Miss Wanda Mattheaus and Wayne Popp Wed In Beasley

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne A. Popp

Miss Wanda K. Mattheaus of Wharton became the bride of Wayne A. Popp of Garwood in a ceremony performed at the Free- den's United Church of Christ in Beasley on Saturday, April 21st at two o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. Marvin O. Ottmers, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wharton, officiated the wedding rites assisted by Msgr. Ben Popp and Msgr. A. Leopold. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mattheaus of Arcadia and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Popp of Garwood. Music for the occasion was provided by Mrs. Marian Kveton. Soloist Don Labberton sang groom's mothers followed by the single white candle being lit by the bride and groom also added beauty to the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, chose an A-line gown made of georgette over- laying satin with a cathedral length train enhanced with re-embroidered lace appliques highlighted with beads covering the bodice and cascading downward and around the train. The sleeves were of georgette with re-embroidered lace and seed pearls. The scalloped sleeves were of a surplus style. The standing V-neck collar, and hem of dress and train were edged in seed pearls. The dress was closed at the waist and in the back with a bow made of satin and georgette. The dress was designed by the bride and made by the groom's mother. A cross was attached which belonged to the bride's mother's mother.

Her illusion veil edged in lace was held by a beaded white-laced Juliet cap and fell to fingertip length with a long tulle train. Her bouquet was composed of baby's breath covering white roses and stephanotis with hints of green ivy. There was blue stephanotis mingled with mint green and baby blue ribbons to match the groom's mint green tux and the baby blue tux of the groomsmen. White ribbons flowed from the bouquet to match the bride's dress. The going-away corsage was inset in the bouquet with two white long stem roses that were attached with pink and blue ribbons which were presented to the mothers before approaching the altar.

The bride carried out the tradition of something old, blue and borrowed with a cross of blue and white pearls belonging to her great-grandmother and now her sister and the dress and a necklace given her by the groom were new. Serving her sister as Matron of Honor was Mrs. LaVern George. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Julia Lewis, Mrs. Renee Mattheaus, Mrs. Lenora Ostendorf and Mrs. Ruth Buzek. The bride's attendants wore long flowing gowns of baby blue polyester interlock. The princess-style gown was sleeveless with a V-neckline and a full skirt flowing from a gathered front midriff. Each wore fresh flowers of daisies and carnations of blue and white in their hair. They carried wicker baskets of blue and white daisies and baby's breath engulfed with dark ferns. Necklaces of double pearls in gold were worn by each which were gifts from the bride.

Flower girl was Lauri Hippel and ring bearer was Hans Ostendorf. The groom chose his uncle, Arthur Leopold, as Best Man and groomsmen included Jim Schellmann, Kenneth Mattheaus, Ronnie Gold and Louis Buzek. Performing usher duties were Jimmy Kalmus, Wayne Waters, Jr., Phil Bush and Fritz Leopold. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mattheaus wore a long formal flowing gown of mint green polyester topped with a jacket of the same fabric and edged in matching lace. She wore a corsage composed of all the flowers contained in the bride's bouquet. The roses also matched the boutonniere of the bride's father. The groom's mother selected a long formal princess-style gown of sand colored polyester topped with a sheer, pleated cape covering the bodice. Her corsage was made of yellow and white daisies with baby's breath and a frail butterfly with hints of fern. Reception At Hungerford The newlyweds were honored with a reception and meal from 4 to 5 o'clock and a dance from 8 to 12 o'clock at the Hungerford Hall. The bride's table, decorated in white gathered net with white satin ribbons at the corners, was adorned with two five-candle candelabras and the champagne bucket. The bride's cake was encircled with six small cakes with four tiers and a flowing fountain of yellow water surrounded by fresh daisies, fern and Swedish ivy. The traditional bride and groom topped the cake. The German sweet chocolate groom's cake was decorated to depict a rice field topped with tractor, discs, and levees and set on a table decorated with net and mint green ribbon. The punch fountain accompanied the bride's cake with flowing yellow punch to match the fountain of the bride's cake. Other decorations included the gift table decorated to match the bride's table with blue ribbon and centerpiece of a bride and groom in a gazebo and a registry table covered with net and blue satin ribbons with a single blue candle. The bride's cake was served by Mrs. Alice Westmoreland and Mrs. Maxine Mathis while the groom's cake was cut by Mrs. Lena Filipp and

Rotary To Install New Officers

Tues., June 5

Eagle Lake Rotary Club will hold its annual installation of officers at a ladies night banquet to be held in the Community Center at 7:30 p.m. on Tues., June 5th. During the program following a banquet, the Rev. George Welch will be installed as the new president of the club to succeed the Rev. J. Melburn Sibley.

Mrs. Gussie Kalmus, Mrs. Claudia Waters, Jr. and Mrs. Clara Waters poured punch.

For a wedding trip to Padre Island, the new Mrs. Popp wore a mid-calf, full dress gathered to a yoke and had elbow length sleeves. The rounded collar was edged with a ruffle and brought together with a self-fabric tie. She wore white accessories with the diamond pendant given by the groom and the corsage lifted from her bouquet.

The couple is making their home at Rt. 3 Box 17 in Wharton where she is in Special Education Services for the Wharton I.S.D. and he is public works foreman for the City of Wharton and also engaged in rice farming. The bride graduated from Clear Creek High School in 1971 and Southwest Texas State University in 1975. She is a 1980 prospect for the University of Houston at Clear Lake City for graduate school in Ed. Diagnostics. She is a member of the Texas State Teachers Associa-

ELHS Seniors Of 1929 Hold 50-Year Reunion At Farris 1912

Members of the Senior Class of 1929 of Eagle Lake High School celebrated their 50th year reunion at The Farris 1912 last Saturday, May 19.

The exes gathered for a social hour at 6 p.m. The group moved to the dining room where H. E. (Ada) Cook added a "Do you remember," hitting the highlights from 1912 through graduation 1929. She recalled a fall of 1928 regional championship football team, teachers, schools, the Jr.-Sr. banquet, the senior play and senior parties and reminded of the absent members. Each ELHS-ex gave a brief resume of their years since 1929.

A delicious dinner of stuffed poulet breast wrapped in bacon, Eagle Lake rice, mushroom gravy, peas bonne femme, garden salad, rolls, apricot nectar cake with apricot cream, coffee and tea was served.

Ed Tate had some witty remarks for the group, followed by a closing prayer. Everyone greatly enjoyed the occasion; those who could not attend missed a fun get-together.

Attend Reunion Here for the reunion were: Kathryn Eversole Shaw of San Antonio; Laura Belle Shinn Drum of Seguin; Lillian Kilough of Houston; Eva Mae Weiser Fant of Bellville; Charlie Morgan of Hempstead and from Eagle Lake were: Anna Mae Poole Rhodes, Ada Thomas Cook, Edward Tate, Clyde Morgan, Herbert Glueck, and Edgar Adkins. Special guests were Mrs. Ed Tate, Mrs. Herbert Glueck, Mrs. Edgar Adkins, Mrs. Alice Priemeyer Byrd of Sweeny

In A&M Honor Society John Githero, son of Mrs. Charles Githero of Columbus, has been accepted as a member of the Texas Phi Chapter of Alpha Epsilon, the honor society of Agricultural Engineering. John is a senior at Texas A&M University.
