Nine "Hot Line" Numbers For Help

By Donella Pantel, County Extension Agent

Call toll-free "hot-lines" to start solving problems quickly and easily without spending a dime.

Here are nine hot-line numbers:

Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC): 1-800-638-6326. To report a potentially dangerous product-related injury, call this number. Also, you can ask them for free fact sheets on a wide range of products. CPSC investigates anything from toothpicks to tricycles, but they do not regulate the safety of cars, boats, airplanes, food, cosmetics or drugs.

Auto Safety Hot-Line: 1-800-424-9393. Call this number to find out whether a car has ever been recalled because of safety defects. Also, use it to report hazardous aspects of a car, and ask for free brochures and fact sheets. This hot-line is staffed by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

Solar Hot-Line: 1-800-523-2929. For information and brochures on solar heating and cooling, dial this number. The National Solar Heating and Cooling Information Center staffs this line.

Housing Discrimination Hot-Line: 1-800-424-8590. This number is provided by the Department of Housing and Urban Development. They investigate charges of housing discrimination based on race, color, sex and national origin. However, the hot-line cannot help if the discrimination is based on marital status.

Lawyer Referral Service: 1-800-252-9690. For the name of a local attorney who specializes in a particular problem, call this number. This service is provided by the State Bar of Texas. A usual "next step" would be to call that lawyer and set up a 30-minute consultation for a nominal fee.

Education Hot-Line: 1-800-638-6700. For information on federal grants for undergraduate college students, call this number. This hot-line is staffed by the Office of Education, Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Operation Venus: 1-800-523-1885. For questions about venereal disease, call this hot-line. They will give the name of a local free testing clinic.

Hearing-Aid Help-Line: 1-800-434-8576. For information on hearing disabilities, call this number. It is staffed by the Better Hearing Institute. They will refer you to local doctors, clinics and hearing-aid dealers.

Moving Hot-Line: 1-800-424-9312. For general information about transporting household goods—and for assistance with loss-and-damage claims, call this number. It is staffed by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

1980 Census Workers Begin Listing Addresses

Workers for the U.S. Census Bureau will begin compiling house-by-house address lists within the next few days in Colorado County.

"The purpose of the address listing program is to compile a complete list of households in the county for use next year when the 1980 census questionnaire will be mailed to each residence," said Eric Bailey, census office manager in Austin, Texas.

Census workers will be walking or driving on streets and roads in the county to prepare the address lists. They will be knocking on doors and asking householders for a correct mailing address.

Mr. Bailey said residents can identify the census employees by a red, white, and blue census identification card which all will carry. Census workers also will carry 11" by 16" books, or address registers, in which the addresses are written.

A basket lunch will be enjoyed at the noon hour, followed by a business meeting and entertainment. Coffee and cold drinks will be available for sale.

Those coming from long distances and do not desire to bring a basket lunch, may purchase a basket lunch at the Parlor or the Tavern in New Ulm, he added.

Limit Calving Season

A definite or limited calving season can increase herd average weaning weights and conception rates, resulting in more profits for cattlemen, says a beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Also, a limited calving season enables producers to perform management practices more effectively because the herd is in the same production stage during the year.

Rotarians See FAA Film, Kites to Capsules

From "Kites to Capsules" was the title of the very entertaining movie shown to the Eagle Lake Rotarians and guests on Wednesday of last week by member Dan Thornton.

The Federal Aeronautics Administration film showed the earliest forms of airplanes, some that worked and some that didn't, as well as some of the latest designs in aircraft and space capsules.

The interesting movie was self-explanatory without a single word of documentary necessary to add to film's theme.

20% SAVINGS In Month Of June.

After trying on a pair of size 15 pants and not being able to breathe, I decided that I was too young to be so fat. I've always been able to knock off 10-15 pounds easily but they always came back. After many diets, diet pills, and starvation I was ready for anything. Desperation was upon me.

Figuring I had nothing to lose but the excess Lyndi, I called Pat Walkers. It works! No rigid diet (I'm no dieter), no big hassles. Just relax and let the unit do its thing. I'm not as small as I'd like to be -- but I'm well on my way thanks to Pat Walker's Figure Salon.

$2.5 Million Rig Lost as Carmine Gas Well Blazes

No one was injured, but a drilling rig worth $2.5 million to $3 million was a total loss when a gas well at Carmine caught fire recently and burned out of control for three days.

Specialists from Houston extinguished the fire June 8 by pumping mud down the hole and smothering it.

The well, named Hippolyte No. 1, caught fire at 12:15 a.m. June 6th when the drill bit a pocket of natural gas at 10,374 feet.

The pressure inside the pocket forced rocks and other debris to fly up through the drilling channel.

The workers heard it coming and leaped off the rig without injury.

Flames shot more than 300 feet into the air.

The 110-foot drilling rig was valued at $2.5 million to $3 million, according to Pat Holloway, president of the company owning it, Humble Exploration Co.

He estimated that $10,000 worth of gas a day was burned.

a mandatory $5,000 homestead exemption to all homeowners who apply for it. Weimar the first time is allowing Mercury.
