The RAIDERS REVIEW is published by the Journalism class of Rice High School, and the opinions reflected are of the students and not the administration, or the Eagle Lake Headlight, unless so stated.

Journalist's Creed

(By Judy Spates)
Most journalists try to tell the story just as it is. In this article is the creed which most reporters try to follow.

I believe in the profession of Journalism. I believe that the public journal is public trust; that all connected with it are to the full measure of their responsibility, trustees for the public; that acceptance of a lesser service than the public service is betrayal of this trust.

I believe that clear thinking and clear statement, accuracy and fairness, are fundamental to good journalism.

I believe that a journalist should write only what he holds in his heart to be true. I believe that suppression of the news for any consideration other than the welfare of society is indefensible.

I believe that no one should write as a journalist what he would not say as a gentleman; that bribery by one's own pocketbook is as much to be avoided as bribery by the pocketbook of another; that individual responsibility may not be secured by pleading another's instructions or another's dividends.

I believe that advertising, news and editorial columns should serve the best interests of readers; that a single standard of high truth and honesty should prevail for all; that the supreme test of good journalism is the measure of its public service.

I believe that the journalist who succeeds best and best deserves success—honor and honors must be steadily independent, unmoved by pride of opinion or greed of power, constructive, tolerant but never careless, self-controlled, patient, always respectful of its readers but always unafraid to be honest.

Raiders Review Is Shut Down

(By Mark Hoover)
The typewriters are quiet as they sit on the shelf and rather than their little metallic bodies. So ends another thrilling chapter in the annals of Rice High School, a chapter entitled Journalism.

The top reporters of the year are Judy Spates, the hard driving, ruthless editor who ruled her subjects with a ball and chain; Mark Hoover, the mild mannered newspaperman who got lost; Debra Newsum, the reporter who was reluctant to work; and the two reporters in the field, Barbara Baker and Linda Hagendorf, who put their lives on the line every day to bring you the news that is new.

What will happen to our fine crop of reporters as each one faces the terrors of the unknown outside world? And what about Rice High School in next year to read about the thrills, the chills, the ups, the downs, that occur in the halls of Rice High School in this area's number one best selling paper, the "Raiders Review"?

Auto Mechanics Skills Are Acknowledged

(By Judy Spates)
Six outstanding young men represented Rice as they attended the state meet in Dallas on Friday, May 6.

These six young men were Larry Munoz, who won a blue ribbon; Larry Contreras and Buster Diesel, who both won excellent; Denny Cardenas also won an excellent; Kirk Payne who won a very good; and Gerald Hurd, who won an honorable mention. The boys also enjoyed themselves as they went to Six Flags that night.

Edwin Fry, who is the auto mechanics instructor, stated: "This year's auto mechanics class has been very successful and the work was plentiful. I hope that next year will be even more successful."

Rice High School is honored to have such successful students and such a great instructor to teach them. Good luck to the auto mechanics students and instructor.

Rice's Students Show Talent

(By Barbara Baker)
Tuesday, May 10, "That's Entertainment" was presented by the drama department and various members of the student body and faculty. The show, directed by Mrs. Barbara Mackey, was well attended by parents, students and interested friends in the Rice District.

The presentation portrayed different forms of entertainment from the 20's through the 70's. Much talent was displayed by the students and faculty in the form of singing, dancing, acting and musicianship. The show was greatly enjoyed by the audience and the cast, especially the seniors, who performed for their last time at Rice High School.

Basic Grant Taught to Srs.

(By Judy Spates)
On Wednesday and Thursday, May 11 and 12, the seniors were explained some of the enjoyment of going to college after graduation.

Mrs. Edwina "Ed" Gordon and Herman Depok, were the two counselors from Wharton County Junior College, who spoke to the seniors on these two days. They talked mainly on two topics. They were the Basic Grant and degrees. If any student needed to know how to apply for this grant, they were there to help in any way they could.

All students were helped by these two days of questioning and problem solving.

Seniors Assemble For Class Song

(By Mark Hoover)
Last Monday, and the Monday of the previous week, the seniors of Rice High School congregated in the gym to practice their class song.

With each practice session the seniors are getting better and better, and soon will have the song perfected! The director of the production is the outstanding and many faceted Mrs. Sandra Benge.

EXTENDED COVERAGE

By Jerry Sparks

Fire Prevention Week comes only once a year (in October) but fire prevention is a year-round job. Start with a cellar-to-attic inspection, and then get into good fire-prevention habits.

Get rid of trash and things you don't really need. That's where fires usually start.

If you must store gasoline, paint, and solvent, be sure they are in appropriate containers. Keep them away from heat. Get rid of rags that are filled with paint, oil, polish, or anything else that might flare up.

Check electrical systems. Look out for loose connections and frayed cords. Any wire or plug that is warm to the touch is a danger sign. Aluminum wiring should be checked periodically by a qualified electrician.

If you (or your guests) smoke, be sure to have enough ashtrays around the house. Contents should be cool before emptying into the trash. NEVER smoke in bed.

Fire prevention saves lives. Take precautions to protect YOUR loved ones. And insure with
