

Susan Rae Perry, Bruno B. Burris Exchange Vows in Columbus

Glovers Visit Historic Places In Eastern States

Mr. and Mrs. Bruno B. Burris and Mrs. Susan Rae Perry returned from their vacation in the historic places of the Eastern States. They left July 28 from the Houston International Airport for Philadelphia, Penn., where they were met by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Nightingale and Tony of Clementon, N. J. and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Arthur Glover and Monica of South Jersey. They also visited with her other son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Glover, and Eddie of Philadelphia, Penn. During their vacation they toured many interesting and historic cities. They attended the 28th annual Pennsylvania Folk Festival between Allentown and Reading, Penn., and visited Rye, New York, the Empire State Building and World Trade Center. They were joined on July 17th by Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Hunt and Ronald of Altair. There they attended the Statue of Liberty in New York and the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C. They returned home July 29th after stopping to spend the night with Mr. and Mrs. John Glover and Katrina of Houston, Texas. Everyone enjoyed the trip very much.

Reflections On International Sunday School Lesson

One of the world's great treasures is a wasted life. Frequently some people make decisions about not seeking further education or training that limit their future. Sometimes ambitious and capable people try to take a short-cut in success that brings disgrace and enmeshes them in a never-ending cycle of failure. The parents of Samson had long prayed for the birth of a son as their own. God promised his birth and indicated that he was to be a Nazirite. This meant that he was to be dedicated to the special service of God and was to live a carefully regulated and disciplined life. Before he reached his adult years he was a spoiled and undisciplined youth with unusual strength and ability. He refused to discipline his hair usually. His leadership capacities were so inconsistently applied that his own people failed to follow him. Rather than organize his people he spasmodically used his tremendous strength to harass his enemies. The enemies of this "strong man of the Bible" soon learned to exploit his sexual lack of control and discovered that his power was related to his hair. The Nazirite vow he had made. His strength had been given by God and once his hair was cut, his strength was gone. The Spirit of God refused to give him the strength he needed to defeat his enemies. His enemies captured him, blinded him, and loved him to replace a donkey at the job of turning a mill. Finally, they decided to make a public mockery of him by burning his hair off at the annual feast in honor of their pagan God.

NEWS FROM HERITAGE HOUSE

(By Mrs. Mary Seymour)

Tuesday Afternoon Meeting
Tuesday, Aug. 2, the residents at Heritage House joined together to enjoy two movies. The first feature was "Texas: More Than a State of Mind" and the second feature was "A Discovery in Landscape". We wish to thank the library for setting up our movies to show on our new projector presented to us by the Ministerial Alliance. From now on, we will have monthly movies.

Staff Meeting
An all-staff meeting was held Aug. 2 at 7:00 p.m. at the Heritage House. New state law requirements were discussed and afterwards a question-answer session was held. Sandwiches, chips and red beer were served for refreshments.

Wednesday, Aug. 3, our weekly bingo game was held. Several residents gathered in the dining room, chose their bingo cards, and proceeded to play. Several games were played and prizes of fruit were distributed among the winners. Game to end all games was the blackout. The winner was
