Screwworm Story Cindy Kingsley, Tommy Balusek In State Rodeo

By JOHNNIE COOPER
County Agent

It's "bad news" as far as the story on the screwworm situation in Texas is concerned. The year got off to a bad start with early outbreaks of the flesh-eating pest in South Texas, and things have gotten progressively worse.

Right now, screwworm cases in Texas are running ahead of the record-setting pace of 1972. The main concern is that the cases are spreading rapidly to the north, west and east.

Through May 29 more than 60 counties have reported one or more screwworm infestations.

A primary reason for the higher infestations this early in the year is that the past winter was quite mild, thereby allowing more of the screwworm flies to overwinter in southern Texas and northern Mexico. And the number of overwintering flies was larger than usual due to the screwworm explosion last fall in South Texas that was triggered by winners of the recent Wharton County Junior College regional competition compete June 15-19 in Hallettsville for State Championship honors and a trip to the National High School Rodeo Association event August 17 in Sulphur, La.

Qualifying from this area at the Wharton County Junior College sponsored Region VII that included ten counties were: Tommy Balusek of Garwood in Steer Roping; Cindy Kingsley of Eagle Lake in the Cutting Horse Contest for Girls; and Jeff Koyne of East Bernard in the Cutting Horse Contest for Boys.
