidden it. Everyone said they knew nothing of it.

The teacher has since gotten another clock and she sure keeps her eye on it and her students, just in case the clock comes up missing again.

Flu Bug Hits Rice High School

(By Rick McDonald)
During the month of January, the war on influenza was in full swing here at Rice High School.

Absentee slips were filled to capacity and classrooms had many empty desks. Teachers even fell sick with the flu. Aspirins were administered from the office as students became increasingly ill. The number of absentees was staggering—one thousand and two thousand—but you must keep in mind that there are only about five hundred forty-one students in the entire school and school was held for only twenty days in the month of January.

Absenteeism is on the decrease for the month of February.

Speaks To English Club

(By Larry Bowen)
The meeting was opened by Ann Davison and discussion began on the field trip to the Shriner Hospital and the Houston Public Health Center on February 17. Time was then given to their guest speaker, Dr. Opler of Wharton, who presented a film on venereal diseases.

At the closing of the meeting members were given membership cards and the picture for the annual was made.

Mrs. Sienke Gives Book Review

(By Larry Bowen)
Mrs. E. H. Sienke of Garwood gave a very interesting book review that was the highlight of an English Club meeting during first period on Tuesday morning of last week.

The members also paid their dues during the meeting which lasted nearly an hour. In appreciation for the excellent book review, Mrs. Sienke was presented with a present.
