TUESDAY, JULY 12, 1977

AGRICULTURAL WEATHER HIGHLIGHTS THROUGH SATURDAY: Scattered showers are forecast for the Texas Rice Belt over the next few days. Rainfall amounts through Wednesday will generally be less than 1/10 inch. Warm temperatures will continue.

RAINFALL: Radar showed showers moving through the eastern end of the Rice Belt. Amounts of near 1/2 inch were reported in the Golden Triangle area.

PLANT DISEASES: Growers may want to maintain protective sprays this week due to the continuing chances for showers. HAYING: Hay should cure well outside of rainfall areas. Hay curing will be risky however due to the continuing chances for showers.

FARM MANAGEMENT: Dried crops and pastures will show slow growth this week due to dry conditions. A few spots may get some relief from local showers. No long delays are expected.

APPLICATION OF AGRICULTURAL CHEMICALS: Farmers planning to apply chemicals during the next few days should consider the chances of rain before applying. Locally good winds this afternoon may hamper application.

Federal Grants Total $3,679,000

From a dollars and cents standpoint, how well has Colorado County been making out under the Federal government's grant-in-aid program?
- How much have the grants to the local area amounted to in the past year in relation to what area residents have been paying toward the program?
These questions are answered in a new study of grants and their distribution.

state by state, made by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit organization that keeps watch over public taxation and spending.
It shows that in the past fiscal year the cost of the assistance exceeded the amount of aid received by some communities. In other communities, it worked out to their advantage. They got back more than they put in.
Of the $57.4 billion in grants and revenue sharing
