Pecan Show In Weimar Tues., Wed.

(By Larry J. Hajdik County Extension Agent)

The annual Colorado-Payette County Pecan Show will be held next Tuesday and Wednesday, December 4 and 5, at the Weimar City Hall. The show is expected to be a large show of the state's best pecans. Pecans are a crop that is becoming more and more popular in Colorado and the surrounding states. The show is a good opportunity for growers to display their products and for consumers to see the quality of the pecans.

Production of quality pecans is the objective of the show and those who enter the show or come by to view the entries will see a very complete display of native and improved pecans grown in Colorado County.

Anyone may enter the show as long as they grew the pecans, whether it be from one tree or many. Native entries consist of one pound of similar nuts and improved varieties must have at least 55 nuts per entry.

Supt. Stresses "Common Sense," Education To Rotary

Rice Consolidated School District Supt. Harold King was the speaker at the meeting of the Eagle Lake Rotary Club on Wednesday of last week and he brought an informative program on philosophy of the district toward education under the new administration.

"We hope to offer a common sense approach and to handle problems in a common sense fashion," he noted that education is becoming more complex. "People want schools to be all things to all children and are being asked to assume roles which parents previously have assumed," added the superintendent.

He stated that sometimes too much is asked of our schools. "We can't possibly do all these things when we only have students for less than a third of each day."

Supt. King said that the district will continue to strive to provide a quality education.

Nat'l Economy Drive Program Underway at Lake Motors, Inc.

Chevrolet last week announced plans for a "National Economy Drive" campaign to encourage the public to test and improve its fuel economy driving skills.

The program will run through Dec. 10th at most of Chevrolet's 6,000 dealerships including Lake Motors, Inc. of Eagle Lake.

"Fuel economy is a national concern, and through this program, we hope to inform the public what we are doing about it," said Robert D. Land, Chevrolet general manager and GM vice president.

"We want visitors to dealer showrooms to test their driving skills, pick up a few tips, fuel efficient driving techniques and while they're there, to learn firsthand about the advances in fuel efficiency we've made in our 1980 models."

Free Economy Booklet During the program period, visitors to Chevrolet dealerships will receive a free booklet which lists a number of fuel economy driving tips. The booklet, "What Every Driver Should Know About Fuel Economy," also outlines 1980 Chevrolet EPA estimated mileage ratings. It makes the point that the current Chevrolet models are the most fuel efficient ever produced by the division.

For the actual driving test, dealers will have special electronic meter-equipped vehicles - cars, vans and light-duty trucks. The meter is capable of giving an instant read-out of the vehicle's fuel consumption in miles-per-gallon following the test drive. The meter, or mini-computer, also provides cost information as well as other calculations. During the test, the driver
