People Put Stock In Superstition

(By Mark Hoover)

Superstition is a word that immediately suggests the magic and sorcery of primitive times—the calling up of evil spirits, the use of incantations, charms, spells, and other such magic. It is the belief that certain actions will bring about certain results. It is the belief that certain things will happen if certain actions are taken. It is the belief that certain things will happen if certain actions are taken.

18 Year Olds Will Vote On Tx Constitution
(By Clark Peterson)

All 18 year olds who have registered will be able to exercise their privilege to vote next Tuesday, November 4.

The proposed new constitution for Texas is the first thorough revision of the state's basic law since it was adopted in 1875. The document is the result of the hard work and efforts of the Sixty-fourth session of the Texas Legislature.

The school year of 1975-76 is an appropriate time for teachers and students to become involved in studying the important undertaking, because the revision of the Texas Constitution is a historic event for the people of Texas.

Teachers Judge Art Posters
(By Mark Hoover)

The week of October 13-17 three art students created posters which were made for National School Lunch Week and were judged by the homecoming teachers.

Sherry Hill won first place (three silver dollars) with the slogan "You are what you eat." Diane Sosa won second place (two silver dollars) with the slogan "Pick a good meal." The slogan "I'd walk a mile for a good meal" was the winner of third place (one silver dollar) by Mark Hoover. In all there was a total of five entries.

SC Activities Promote Spirit
(By Daryl Dehler)

Homecoming activities sponsored by the Student Council dominated three days of last week.

These activities were the Link Sales for class spirit and car decorations. On Wednesday of last week the Student Council held a candy day when every student received peppermint. On Thursday they received a piece of the spirit cake which was in the shape of a football. Friday was the most active day for all activities. Friday was named as Color Day and also the football players received an honor of having their lunch served to them at their table.

Art Classes Learn Macramé
(By Mike Armstrong)

All of the Rice art classes are currently learning how to create belts and headbands by using macramé. The belts or headbands can be made with different colors of strings and different types of knots.

At the present cost of clothes today, this is a very fine hobby to take up and learn. It also could be profitable for a person who does not have anything to do in his spare time.

Former Students' School Acquires New Bus
(By Bob Morgan)

Four former Rice students who were active in high school are continuing scholastic participation at Wharton County Junior College (WCJC).

Larry Brown is the former editor of the Raider Review and is currently on the staff of reporters for the Trailblazer. Roger Clark and Joe Frybert were involved in several school organizations at Rice. Mr. Clark is now the president of the band and parliamentarian of the student government; and Mr. Frybert is the president of the student body. Denise Rose, the 1973 Rice valedictorian, is a sophomore representative in the student government and was a nominee for homecoming queen at WCJC.

High school activity seems to set a precedent for involvement after high school graduation.

Halloween Has Origin in Pagan Rites, Festivals
(By Bob Morgan)

On October 31 Halloween will be celebrated with festivities and children in strange costumes asking for candy. The mystic rites and customs of the Celtic people, who were the first to celebrate the festival of Samhain. In the course of time there were added to the festival the customs of the Roman festival of Pomona who presided over the harvest. The early Christian church adopted the eve of the day following and gave new names to them, as St. Michael's, St. Martin's, and St. Giles.

There will also be many hogs taken to the local show. Their names will be listed later in the month.
