KEELING TELLS OF IMPACT OF FLOOD PROTECTION LAW

Terry Keeling, president and co-owner of the A & K Properties, Inc., a real estate brokerage firm in Houston, was speaker at a recent meeting of the Eagle Lake Lions Club, discussing the impact of the federal Flood Protection Act of 1973 on the local community.

He predicted that the Flood Protection Act of 1973 will slash the sales value of property and disrupt the county tax structure, hence he is one of the organizers of a group called Citizens Against Flood Insurance.

Keeling said that the Flood Protection Act of 1973 was passed in 1973 when Congress passed a flood insurance program, offering federally subsidized flood insurance to communities that wanted to participate. But few communities became involved in the program, and the program was not started to begin in 1978 when Congress passed the Flood Insurance Act of 1973.

Keeling explained that the program works like this: HUD will notify a community that they have one or more flood-prone areas (areas that may be flooded once in 100 years). Once a community is so notified, it has one year to comply with the program. If they don't, the government will set up a program for them.

Grants-in-Aid In Aid $3,175,000

From a dollars and cents standpoint, how much did the federal grants-in-aid and revenue sharing produce for Colorado County in the past fiscal year?

Did the price it had to pay for these grants, by way of taxes allocated to the program, make them worthwhile financially?

Under the various types of aid available - there are hundreds of them - assistance is offered to states and local communities for purposes ranging from welfare grants and child care to road building and education.

The cost to some localities, in the past year, proved to be greater than the aid received. Others got back more than they put in.

A comprehensive state-by-state study of the programs, based upon Treasury Department figures, was made by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research organization that keeps watch over government taxation and spending.

The study found that Colorado County received $3,175,000 in grants-in-aid and revenue sharing in the past year. This is a significant amount, especially considering that the state's total revenue sharing for all counties was $1.1 billion.

The study also found that Colorado County's share of the cost was approximately $3,370,000, which is slightly more than the grants-in-aid and revenue sharing it received.

Landfill Offer

County Judge Lester Cranek told the group gathering Thursday that the commissioners' court had gone on several months ago as agreeing to participate in a one-fourth basis in any waste sharing in the other three-fourths. He said that he had been set out in the motion.

HAS SECOND THOUGHTS

Precinct 4 Commissioner Bill Stiles said that he was in favor of the assistance at the time the action was taken but he has had second thoughts about the matter and expressed himself as saying that he was not in favor of subsidy for any private enterprise.

Precinct 2 Commissioner Rafael Vessela echoed the sentiments of the Judge and others that this matter had been rehearsed many times and some action needed to be taken.

24 YEARS AGO Let's Look Back

(March 15, 1951)

Mayor Harold Thomas has announced that Eagle Lake "Lake over the top" Monday as the Red Cross fund quota of $1000 was reached. G. R. Abney, 63, civil engineer in this county for many years prior to moving to Lufkin in the 1920's, was killed instantly last Saturday morning when the car he was driving went out of control on a slippery road near Rice, Eagle Lake's first Marine. He is 18-year-old Joe Bottino of the First Marine Division, son of Quimio Bottino. He is as trim-looking as any Marine you ever saw. On a recruiting poster, "F. W. 'Rock' Shaw" is taking a course for Civilian Flight Instructor Post at the Army. The three who were selected as candidates for the P-TA Queen are Carole Crim representing Senior High School, Lois Anderson representing Junior High School, and Junior High School, representing the Elementary School, composing the P-TA Queen.
