FHA Week To Be Observed April 4-10

The Texas Association of Future Homemakers of America will observe Texas FHA Week, April 4-10, 1976. There are over 75,000 members in 2,100 chapters who are saluting America's Bicentennial with their special activities related to FHA's involvement with our Nation's birthday.

For over thirty years, the organization, through its FHA and HERO-FHA chapters, has provided worthwhile experiences which have helped young men and women prepare for the important responsibilities of homelife and adult citizens.

The results of their efforts are active involvement in home, civic and school projects, growth in individual leadership, team work experience and vocational orientation.

Carolyn Robinson, State Future Homemakers of America President, Quitman, points out that several million young people have been challenged by the unlimited opportunities offered through membership in Future Homemakers of America since its establishment as the national organization for high school students in homemaking education and occupational programs. "FHA-HERO plays an effective role in the educational system," she stated, "by keeping us involved in activities that benefit us not only as individuals but as family and community members. In other words, FHA serves as a bridge between the classroom, the home and the community, and is the key for developing the potential of each individual member for a productive life in our society."

Future Homemakers of America is a nonprofit, self-supporting, organization officially sponsored by the United States Office of Education, through the Division of Vocational and Technical Education and the American Home Economics Association. It encompasses two types of chapters: FHA chapters for students in homemaking education and HERO-FHA chapters for students enrolled in home economics related occupations courses. National headquarters are located in Washington, D.C.

The Texas Association is sponsored by the Texas Education Agency, Austin, Texas. Mrs. Elizabeth P. Smith is the State Director of Homemaking Education and Mrs. Betty Romans is the State Advisor of the Texas Association.

Library Week Is Apr. 4-10

In a statement that calls attention to the role that easy access to information through libraries has played in our history, Governor Dolph Briscoe has proclaimed the week of April 4 through April 10 to be National Library Week in Texas.

Public, school, academic, and special libraries throughout the state will be observing National Library Week to call attention to the services they offer to all Texans. The annual observance is a joint effort of the Texas Library Association and the Texas State Library.

Chairman for this year's observance is Frank X. Tolbert, columnist for the Dallas News. Executive director is Betty A. Roach, librarian at Greenhill School in Dallas.

Theme for the 1976 observance is "The Bicentennial is Happening in the Library," and Governor Briscoe pointed to the role that Thomas Jefferson and Benjamin Franklin not only had in drafting the Declaration of Independence but also in establishing libraries in the new nation.

I AM AMERICA

I am two hundred twenty million free individuals and the memory of millions more. I am life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. I am one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

I am George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, Paul Revere. I am Lexington and Concord and the shot heard round the world. I am a suffering, starving, freezing army at Valley Forge. I am the Constitution.

In my youth I have grown from a wilderness to a giant by the toil of the land and the sweat of the brow of my men and women. I am a pioneer, a wagon master, a student, a research scientist, a rocket expert.

I am Abraham Lincoln and the Gettysburg Address, Thomas Edison and the electric light, Jonas Salk and the elimination of polio. I am Teddy Roosevelt, Dwight D. Eisenhower, and John F. Kennedy. My men have fought for "Old Glory" in many places. Wherever forces of evil have threatened, I have stood firm in the belief that right makes might. In the mournful matter of the battlefield, I have died for me.

I am big and strong--over two thousand miles from shore to shore. I am snow-capped mountains and waving fields of golden wheat. I am teeming cities and peaceful villages.

★

I am a prayer in a country church, a textbook under the arm of a six-year old, and a vote dropped in a ballot box. My principles and the principles of each of my people stand for courage in the face of fear and strength in the face of weakness.

I am "America, the beautiful".

Interviews were taken of the Typing II classes last week. These interviews were to prepare students for the future of business.

All Typing II students were required to fill out a requisitior for application forms in class. They then were sent the application and letter informing them of the interview time. There were four interviewers for this task. They consisted of Mr. Grahmann, Mr. Beane, Mr. Carpenter, and Mrs. Crabb.

After the interviews with the students, they were told what they could have improved upon and the areas they were weak in. This procedure was very helpful to the students as a practice for the future.

Earl Participates In Government

(By Daryl Beheler)

Rice was honored with an uninvited guest several weeks ago. This particular guest decided to sit in on the sixth period government class.

Many students were very surprised to see such a visitor, especially to try and learn about our government. The unexpected guest's name, we found out, was Earl. Earl was very quiet during the first half of the period. He was just not capable of sitting still the full hour of class.

All of a sudden, Earl took off out of his corner and headed straight across the middle of the room, unfortunately to run into people's feet and the legs of chairs. The class was very excited with this fact and began cheering and applauding vigorously. Later, when Earl had been captured and taken into custody, he was interrogated and released on bail. It seems as though Earl had not impregnated the security system, but that there was an accomplice to this act of misfortune. All we know is that Earl, the mouse, was trying to major in politics.

THE CHRISTIAN LIFE

IV. WHAT MUST ONE DO TO KEEP SAVED?

A. This great question implies:
1. Man was once lost in sin.
2. That he has been saved.
3. There is a danger of falling.
4. Something must be done to remain saved.

B. There is a danger of falling.
1. "Demas hath forsaken me . . ." (2 Tim. 4:10)
2. Simon was commanded to repent and pray. (Acts 8:20)
3. The last state was worse than the first. (2 Peter 2:20)

C. Christians have the power to stand.
1. Give all diligence and add the Christian graces. (2 Peter 1:5-10)
2. Make your calling and election sure. (2 Peter 1:10)
3. Then, "Ye shall never fall." (2 Peter 1:10)

D. Four safe rules to follow:
1. Read the Bible daily.
The Bereans were more noble than those in Thessalonica because they searched the scriptures daily. (Acts 17:11); Newborn babes desire the sincere milk of the word that they may grow thereby. (1 Peter 2:2); The engrafted word will save. (James 1:21); We will be judged by it. (Jno. 12:48)
2. Pray to God every day.
Pray without ceasing — have a regular time for prayer. (Eph. 6:18) Prayer is a checkbook on the Bank of Heaven. Use it.
3. Attend all the services of the church.
Forsake not the assembly (Heb. 10:25); The disciples met upon the first day of the week. (Acts 20:7); Christians need this spiritual food.
4. Give liberally of time, talents and means.
See 1 Cor. 16:2 and 2 Cor. 9:7. "Where your treasure is there will your heart be also."
