

Xi Pi Psi Installs New Officers

Xi Pi Psi met at the home of Cherry Corman on May 8th where the installation of officers and Mrs. Ethel Kovvicka as chapter honorary member returned to read in a candlelight ceremony.

Installed as new officers were: Jo Ann Mahalic, president; Ennie Sommerlatte, vice-president; Jean Williams, recording secretary; Brenda Corman, corresponding secretary; Phyllis Thomas, treasurer; and Pat Cook, extension officer.

The report on the Art Show as being a big success was given to President Rita Sunderman by Jo Ann Mahalic.

Over one hundred people registered and many more were present. The door prize was won by John Chisholm.

Ways and means chairman Ennie Sommerlatte attended the Alpha Sigma Omicron sorority meeting in Garwood to present a program on the Community Calendars that have been so popular here. They plan to use the project next year.

Pat Cook, social chairman, invited members and families to an outing at Circle K Ranch Saturday, May 12.

Committee chairmen for next year are asked to have information to President-elect Jo Ann Mahalic by July 1st.

The program "Modern Man in the Modern World" was given by Phyllis Thomas. She proved basic human nature stays the same as the "World of 1876" was compared to today. It was surprising to learn of 1876 facts: "The world is a hopeless muddle" governments are paralyzed by desecration; trouble in Asia; U.S. and neighbor Canada having strained relations. They also had floods, earthquakes and the same natural disasters as we do. In school - criticized because of bilingual need, taxes too high and frivolously spent. Transportation problems, environmental precautions, famine and war, along with social upheaval show the world's changed very little.

Hostess Cherry served refreshments as members enjoyed a social time. Reporter.

Her long veil of silk illusion was edged in scalloped hand-clipped re-embroidered Chantilly lace motifs. Bishop sleeves with re-embroidered Chantilly lace wide cuffs fastened with tiny covered buttons extended to points over the hand. The skirt, with hand-clipped re-embroidered Chantilly lace motifs had a ruffled flounce completely encircled with scalloped hand-clipped re-embroidered Chantilly lace that extended to cathedral train.

At the reception, Miss Gerri Lynn Hill registered the guests. Mrs. Marilyn Stavinocha cut the bride's cake and Mrs. Patsy Jones the groom's cake. Other house-party members were Ann Koehl, Judy Glueck, Connie Strieder, Linda Morrison, Jeanne Chollette, Patsy Karsiemer, Debbie Ponitzsch, Debbie Wilson and Marjorie Frenzel who helped serve cake, coffee and punch.

The bride's table, covered with sheer candlelight skirt over mint green caught with spring floral and mint green ribbon and bows, held the four-tiered wedding cake, punch bowl and bridesmaids' bouquets.

The groom's table was covered with sheer candlelight over brown and held the groom's cake and silver coffee service.

A buffet supper of barbecue beef and sausage with all the trimmings was served. For the wedding trip to Garabed Cavern, the bride wore a mint green three-piece pants outfit and a corsage of pink roses.

Rehearsal Supper The rehearsal supper of turkey and dressing, ham and all the trimmings was given by the groom's parents at the Nelsons' camp house.

relatives; and a surprise Personal Shower at the couple's mobile home on the same afternoon given by bridesmaids and relatives.

Attend A&M 'Branding' Ceremony

Livestock producers from Colorado County paid a visit to Texas A&M University recently to burn their brands in the county's oak panel at Texas A&M's "branded stairway" at the Kleberg Animal and Food Sciences Center. Participating were, left to right, (front row) Dr. John Brasher, Stephen Huffmeyer, Will Huffmeyer, Mrs. R. E. County Delegation "Brands" County Panel At Texas A&M

By Leroy J. Hajdik, County Extension Agent The search is on throughout Texas for outstanding cattle brands to include on county panels at the Kleberg Center's "branded stairway" at Texas A&M University. L. A. Maddox, chairman of the unique branding project, said that some 3,500 brands or more are expected to be imprinted on the 254 "county oak panel" in the University's new $9.5 million Robert J. Kleberg and Food Sciences Center.

Recently a delegation from Colorado County added local brands to the county's oak panel. Ranches represented were: R. E. Tait, Lester Bunge, Sr., R. F. Potter, Gardner Duncan, Dittmar Bros., Arthur Leyendecker, R. M. Fitzgerald, Alan Hill, Everett, Hester and Stafford.

The "branding" was an idea of Dr. O. D. Butler, for many years head of Texas A&M's Animal Science Department and now associate vice-president for agriculture and renewable resources.

"We felt that the branding ceremonies would bring about a closer tie-in between cattlemen and our animal science facilities on campus as well as with research and educational work throughout Texas," Butler said.

Maddox added that the branding ceremonies will be conducted by Extension District groups until "all panels are branded."

Those persons who pledged to donate blood on behalf of Rex Sanders should plan to give blood at that time.
