EAT MORE RICE.

Never Too Old To Enjoy Nutritious Rice

As far as the Rice Council is concerned, you're never too young and never too old to learn about rice, how good it is, and how good it is for you.

Advertising, promotion and educational efforts of the Rice Council are directed to everyone in America, from primary school children to senior citizens in nursing homes.

A brochure entitled "The Fourth R" has proven popular with primary grade teachers who use the material to teach youngsters about one of the most popular foods in the world, how it is grown, and how it makes everyday meals better.

Another Rice Council publication is "Cycle Menus" which is distributed to the dietitians in more than 15,000 nursing homes throughout the country. These menus show how rice is particularly adapted to the specific feeding problems of the nursing home.

Other Rice Council advertising and publications are specifically directed to high school students, home economics students, college students taking restaurant food management, brides, and the American housewife in general.

There is hardly a segment of the American population that is not the target of some phase of the Rice Council's promotional program - from airline passengers to the operators of cafeterias in the large industrial plants of American industry.

If you need rice recipes, information about rice culture and production, or any other type of information about the rice industry, write to the Rice Council, P. O. Box 22802, Houston, Texas 77027.

Sheriff's Dept. Recovers Gun Stolen In '72

Colorado County Sheriff Geo. "Doc" Mueller reported this week that a shotgun stolen in November of 1972 has been recovered in Houston.

The shotgun was stolen from Billy W. Sweat of Alleyton Nov. 24, 1972 and had been listed since that time as a stolen item on computer files.

Monday, the Houston police department reported that a man had been arrested with the weapon in his possession. Investigation revealed that he had purchased the gun from some one else and the sheriff's office is continuing the investigation and is looking for the man who sold the gun and is a suspect in the theft of the gun.

New Rules Set

Texas Public Utility Commission's new proposed regulations would require users of lots of electricity to pay more.

Home consumers would benefit, but only those in rural areas will be under direct P.U.C. control starting next September.

Rules will not be adopted until after public hearings.

Second Graders Present Program

Jury Finds For Defendant In Long Civil Suit

A lone jury civil trial came to a conclusion at 3 p.m. Tuesday when a jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant in district court in Columbus.

The trial of the civil suit styled Zeta Bell and others against the Mitchell Energy Co., started in district court on Monday, April 5th and continued through Tuesday afternoon, Judge B. B. Schraub presided at the trial.

The suit involved mineral rights on properties in the Garwood and Provident City areas.

The jurors retired to deliberate the issue at 2 p.m. and returned at 3 with a ruling in favor of the Mitchell Co. Final terms of the suit were not reported.

Serving on the jury were: Dolores A. Jones of Alleyton; Janeen Cranek of Garwood; Leroy J. Kainer, Mary E. Stos, Mrs. Raymond Herzik of Weimar; Troy Krenek of Garwood; Judith Stein, Mrs. Sylvia S. Marburger of Columbus; Joyce M. Hurd, Wayne E. Hewitt, Carolyn M. Duyka and Annie Lee Davis of Eagle Lake.

Mr. Krenek served as foreman of the jury.

Soil Conservation News

District cooperator R. W. Hervey of the Bernardo area has completed construction of two ponds for livestock water. Cross-fences will also be constructed for grazing management.

Robert B. Briggs, a district cooperator of the Sheridan area, has completed shaping eroded areas. Coastal bermudagrass will be established on the shaped areas to control erosion.

Couple Asks Damages For Eviction

A suit was filed in district court at Columbus April 7th by Joe N. Castillo and wife Dolores S. Castillo against Robert C. Hellrung asking for $40,000 in damages resulting from an eviction from an apartment owned by the defendant.

The couple allege in the petition that on Dec. 31, 1975 they were renting an apartment from Hellrung and that he allegedly prevented them from legal entry into the apartment without legal notice. They contend that they were not in arrears in payments and were not notified of impending eviction.

In the suit they ask for $10,000 for personal property, clothing, furniture, dishes and jewelry and other items which the defendant allegedly refused them to remove from the premises. They also ask for $30,000 in exemplary damages.
