1703 Jehovah's Witnesses Attend Convention

Wilbert D. Sims, spokesman for the Eagle Lake congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, said that a Bible-study convention held in Houston this past weekend was a success as 1,703 convened at the Houston Coliseum to hear the highlighted lecture, "Keep Seeking God's Kingdom," by W. S. Branson.

Brandizzi, a traveling lecturer and district supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses, said that the expansion of the religious group is remarkable evidence that many are "seeking God's kingdom" as a result of the enthusiastic earth wide preaching by Jehovah's Witnesses.

For all their work, the Witnesses report a total of 196,636 new members baptized last year. During the last month their excitement carried them through a multitude of receptions and showers. They were so anxious for the wedding day to come that when it did they were almost too excited to remember their own part in the ceremony. Children react the same way when they begin to anticipate Christmas or birthdays. There is an air of thrill related to anticipating any important event in our lives.

The coming of Christ had been anticipated for centuries. Prophets throughout many generations had amplified the longing people had for the coming of God's Savior. All of the events of the Christmas story made the people involved realize that the centuries of waiting would soon be over. Luke's Gospel records two people who had the chance to see Jesus after he was born. Both of them were elderly people. When Jesus was brought to the temple at the age of eight

the spirit of Christmas

The spirit of Christmas has many manifestations . . . it can be the giving of a beautiful diamond, or the gift of a hand-made pot-holder.

It can be the glow of a festive, welcoming guests to a home for the holidays.

Merry Christmas

Hope you don't mind our using a "pet phrase" at this season: Happy holidays!

One of the highlights of the 25th Farm and Ranch Credit School for Commercial Bankers, Feb. 7-9, at Texas A&M University will be a session on making agricultural loans. Loans will be discussed for major areas: field crops, cow-calf operations, feedlots, dairies, rice and grain storage and warehousing. The school will also feature sessions on recent developments in agriculture, obtaining capital, and the outlook for crops, livestock and the money market, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

CG Yeoman Lacourse Aids In Sea Rescue

Coast Guard Yeoman First Class Henry E. Lacourse, son of Sgt. and Mrs. Lucien T. Lacourse of Columbus, Tex., assisted in the rescue of a disabled U. S. Army vessel and her crew near Norfolk, Va.

He was a crewmember aboard the Coast Guard cutter Alert, homeported at Cape May, N. J.

His ship was underway off the North Carolina coast on a law enforcement fisheries patrol when she was diverted by a distress call from the U. S. Army ship, Lt. Col. John U. D. Page, which was disabled due to a stack fire. Despite rough weather and seas, the Alert towed the Army vessel to safe anchorage in the James River. His cutter returned to her fisheries patrol.

He joined the Coast Guard in June 1966.

WCJC Xmas Sweetheart Nominee

The Emerald Room of the Shamrock Hilton Hotel in Houston, was the setting Tuesday, December 14, for the kick-off banquet for the Sam Houston Resource Conservation and Development area. Ten people from Colorado County representing the local sponsors of the Sam Houston RC&D project attended the affair. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Engstrom of Garwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sommeras of Eagle Lake, representing the Colorado County Commissioners Court; W. C. Alley, public utilities director for the city of Eagle Lake representing that city; and Mr. and Mrs. Connie Fair of Columbus representing the underground utility lines (pipelines, sewers, cables, etc.), basements and open ditches. It will also point out soil limitations you can expect to encounter on a site when other factors determine the location of a project. This will assist you to plan into your job in advance the necessary features to overcome a soil limitation.

A soil scientist classifies the different kinds of soils and records their boundaries on an aerial photograph. He goes over the land and digs numerous holes to see the different layers of soil. The vegetation and other features of
