Sign-Up For Cost-Share Long Term Conservation Is April 15

(By Connie Fair, District Conservator) Landowners will be eligible to receive cost share assistance to carry out approved conservation practices to 1977 in the form of Long Term Agreements. The landowner sets up his planned program on any farm from a three to 10 year program and schedule to carry out practices each year until all conservation measures that are planned for on his farm are complete. With this long term application, a landowner is assured of receiving cost-share assistance on those practices planned, because the total amount of the agreement is set aside for the purpose of carrying out the individual's conservation program when the contract is signed and approved.
