ABOUT TOWN

• Mrs. Hazel Tjaden announces the opening of the Dutch Country Antique shop at 203 Stevenson Street and she invites citizens to come by for a visit.

Mrs. Tjaden may also be contacted at her home at 305 Crain in the event the Dutch Country Antiques is not open at the time of your visit.

• Headlight readers are asked to note that grocery specials in this issue for Miller's Grocery and for Wilcox Minimex do not take effect until Friday, Nov. 28th. Specials listed in ads of last week will continue in effect this Wed., Nov. 24th.

• In St. Joseph's Schindler is confined to the St. Joseph's Hospital in Houston where she underwent surgery last week. Friends may write to her in Room 5504. All join in wishing her a quick recovery to good health.

• Congratulations go to the Rice High School Raider girls' basketball team for second place in the basketball tournament last weekend. We know it was a real heart-breaker for the girls and coaches to lose the contest in the last six seconds of play. They played admirably throughout the contest and Raider fans look forward to a very successful season again this year. Last year the Rice girls reached the Class AAA semi-finals and they hope to repeat or better that effort in the 1976-77 season.

• Congratulations are also in order for the Rice FFA's Farm Radio Broadcasting team which won a first place in the District IV competition in Schulenburg last week. Members of the team are: Philip Leopold, Crystal Jones, Janet Wied and Stephanie Schneider.

• The railroad crossing on McCarty Street has been greatly improved, through the efforts of the Texas Highway Department and the Southern Pacific Railroad Co. Work is underway on improving the SP crossings on Commerce and Lake Streets in the downtown area and also on Walnut and Stevenson streets.

• Santa Fe railroad workers and the Highway Department were busy Monday completing new crossings on East Main near the Mobil Station. A lot of motorists were tied up for nearly a half hour last Friday when a SP engine developed trouble and all crossings in the downtown area were blocked. The railroad company moved a switch engine from its yards west of the city to break the train at the crossings.

Clyde Farthing, president of the Eagle Lake Noon Lions Club, right, is shown presenting a check for $300.00 from the club to Mrs. Carl (Judy) Austin, chairman of the pre-kindergarten classes held annually for children of the community by ladies of the Baptist churches in the community. Currently over fifty children are enrolled in the classes held in the Sunday School rooms of the First Baptist Church and the children are tutored by six ladies from the community. The school has been praised for its assistance in preparing young children for their kindergarten and school days. "The Lions are happy to assist in sponsoring such a worthy activity," noted the club president. The contribution is from proceeds derived from the Lions Clubs' recent street carnival. Workers in "Little School" at this time are: Mrs. Lynette Hytrek, Mrs. Frances Luna, Mrs. Jane Alvarado, Mrs. Frances Castillo and Mrs. Obara Perez. Mrs. Austin extended appreciation to the volunteer workers, commenting "They do this out of love for the children and for the love of helping others."

2 Charged
In Assault

Two young men are charged with assault after they reportedly attacked the owner of the Cattleman's Restaurant, Roy Clout.

The county sheriff's office was called to the restaurant east of Columbus at 12:31 a.m. Friday, Nov. 19th. The investigating report stated that the two men, Joe Thomas Alley and Gary Monroe Alley, were told by the owner that they would not be served because one of them was barefooted. They reportedly took issue with this and the officers noted that Gary began to assault Clout and Joe Thomas jumped on Clout's back and the trio went through a plate glass window.

Both have been released under $500 bond each pending action on the charges.
